Free World Mourns In Dulles' Death; West's Top Diplomats To Pay Tribute

Hits At Administration

Sen. Gore Speaks To 800

Money policies of the Eisenhower administration have "helped bring on two recessions in the last five years," Sen. Albert Gore of Tennessee told a crowd of more than 800 Saturday night at the annual Columbiana County Jefferson-Jackson Day dinner at Beaver Local High School.

Rep. Hays also spoke at the dinner, which attracted a crowd of state officials and party leaders from throughout a wide area. In another highlight of Sen. Gore's speech, he declared that the Democratic Congress will support the President's announced intention "to preserve our rights and responsibilities in Berlin and elsewhere."

"According to the Republicans, the way to control inflation is to control wages — low wages for labor and high wages for the dollar," Sen. Gore declared.

"The high interest rate-tight money policy of the Eisenhower administration has helped to bring on two recessions in the last five years," he continued. "Now that we are getting over the effects of the last one, the money screws are being tightened again."

"Government bonds are selling at the lowest points in history and we are rapidly reaching the point where new bonds cannot be sold at any price, the senator continued. "Meanwhile, interest on the national debt has soared to more than $8 billion a year—the highest single item in the cost of government other than national defense."

Turning to foreign affairs, he declared:

"Unfortunately the lack of a positive program of leadership by the present administration extends to the area of foreign policy as well as to the field of our domestic economy.

"Six and a half years of Republican administration have characterized by a series of crises and by a steady deterioration of our position as leader of the free nations of the world. The lack of policy and leadership in foreign affairs has brought us to the brink of a dreadful loss of position in Central Europe, if not in the world or the threat of war over the impending crisis regarding Germany.

"The foreign ministers' conference now underway in Geneva involves matter of grave concern to all citizens, Republican and Democrat alike. The Democratic Congress in the exercise of its constitutional responsibility must play a limited role, confining itself to advice and consent and constructive criticism in the formulation of foreign policy.

"As Democrats we shall continue to make constructive suggestions and to give voice to the

Big 4 Talks Recessed For Dulles Rites

Western Diplomats Say Gromyko Also May Attend Funeral

GENEVA (AP)—The East-West talks on Germany will be suspended Wednesday and Thursday while the Western foreign ministers fly to Washington for the funeral of John Foster Dulles.

U.S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter will take with him British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd and French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville. They leave Geneva Tuesday night after a brief session of the Big Four conference.

Western diplomats speculated that Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko also might go to the funeral, but there was no word from Soviet headquarters to confirm or deny this.

U.S. Assistant Secretary of State Andrew H. Berding said he thought it possible Gromyko might fly to Washington.

Gromyko agreed in a telephone conversation with Herter to the two-day suspension of the conference. He said he fully understood Herter's wish to attend the funeral and expressed condolences on the death of the former secretary of state.

The recess comes during a critical week for the conference.

The Western ministers, apparently with some agreement or encouragement from Gromyko, are planning to engineer a gradual shift from the formal debate over the mutually rejected Soviet and Western plans for Germany to active negotiations on more pliable issues.

Herter, Couve de Murville and Lloyd's deputy, Sir Anthony Rumbold, arranged a morning meeting today to consider concrete ways of carrying on secret talks with Gromyko on arrangements for a summit meeting and other related problems.

School Board Election Set In Little Rock

Controversy Over Integration Reaches New Critical Point

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—The controversy over school integration in Little Rock reaches another critical point today with a school board recall election.

At stake were all six seats on the board — now evenly divided between segregationists and moderates.

The election—expected to draw a record vote of 30,000 — was looked on as a test of strength between adherents of Gov. Orval E. Faubus and citizens protesting the firing of 44 teachers and administrators by the three segregationist board members.

Also in the background of the clash are conflicting opinions over the governor's closing of the city's four high schools to prevent integration.

A majority vote will determine whether each member will be continued in office or ousted.

If any board member is voted out, a replacement will be named by the Pulaski County Board of Education.

The 44 teachers and administrators were fired May 5. The firing list was presented by the segregationist board members. The three moderates then walked out of the meeting, saying that left no quorum.

No reason for the dismissals was given at the time.

Later, however, Board President Ed I. McKinley Jr., a segregationist, said that teachers who believed the U.S. Supreme court's desegregation decision was the law of the land "have no place in our school system, however qualified otherwise."

After the dismissal vote while the three moderate board members were absent, a campaign was started to recall the three segregationist members — McKinley, Ben Rowland and Robert Laster.

Dulles Paid High Tribute By President

Dear, Close Friend, Chief Executive Says Of Personal Sorrow

WASHINGTON (AP) — "Brave in living, brave in dying. Champion of freedom. Foe of tyranny. Truly great." Those are President Eisenhower's words of tribute to John Foster Dulles.

And further, best expressing the President's personal sorrow, he spoke of his heartfelt loss of "a dear and close friend."

Eisenhower's eulogy came Sunday as cancer took the life of his former secretary of state.

Today the President and his wife shunted aside engagements they had planned before Dulles' death.

The President postponed indefinitely a trip arranged for this morning to the Agriculture Department's research center at Beltsville, Md.

Wednesday the President and the first lady will attend funeral services at Washington's Episcopal Cathedral and final rites at Arlington National Cemetery.

Less than six weeks ago he had announced, with tears in his eyes, that cancer had forced Dulles' resignation from the Cabinet. Only last Tuesday he had conferred on Dulles the Medal of Freedom, the nation's highest award to civilians.

It was at his farm about 6:30 a.m. Sunday that the President received word that Dulles was dying at Walter Reed Army Hospital. Eisenhower's own physician, Maj. Gen. Howard M. Snyder, telephoned that report to the President.

Eighty minutes later Snyder phoned again to report that Dulles had lost his battle against cancer and pneumonia complications.

Eisenhower went immediately to the glassed-in sunporch of his country home and, on a pad of yellow paper, wrote in pencil a statement of tribute to Dulles.

"His countrymen and all who believe in justice and the rule of law grieve at the passing from the earthly scene of one of the truly great men of our time," the President wrote.

Minutes after he returned to the White House, Eisenhower signed a proclamation calling in effect for nationwide mourning.

Auto Mishaps Take 3 Lives Over Weekend

Beaver Falls Couple And Child, 6, Killed In Beaver Crashes

A 6-year-old Beaver child and a Beaver Falls couple lost their lives in weekend auto mishaps in Beaver County.

Nancy Williams, 6, died of a fractured skull Sunday afternoon when the car in which she was riding was hit broadside by another at the intersection of Route 68 and Deer Ln. about two miles north of Rochester.

William J. Ewing, 66, and his wife, Mrs. Emma D. Ewing, 74, were pronounced dead on arrival at Providence Hospital in Beaver Falls Sunday night after a collision near Beaver Falls.

The accident in which the child was killed is being investigated by the Rochester Barracks of the Pennsylvania State Police.

Police said a car driven by William T. Speer, Jr., 61, in which Nancy was riding, went through a stop sign on Route 68 and was struck broadside by another, driven by Harold Davis, 23, of Rochester.

Police said the impact forced both cars against a car driven by John R. Johnston of Rochester R. D. 1, who had stopped at a stop sign at the northeast side of the intersection where Route 989 joins Route 68.

Clarence Calvin, a passenger in the Davis auto, is in "good" condition with multiple contusions and laceration of the left leg.

Mr. Ewing died of a ruptured heart, and his wife died of multiple internal injuries, according to Dr. Thomas Todd, Beaver County coroner. A postmortem was made by Dr. John Moyer.

A car driven by Stephen Thellmann, 72, of Beaver Falls, collided with the Ewing auto at the intersection of 37th St. Ext. and Rock Ave. in West Mayfield borough. Both cars were traveling on 37th St. Ext., Thellmann west and Ewing east.

Thellman was admitted at Providence Hospital with a fractured skull, a broken shoulder, a broken collarbone and multiple lacerations of the head.

Funeral Set Wednesday At Capital

Burial Will Be In Arlington Cemetery For Ex-Secretary

WASHINGTON (AP)—Top Western diplomats who worked with John Foster Dulles in his unrelenting efforts to check Soviet expansion will fly here to pay final tribute to the former secretary of state.

Dulles, 71, a towering midcentury bulwark against communism as President Eisenhower's foreign policy pilot for six years, died of cancer Sunday, at 7:49 a.m. Most of his family was at his bedside.

President Eisenhower deeply mourned his passing, and the free world mourned with him. Flags on U.S. government buildings throughout the world were ordered at half staff for three days, and Eisenhower canceled his formal schedule during that period.

An official funeral, rather than state rites, will be held Wednesday at 2 p.m. in the big Washington National (Episcopal) Cathedral. An honor guard of uniformed servicemen will keep a vigil beside the body at the cathedral during the 24 hours before the funeral.

Full military honors accorded heroes and distinguished leaders will be given Dulles when he is buried in Arlington National Cemetery across the Potomac River from Washington.

The Big Four foreign ministers conference in Geneva will recess Wednesday and Thursday as Secretary of State Christian A. Herter flies home for the funeral. With him will be the British and French foreign ministers, Selwyn Lloyd and Maurice Couve de Murville.

There was a possibility Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko might also attend. He expressed "deep condolences" to Herter when told of Dulles' death.

Death came to Dulles in his sleep at Walter Reed Army Hospital.

Mrs. Dulles hurried back to the hospital at 5:30 a.m. after a doctor called her at her home with the word that her husband of 47 years was sinking rapidly.

Her son, John, an engineer from Mexico City, and another son, Avery, a Jesuit priest studying here, reached the hospital shortly before she arrived. Dulles' younger brother, Allen, director of the Central Intelligence Agency, and his sister, Eleanor, a State Department official specializing in German problems, arrived a short time later.

In silence they watched as Dulles' heavy breathing became more strained. It stopped once, then resumed, before the end came.

One of the family asked "Is it all over?" and a doctor nodded.

Heavy doses of pain-killing drugs had kept Dulles sleeping most of the time during his final days. At times he could not recognize members of his family, but on the day before his death he recognized his wife and managed to speak a few words to her.

In addition to family members present when he died, Dulles is survived by his daughter, Mrs. Robert Hinshaw, a Presbyterian minister who lives in New York, and two married sisters, Margaret Edwards of Rye, N.Y., and Natalie Seymour, Utica, N.Y.

Eisenhower was at his Gettysburg, Pa., farm when Dulles died. The President's own physician, Maj. Gen. Howard M. Snyder, phoned him about 6:30 a.m. with the word that Dulles' condition was extremely critical. An hour and 20 minutes later, as the President was preparing to attend church services, Dr. Snyder called again to tell the President Dulles was dead.

The President canceled plans to

Pope Says Dulles' Death Grieves World

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope John XXIII today said the death of John Foster Dulles has caused great sorrow in the world.

The ruler of the Roman Catholic Church added that in this moment of sorrow he personally felt close to Dulles' son, Avery, who left his father's Presbyterian faith and became a Jesuit priest.

Hoffa Pledges Aid If Steel Union Strikes

BOSTON (AP)—James R. Hoffa, president of the Teamsters Union, says that if the steel workers go on strike the members of his union will offer their support.

Speaking Sunday before 2,500 Boston Teamsters at a communion breakfast, Hoffa said he told officials of the steel workers union: "We will support you because after the employers destroy you they will destroy us. It is a common fight."

In his speech, Hoffa criticized the press, radio, TV, the AFL-CIO and the Kennedy-Ervin labor bill. His union has been suspended from the AFL-CIO.

"For the last two years you have witnessed the greatest expose of this country," Hoffa said. "The radio, television, the press are trying to tell you that the Teamsters are a menace to the country."

He said that perhaps the reason he receives what he described as a poor press is that in some communities his truck drivers make more than newspapermen.

Referring to the Kennedy-Erwin bill, Hoffa said: "After 24 months of hypocrisy the senators and Congress sit up and say 'We want to protect the working man against Hoffa.'

"I say it is their desire to destroy organized labor."

Hoffa pictured Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass) as a man "who couldn't find his way out of a four-room apartment with 12 doors when it comes to labor. What does he know about labor?"

Flies To Albania

MOSCOW (AP)—A Soviet TU104 jetliner today took Premier Nikita Khrushchev off for his first visit to Albania. Some 500 persons, including 45 ambassadors and 30 Albanians, were at the airport to see Khrushchev off. He will spend two weeks in the little Communist country on the Adriatic.

Leadership Against Communism

Millions Of Plain People Over World Mourn Dulles

LONDON (AP)—Millions of ordinary people around the world, remembering John Foster Dulles for his leadership in the fight against communism, today mourned his death.

Western statesmen recalled his emphasis on "face to face diplomacy" and grieved for the loss of a personal friend.

The Kremlin's leaders were silent but old criticisms of the former American secretary of state.

Sir Winston Churchill called on the world to keep in mind the example Dulles set for those "who put their trust in freedom and fair dealing."

French President Charles de Gaulle messaged President Eisenhower he deeply felt the great loss Dulles' death causes "for yourself, for your country and all men attached to freedom."

Chancellor Konrad Adenauer told West Germans they had lost a friend who made their cause his own.

Britain's Prime Minister Harold Macmillan remembered Dulles for his "signal force of character" which supported the highest ideals.

The official Soviet news agency reported the death in a 32-word dispatch without comment. Moscow radio reported it as the 14th item in a 17-item roundup of domestic news.

But the East German news agency, ADN, said Dulles' name was "linked inseparably with the creation of a new war danger in Europe through the armament of Bonn." Broadcasts from other Communist states maintained that tone.

Austrians, remembering Dulles' part in bringing them a treaty of independence in 1955, expressed sadness. Chancellor Julius Raab said Dulles' death was a "great loss for the entire free world."

Indian Prime Minister Nehru named Dulles a "great servant of state."

On Taipei, one of President Chiang Kai-shek's closest advisers said the only comfort was the knowledge that Secretary of State Christian A. Herter would continue Dulles' policies.

Vatican sources said the Vatican always "appreciated the intensity of Dulles work for peace."

Gov. Luis Munoz Marin of Puerto Rico termed Dulles a "soldier of peace who gave his life in his effort to create a conscience of peace in the world."

From Israel, Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion sent President Eisenhower his condolences at the death of the "great American statesman who in a large measure guided the international policy of all free countries."

Prime Minister Walter Nash of New Zealand said "everything about Dulles had dimension."

Fire On Thompson Pl. Causes Heavy Damage

Heavy damage resulted from a fire in an unoccupied apartment at No. 10 Thompson Pl. Saturday night at 11:52, according to city firemen.

Firemen said the blaze had burned through the roof of the house when they arrived. It apparently started in the attic and quickly spread over the entire top of the home. Firemen fought the blaze for over two hours, laying 750 feet of 2½-inch and 300 feet of 1½-inch hose. The cause of the fire is unknown, firemen said. The house is owned by Julius Sulkes of East Liverpool.

The kitchen walls and a hood over a stove were damaged when grease in a fryer caught fire at the home of Albert Clark, 610 Maine Blvd., Sunday night at 8:32. Mrs. Clark was making french fried potatoes when the grease ignited, firemen said.

Crash Severs Area's Power

Mishap At Wellsville Hits 1,500 Homes

A Wellsville couple was injured and electric service to over 1,500 homes in the East Liverpool rural area was disrupted when their car struck a utility pole on Wells Ave., Wellsville, early Sunday morning.

A car driven by Vernal Massingill, 1799½ Arthur Ave., struck the pole on Wells Ave. near the Route 45 intersection, causing a short in the transmission line which runs around East Liverpool.

Massingill told police he fell asleep at the wheel. He was treated at City Hospital for a deep laceration of the nose. His wife, Mrs. Ella Massingill, suffered a deep laceration of the right leg and lacerations of the forehead.

The pole was not sheared off, but insulators at the top shattered from the impact, allowing the 23,000 volt line to short across other lines.

The Ohio Power Co. said circuit breakers at various points operated correctly, keeping the service open to the major part of the city.

The power was off for an hour. Areas affected were Calcutta, Glenmoor, LaCroft, Maplewood, Sherwood and Fredericktown.

Many residents of the areas were late for Sunday School and church services as they did not know the service had been disrupted, making their electric clocks an hour slow.

Britain, Russia Sign 5-Year Trade Pact

Sir David Eccles, president of the British Board of Trade, signed for his government.

5 Young People Drown And 3 Girls Rescued

MOUNT CLEMENS, Mich. (AP) —Five young people drowned today when their small boat overturned off Strawberry Island in Lake St. Clair. Three teen age girls were rescued.

The Macomb County sheriff's office said three boys and two girls were lost.

Names of the victims—all from the East Detroit and Harper Woods areas—were not immediately available.

Rescued were Marilyn Cily, 17, of Detroit; Mary Lou Gonyea, 17, of Detroit; and Nancy Benedette, 20, of Harper Woods. They were reported in good condition at St. Joseph Hospital in Mount Clemens.

Foreign Minister Heinrich Von Brentano will accompany the 83-year-old chancellor. Protocol required the attendance only of Von Brentano, but Adenauer decided to pay his last tribute personally because of his close friendship with Dulles.

Steel Assails USW's Chief

Tells McDonald Quit Misleading Public

NEW YORK (AP)—The 12 largest steel companies in the nation today told David J. McDonald, president of the United Steelworkers Union of America, that "it's time for you to stop trying to mislead the public."

The companies charged McDonald has been using "distortions of fact" in his weekly advertisements appealing for public support of the union in its contract negotiations with the industry.

An open letter to McDonald from the Steel Companies Coordinating Committee appeared in newspaper advertisements in various cities shortly before today's resumption of the negotiations here which had been in recess since Friday.

The negotiators are working against a June 30 deadline — expiration date of the current three-year contract in the basic steel industry.

Failure to reach agreement on a new contract would almost certainly bring a strike by 500,000 union members in the industry.

The union is seeking substantial wage increases, which have not been specified publicly. It also seeks a cut in the 40-hour work week and other benefits. The industry is seeking a freeze on wages. The basic wage now averages $3.03 an hour.

Mrs. Dulles hurried back to the hospital at 5:30 a.m. after a doctor called her at her home with the word that her husband of 47 years was sinking rapidly.

Her son, John, an engineer from Mexico City, and another son, Avery, a Jesuit priest studying here, reached the hospital shortly before she arrived. Dulles' younger brother, Allen, director of the Central Intelligence Agency, and his sister, Eleanor, a State Department official specializing in German problems, arrived a short time later.

In silence they watched as Dulles' heavy breathing became more strained. It stopped once, then resumed, before the end came.

One of the family asked "Is it all over?" and a doctor nodded.

Heavy doses of pain-killing drugs had kept Dulles sleeping most of the time during his final days. At times he could not recognize members of his family, but on the day before his death he recognized his wife and managed to speak a few words to her.

In addition to family members present when he died, Dulles is survived by his daughter, Mrs. Robert Hinshaw, a Presbyterian minister who lives in New York, and two married sisters, Margaret Edwards of Rye, N.Y., and Natalie Seymour, Utica, N.Y.

Eisenhower was at his Gettysburg, Pa., farm when Dulles died. The President's own physician, Maj. Gen. Howard M. Snyder, phoned him about 6:30 a.m. with the word that Dulles' condition was extremely critical. An hour and 20 minutes later, as the President was preparing to attend church services, Dr. Snyder called again to tell the President Dulles was dead.

The President canceled plans to

Pope Says Dulles' Death Grieves World

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope John XXIII today said the death of John Foster Dulles has caused great sorrow in the world.

The ruler of the Roman Catholic Church added that in this moment of sorrow he personally felt close to Dulles' son, Avery, who left his father's Presbyterian faith and became a Jesuit priest.

Hoffa Pledges Aid If Steel Union Strikes

BOSTON (AP)—James R. Hoffa, president of the Teamsters Union, says that if the steel workers go on strike the members of his union will offer their support.

Speaking Sunday before 2,500 Boston Teamsters at a communion breakfast, Hoffa said he told officials of the steel workers union: "We will support you because after the employers destroy you they will destroy us. It is a common fight."

In his speech, Hoffa criticized the press, radio, TV, the AFL-CIO and the Kennedy-Ervin labor bill. His union has been suspended from the AFL-CIO.

"For the last two years you have witnessed the greatest expose of this country," Hoffa said. "The radio, television, the press are trying to tell you that the Teamsters are a menace to the country."

He said that perhaps the reason he receives what he described as a poor press is that in some communities his truck drivers make more than newspapermen.

Referring to the Kennedy-Erwin bill, Hoffa said: "After 24 months of hypocrisy the senators and Congress sit up and say 'We want to protect the working man against Hoffa.'

"I say it is their desire to destroy organized labor."

Hoffa pictured Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass) as a man "who couldn't find his way out of a four-room apartment with 12 doors when it comes to labor. What does he know about labor?"

Flies To Albania

MOSCOW (AP)—A Soviet TU104 jetliner today took Premier Nikita Khrushchev off for his first visit to Albania. Some 500 persons, including 45 ambassadors and 30 Albanians, were at the airport to see Khrushchev off. He will spend two weeks in the little Communist country on the Adriatic.

Leadership Against Communism

Millions Of Plain People Over World Mourn Dulles

LONDON (AP)—Millions of ordinary people around the world, remembering John Foster Dulles for his leadership in the fight against communism, today mourned his death.

Western statesmen recalled his emphasis on "face to face diplomacy" and grieved for the loss of a personal friend.

The Kremlin's leaders were sivived old criticisms of the former American secretary of state.

Sir Winston Churchill called on the world to keep in mind the example Dulles set for those "who put their trust in freedom and fair dealing."

French President Charles de Gaulle messaged President Eisenhower he deeply felt the great loss Dulles' death causes "for yourself, for your country and all men attached to freedom."

Chancellor Konrad Adenauer told West Germans they had lost a friend who made their cause his own.

Britain's Prime Minister Harold Macmillan remembered Dulles for his "signal force of character" which supported the highest ideals.

The official Soviet news agency reported the death in a 32-word dispatch without comment. Moscow radio reported it as the 14th item in a 17-item roundup of domestic news.

But the East German news agency, ADN, said Dulles' name was "linked inseparably with the creation of a new war danger in Europe through the armament of Bonn." Broadcasts from other Communist states maintained that tone.

Austrians, remembering Dulles' part in bringing them a treaty of independence in 1955, expressed sadness. Chancellor Julius Raab said Dulles' death was a "great loss for the entire free world."

Indian Prime Minister Nehru named Dulles a "great servant of state."

On Taipei, one of President Chiang Kai-shek's closest advisers said the only comfort was the knowledge that Secretary of State Christian A. Herter would continue Dulles' policies.

Vatican sources said the Vatican always "appreciated the intensity of Dulles work for peace."

Gov. Luis Munoz Marin of Puerto Rico termed Dulles a "soldier of peace who gave his life in his effort to create a conscience of peace in the world."

From Israel, Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion sent President Eisenhower his condolences at the death of the "great American statesman who in a large measure guided the international policy of all free countries."

Prime Minister Walter Nash of New Zealand said "everything about Dulles had dimension."

Fire On Thompson Pl. Causes Heavy Damage

Heavy damage resulted from a fire in an unoccupied apartment at No. 10 Thompson Pl. Saturday night at 11:52, according to city firemen.

Firemen said the blaze had burned through the roof of the house when they arrived. It apparently started in the attic and quickly spread over the entire top of the home. Firemen fought the blaze for over two hours, laying 750 feet of 2½-inch and 300 feet of 1½-inch hose. The cause of the fire is unknown, firemen said. The house is owned by Julius Sulkes of East Liverpool.

The kitchen walls and a hood over a stove were damaged when grease in a fryer caught fire at the home of Albert Clark, 610 Maine Blvd., Sunday night at 8:32. Mrs. Clark was making french fried potatoes when the grease ignited, firemen said.

Crash Severs Area's Power

Mishap At Wellsville Hits 1,500 Homes

A Wellsville couple was injured and electric service to over 1,500 homes in the East Liverpool rural area was disrupted when their car struck a utility pole on Wells Ave., Wellsville, early Sunday morning.

A car driven by Vernal Massingill, 1799½ Arthur Ave., struck the pole on Wells Ave. near the Route 45 intersection, causing a short in the transmission line which runs around East Liverpool.

Massingill told police he fell asleep at the wheel. He was treated at City Hospital for a deep laceration of the nose. His wife, Mrs. Ella Massingill, suffered a deep laceration of the right leg and lacerations of the forehead.

The pole was not sheared off, but insulators at the top shattered from the impact, allowing the 23,000 volt line to short across other lines.

The Ohio Power Co. said circuit breakers at various points operated correctly, keeping the service open to the major part of the city.

The power was off for an hour. Areas affected were Calcutta, Glenmoor, LaCroft, Maplewood, Sherwood and Fredericktown.

Many residents of the areas were late for Sunday School and church services as they did not know the service had been disrupted, making their electric clocks an hour slow.

Britain, Russia Sign 5-Year Trade Pact

MOSCOW (AP)—Britain and the Soviet Union Sunday night signed a five-year trade agreement providing a 33 per cent boost in British purchases from the Soviet Union during its first year of operation.

Sir David Eccles, president of the British Board of Trade, signed for his government.

5 Young People Drown And 3 Girls Rescued

MOUNT CLEMENS, Mich. (AP)—Five young people drowned today when their small boat overturned off Strawberry Island in Lake St. Clair. Three teen age girls were rescued.

The Macomb County sheriff's office said three boys and two girls were lost.

Names of the victims—all from the East Detroit and Harper Woods areas—were not immediately available.

Rescued were Marilyn Cily, 17, of Detroit; Mary Lou Gonyea, 17, of Detroit; and Nancy Benedette, 20, of Harper Woods. They were reported in good condition at St. Joseph Hospital in Mount Clemens.

Chancellor Adenauer To Attend Dulles Rites

BONN, Germany (AP) — Chancellor Konrad Adenauer will fly to Washington tomorrow to attend the funeral of John Foster Dulles.

Steel Assails USW's Chief

Tells McDonald Quit Misleading Public

NEW YORK (AP)—The 12 largest steel companies in the nation today told David J. McDonald, president of the United Steelworkers Union of America, that "it's time for you to stop trying to mislead the public."

The companies charged McDonald has been using "distortions of fact" in his weekly advertisements appealing for public support of the union in its contract negotiations with the industry.

An open letter to McDonald from the Steel Companies Coordinating Committee appeared in newspaper advertisements in various cities shortly before today's resumption of the negotiations here which had been in recess since Friday.

The negotiators are working against a June 30 deadline — expiration date of the current three-year contract in the basic steel industry.

Failure to reach agreement on a new contract would almost certainly bring a strike by 500,000 union members in the industry.

The union is seeking substantial wage increases, which have not been specified publicly. It also seeks a cut in the 40-hour work week and other benefits. The industry is seeking a freeze on wages. The basic wage now averages $3.03 an hour.

When Inflation Was The Other Way

There used to be another kind of inflation that no one seems to remember any more. It was a blessing instead of a bugaboo.

The most famous example of the way it worked was Henry Ford's Model-T automobile, whose price at one time was whittled down to about half a thousand dollars. Remember that even in those days automobiles had been selling for about what they cost now, until Henry Ford showed how productivity could inflate consumer buying power by giving the buyer a longer run for his dollar.

The inventor of productivity did not take this kind of inflation out of the hides of his employes, either. He also invented the concept of high wages for high productivity. But—and this is the vital difference—the productivity was not to be diverted exclusively into wages.

Some of it was given back to the consumer, with the purpose of increasing his buying power. Any time a widget or a gadget could be made cheaper in terms of production cost, the purchaser had a fair crack at the saving. The resultant steady increase in purchasing power made more and more jobs and steadier work. That was how Americans achieved the high standard of living that became their trademark. There was a surge of inflation in the quality of life that made the United States the world's most envied country.

IT HAS NOT BEEN popular to mention it for a long time, but the More Abundant Life in this country was not conceived by the politician who said a third of his countrymen were ill-housed, ill-clothed and ill-fed. It had been conceived and turned into reality by a couple generations of managers and workers who tried tirelessly to make a thousand better mousetraps where before there had been only one so-so mousetrap—ill-designed, ill-made and ill-priced.

That was a kind of inflation that no one worried about.

What happened to it — what converted inflation into something that everybody worries — is a mystery for the historians of economics to explain.

All that anyone can know for sure at this time is that the symptom of what happened was the way productivity's savings no longer were distributed among consumers in general but were diverted by direct pipeline into pay envelopes.

WAGES WENT UP and up and up, and prices follwed. The only importance of mass production any more is some vague statistic called a "productivity factor," which is used in determining how much more an employer could pay than he paid the last time—not how much more a consumer can get but how much more a wage earner can get.

No wonder inflation has become a headache.

But inflation used to be a blessing. It was the way America became famous—by inflating the people's standard of living.

Democrats Needed A New Roof

If it were accepted practice for Washington newsmen to report what they know politicians are doing, instead of what they say they are doing, congressional action on the housing bill would be described like this:

A majority of House Democrats, mindful of their crying need for some kind of an issue to keep them in public attention, because the employment pickup and the business boom has left them looking foolish over their early-session scare talk, have pounced on housing.

To this effect, they whooped through a better-than-two-billion-dollar housing bill, with the help of a handful of Republicans. The strategy, of course, was to show they were more willing to give away money than the Eisenhower administration, which was in favor of giving away only one and a third billion dollars. The Democrats-controlled Senate, with the same strategy in mind, already had whooped th4ough a $2,690,000,000 housing bill. That was twice what the Eisenhower administration thought it needed.

Housing, of course, was the least of the politicians' worries. The Democrats desperately needed a political roof over their heads because the structure they had jerry-built on the foundation of the 1958 business recession had caved in like the New York Yankees. They were out in the cold. It would have been absurd to keep on screaming, "Run for the hills; private enterprise has burst!" No one was listening.

So, grasping at straws, they seized on housing to prove they were still in the saddle and eager to ride off in all four directions at once as long as the riding was free.

Naturally, they did not give a second thought to the cost of what they were doing. If the President failed to veto the bill, or if he vetoed it and they passed it over his veto, the cost over and above budget estimates would be tacked on to the national debt.

If he vetoed it and his veto was sustained, they always could say to the people who would be disappointed, "We tried to help you (sob, sob) but the White House thwarted us." Either way, it would be no skin off their political noses.

But of course it would not be feasible to report the Washington news in this way. It would spoil all the fun. . . well, nearly all of it.

Satisfying An Automotive Demand

The auto trade is buzzing with speculation about a coincidence in choosing names for the lighter models to be introduced next fall by Ford, General Motors and Chrysler.

Both Ford and Chrysler chose "Falcon," with Ford winning out by less than a half-hour jump in filing its choice with the Automobile Manufacturers Assn. The General Motors car is expected to be named Corvair. Chrysler, which had been thinking about "Falcon" even before Ford thought of it, is expected to choose "Valiant."

These are good names. But they are not distinguished, in our opinion, because they do not hit the gas tank on the cap.

The selling point in the new light models, unless the auto industry has blown its gaskets, will be fuel economy.

We can think of a dozen names that would convey the pitch unmistakably: Churl, Skinflint, Pinchpenny, Cheeseparer, Thriftmaster, Budgeteer, Pump Passer, Stinter, Hoarder, Miser, Catchpenny and Fuel Thief.

If the auto industry cannot find anything in that list and will give us 10 minutes with a thesaurus we'll find another dozen starting with Taxpayer's Revenge and Gas Camel.

Not that Corvair, Falcon and Valiant aren't lovely names—as lovely as Rambler and Lark, to give everybody an even break. But they don't quite convey the idea that started this whole idea of a smaller automobile, which is how to get further on a $5 bill.

The Once Over

GENEVA ROUTINE

U.S. Delegate: Nice morning, isn't it?

Gromyko: I cannot accede to such an admission at this time.

U.S.: I was merely indulging in a greeting.

Gromyko: This is a crude way of winning a point through subterfuge and half truth.

Britain: Did you sleep well?

Gromyko: The matter of slumber is not on our agenda.

France: Got a match:

Gromyko: That is an obviously loaded question. The Soviet position on matches is well known and does not call for crude cross-examination.

U.S.: Have a cigarette?

Gromyko: This offer catches me unprepared. It could be a tricky inquiry. I have no information whether I am being offered a filter-tip or the other kind.

U.S.: I am prepared to offer either or both in the interest of amity.

Gromyko: My government would require assurances that it would not be called on for a commitment on the issue of whether "it's what's up front that counts." The U.S.S.R believes that what's away back is also important.

Britain: Let's have unity on this point.

Gromyko: The proposal is unacceptable. Any dicsussion could lead to an attempt to entangle the U.S.S.R. in the claim that "if it hasn't got it there it hasn't got it."

U.S.: I withdraw the cigarette offer. How about a cocktail?

Britain and France: We join in that proposal.

Gromyko: The U.S.S.R. is willing to cooperate in such a proposition under certain conditions. But there are procedural rules to be followed if unrealistic and negative results are to be avoided.

Gromyko: I desire time for further study and consultation.

Free World (in despair): To the bar ! Let us salvage something out of this conference.

"BOB MOSES Hailed, To Court" — headline. The court had better flee to hills or surrender. . . .

Casey Stengel has been having such bad luck he thinks he must have walked under a production-line ladder factory. . . .

Police Commissiner of New York has ordered all illegal weapons such as sawed-off shotguns, brass knuckles, switchblades, machine guns and pistols turned in by June 30 to police. All the police stations in the city couldn't hold them. They should be turned in at the Polo Grounds and the Yankee Stadium.

ALL OVER U.S. cars in streets around the high schools or in school parking lots are jammed with autos which kids use to go to and from classes.

In newer schools large parking lots have been provided, believe it or not. Kids who live within easy walking distance are allowed to drive family car or have their own jalopy, despite statistics proving that pupils without cars get highest grades.

"Why do you provide Junior with auto to go to school?" we asked one mother.

"He insists," she said. "If I don't approve he seems terribly underprivileged."

"What difference does it make whether or not he feels underprivileged if he can't make the short trip to the high school in a five-passenger sedan?" we pressed.

"Of, if you hurt a teen-ager today it can warp his whole life," mommer said, "and you wouldn't want to warp a life, would you?"

We asked if she thought any boy could do justice to his schoolwork with his mind on an auto and she said in time he would get used to it. At the rate he was going she thought he would be in high school about eight years.

"In the same model auto?" we asked.

"Oh, no. We'd have to keep him in later models," she replied.

The Long Last Flight

Nixon Is Cultivating Labor Support

By Victor Riesel

The last time Siberia saw an American vice president he was a fellow named Henry Wallace, specialist in cross - breeding chickens, corn and czar-sized strawberries. This summer, that frozen land of glowing Russian sunsets and fables will see Dick Nixon, a cross-breeder of sorts, whose experiments in blending conservatives and liberals won't be finished for about a year.

Victor Riesel

One difference between the two vice presidents, among several thousand others, is that Mr. Nixon has the support of his President—and will not have to clear his presidential nomination in 1960 with any labor leader. Nonetheless, Mr. Nixon is playing it as though he might.

The vice president is reported to be determined that the nation's union chiefs be given mighty little room for attack on his candidacy. Typical, for example, are the unreported moments at the dinner Nixon gave to King Baudouin of the Belgians on the night of May 12.

AMONG THE 120 invited to the banquet in the Pan-American building were leaders of the steel, auto and electronic and electrical industries. They were asked because the young King had come here not only for a state visit but to study these particular industrial areas.

So Mr. Nixon made certain that invitations were dispatched to Dave McDonald, leader of the Steel Unoin, and to James Carey, head of the International Union of Electrical Workers. An invite would have gone to AFL-CIO President George Meany, but the topside labor chief had been to the state dinner at the White House the night before at President Eisenhower's request.

The vice president moved about for a while and then spoke to Roger Blough, chairman of the board of U.S. Steel Corp. A few minutes later, Mr. Nixon was talking alone with Dave McDonald. And in a short while, he had both Blough and McDonald in what they call "deep" conversation.

THEY DID DISCUSS the steel crisis which may shut the nation's mills for some two months late this summer. Mr. Nixon reportedly spoke of the rights of both sides and of the benefits to the country of a peaceful settlement of these negotiations.

If anything was settled, I wasn't told. Some men can be so close-mouthed. However, two days later McDonald saw the President of the United States.

Mr. Nixon even swapped pleasantries with his arch political foe, that angry young man James Carey. But Mr. Nixon is in training for this sort of thing.

Just the morning before — on Monday, May 11 — the vice president found himself at a small reception given in the Sheraton Park Hotel by the Committee on Government Contracts.

Eyebrows moved in cadence as Nixon and Victor Reuther, brother of Walter, talked amiably about international labor. Victor Reuther, quite a specialist, batted a few at the vice president. Nixon fielded them nicely and returned a few himself.

THEY DISCUSSED, of all things, the visiting, young Tom Mboya, leader of the Kenya Federation of Labor and the Independence party in that British colony.

Nixon told Reuther that he was impressed with Mboya's "maturity and broad understanding of world problems." Nixon also praised the AFL-CIO for training independent labor leaders in Asia and Africa.

There will be other conservations with labor leaders before Nixon flies to Moscow. The vice president will ask some of labor's international experts in for discussions of Soviet labor conditions — especially since he had decided to extend his stay and tour Siberia, where you can't tell a slave labor camp from a bit of icy Socialist paradise without a map.

Nixon may not be able to cross-breed labor support with his conservative support — but it won't be because he's not trying.

A Right Of Rights

By Raymond Moley

A large volume of fine sentiments have come from the United States Supreme Court concerning the imprescriptible rights of American citizens. Let us see, come the fall term, whether there is room for a right which is the peer of all rights, the free exercise of citizenship in a republic.

In short, does the Bill of Rights protect a citizen from a harsh choice of having his money used in politics against his convictions or of forfeiting his job and the benefits thereof?

This matter of great importance, except for futile efforts by three senators, has been ignored by the McClellan committee and by the various labor proposals of the administration. Are votes so dear and evasion so cheap that this is so?

Is the Supreme Court so concerned with minority rights that this right of what may be a majority of union members loses priority? We shall see.

A SUIT in the Georgia courts, on appeal entitled "International Association of Machinists, et al, vs. S. B. Street, Nancy M. Looper, et al," has been at issue for more than two years. By unanimous decision rendered by Justice Bond Almand, the Georgia Supreme Court has handed this issue, under the First and Fifth Amendments, to the U.S. Supreme Court.

In 1953 the railroads involved in this case, including the Southern Railway, entered into a union shop agreement with the unions, including the machinists.

This was under the federal Railway Act authorizing such agreements. This act, it has been held by the U.S. Supreme Court, swept aside all state legislation forbidding such union shop agreements.

The union thereupon used dues money in political activities of various kinds. It used this money without direct authorization by vote of its members.

Since the dues money was used without the explicit consent of members to promote candidates and ideologies with which they did not agree, they were denied their rights under the First and Fifth Amendments.

The argument was not based upon the fact that the money was thus used but upon the point whether the agreement was a purely private affair and not one in which, to use an expression in another case of the U.S. Supreme Court, "the authority derives in part from government's thumb on the scales."

The unanimous decision of Georgia's Supreme Court by Justice Almand brushed aside this argument of the defense and held that in fact the complaining employes were denied their rights under the two amendments.

THE COURT found on the basis of facts and stipulations agreed to by all parties that the original union shop agreement had been entered into without prior notice to the employes, that such an agreement was not authorized by them, that the dues paid under penalty of loss of jobs were used "to support ideological and political doctrines and candidates" which some employes were not willing to support voluntarily and in fact to which they were opposed.

It held, therefore, that the complaining members were denied freedom of contract guaranteed by the Fifth Amendment and also of their rights under the First Amendment.

If, as was indicated in certain dicta in the minority opinion of the U.S. Supreme Court in the UAW case in 1957, it should be argued that the officers of the union would be denied under the Taft - Hartley Act their freedom of speech or petition under the First Amendment, it could be answered that their political activities were in fact not authorized by the people they claim to represent.

Therefore, that these people are denied their rights and that their rights are paramount.

This will be an excellent test of the court's sincerity about minority rights.

What is believed to be one of the world's largest underground "mountains" goes under the name of "Monumental Mountain" and is located in Wyandotte Cave, a limestone cavern with five levels of passages in Crawford County, southern Indiana. This underground mountain is approximately 135 feet high.

Dulles Preserved Peace

By James Marlow

Held Communism Behind The Frontiers

WASHINGTON

John Foster Dulles died in a world he never made. The forces which shook and shaped it were in motion before he became secretary of state. He spent his six years in office trying to control them.

It may have been a matter of regret to him that, before his death Sunday, he had really settled nothing. But for six years he managed to preserve peace and hold communism behind the frontiers it had when he became secretary.

That may have been the most any man in his time could have done.

There were really two worlds in the days of his growing up: the troubled rest of the world, saturated in feuds; and the American world, impregnable and self-sufficient in isolation.

That was when distance meant safety and survival lay in aloneness. The two oceans gave America time to prepare for any attack and staying out of foreign alliances meant avoiding grief. It was an American dream that didn't last long.

All of it was to change before cancer finished him. Missiles have made the oceans look no more difficult than a country creek.

There were still the two worlds in 1907 when Dulles was 19 and took his first dip into foreign affairs — the field which was to dominate his life, his vision and his energy — by going to the Hague peace conference.

Within 10 years after that communism in Russia began the march which was to change the history of mankind. It may not have seemed so at the time, for it took two wars to drag America out of isolation and melt two worlds into one.

He had had a hand in the melting over the years — as adviser to Democratic presidents and secretaries of state — but until he took office in 1953 he never was in a position to direct policy or make it.

By that time America was deep in foreign entanglement, military and economic, made necessary by the cold war and the realization that communism could gorge itself in disunity.

Then suddenly after Dulles took office there piled up on him a series of events never encountered by any American secretary of state.

Forty-four days after Dulles was sworn in Joseph Stalin died. Within a few months the Soviet Union exploded its first hydrogen bomb. Within a few years it was boasting of missiles that could carry hydrogen warheads across the oceans in minutes.

This was a new and terrible power never possessed by any American enemy. In a few years time had lost its meaning, distance evaporated, and America had to accommodate itself to the idea of annihilation without warning.

Diplomacy had always been an international mine-field but never so sensitive, so savage or so loaded with the flowers of doomsday as the one Dulles had to pick his way through.

With Stalin went the sullen, humorless face of communism. Stalin's had been a hand of iron, dripping blood. His successors put on the soft glove. They smiled.

They talked peace With more imagination than their old boss they began to make progress in fields closed to Stalin whose tactics frightened nations as well as babies—in the Middle East, Asia, Africa.

Dulles, like President Truman and Secretary of State Acheson, had learned how to handle Stalin's tactics: with i.on equal to his own. But now Dulles had to adapt himself to the new Soviet approach, more effective, twice as deadly.

For a while—this was after the summit conference of 1955—he seemed to see improvement. It didn't last long. Like Truman and Acheson, he froze solid again. He remained that way to the end.

But the new tactics—together with the missiles and the hydrogen bomb—gave the Soviets a power, both talking and real, that not even Truman and Acheson had to cope with.

Dulles' foreign policy was neither original nor creative. It seemed based on the belief that if war could be avoided and if communism could be held tight in its present bottle it might, as he once said, undergo favorable changes.

He didn't live long enough to find out if he was right. He had too good a sense of history to pretend to be a positive prophet. In his last moments the most he could do was hope for the best in the belief he had done his best.

Only time could give the answer to questions which, since he was a thinking man, must have been on his mind often.

Were his years as secretary the golden years of opportunity for the West in the cold war and had he made the most of them? Or had he failed to understand them? Or were these years just a minor interval in a long struggle?

Diploma Underworld

By Alan Emory

WASHINGTON

As many as 200 "diploma mills" may be operating in the United States, according to the Office of Higher Education in the Health, Education and Welfare Department.

The "diploma mills" are phony organizations set up to fleece the eager and unsuspecting with promises of education and degrees from correspondence courses. Usually the price is low, the profit high.

The federal agency says continued operation of these mortarboard fakers stems from the fact that many persons are unaware that no recognized college in the country grants degrees for work done solely by correspondence. Also, very few states have an effective law to stop the operations.

Once one of these outfits gets a charter, revocation is almost impossible, since most charters are granted "in perpetuity." Establishing rigid standards would discourage legitimate educational enterprises.

As the Office of Higher Education put it in a recent memo to Secretary Arthur S. Flemming, "human greed and gullibility continue to support an educational underworld."

A LEGISLATIVE inquiry in California in October, 1957, turned up 60 diploma mills in the Los Angles area alone.

Dr. Walter Winert, director of Education of the West German Republic, notes that over the past 30 years he was discovered 70-odd "doctor factories" operating in 15 countries. These institutions issue high academic degrees, such as the PhD, or doctor of philosophy.

The United States is home to 33 of the total and an additional 10 in other countries purport to be branches of enterprises first chartered in the U.S.

The 200 mills reportedly operating in this country are spread over 38 states and the District of Columbia.

They advertise through circulars, catalogues, matchbooks and other media that, as educational institutions, they can broaden a person's cultural background or help him obtain a professional or an academic degree while studying at home and holding a job.

THE GOVERNMENT office points out that the "campus" of these organizations is nothing more than a Post Office box, a desk or a suite of offices and that the curriculum is "a burlesque of academic offerings which need not be completed but for which payment must be received."

There are only two federal agencies that have the power to fight these operators—the Post Office Department and the Federal Trade Commission.

The Post Office Department may act when there is suspicion of use of the mails to defraud.

The FTC may step in with a cease-and-desist order after establishing that an agency is guilty of unfair competition or deceptive practices in commerce.

Even after one of these orders has been issued, however, it is very easy for the diploma mill operator to open again under a slightly different name or in a different location.

Letter To Editor

In an article published April 24 concerning House Bill 780 which, was before the Ohio legislature at that time, The Review stated that this bill's passage was endorsed by the Calcutta Area Improvement Association. For the record, the association has never endorsed either passage or defeat of the proposal.

House bill 780 would bar Ohio sub - divisions from collecting income taxes from non - residents. Even though there may be individual opinions amongst members of the association these were never, voted upon, therefore we request a public retraction of the statement.

Satisfying An Automotive Demand

The auto trade is buzzing with speculation about a coincidence in choosing names for the lighter models to be introduced next fall by Ford, General Motors and Chrysler.

Both Ford and Chrysler chose "Falcon," with Ford winning out by less than a half-hour jump in filing its choice with the Automobile Manufacturers Assn. The General Motors car is expected to be named Corvair. Chrysler, which had been thinking about "Falcon" even before Ford thought of it, is expected to choose "Valiant."

These are good names. But they are not distinguished, in our opinion, because they do not hit the gas tank on the cap.

The selling point in the new light models, unless the auto industry has blown its gaskets, will be fuel economy.

We can think of a dozen names that would convey the pitch unmistakably: Churl, Skinflint, Pinchpenny, Cheeseparer, Thriftmaster, Budgeteer, Pump Passer, Stinter, Hoarder, Miser, Catchpenny and Fuel Thief.

If the auto industry cannot find anything in that list and will give us 10 minutes with a thesaurus we'll find another dozen starting with Taxpayer's Revenge and Gas Camel.

Not that Corvair, Falcon and Valiant aren't lovely names—as lovely as Rambler and Lark, to give everybody an even break. But they don't quite convey the idea that started this whole idea of a smaller automobile, which is how to get further on a $5 bill.

GENEVA ROUTINE

U.S. Delegate: Nice morning, isn't it?

Gromyko: I cannot accede to such an admission at this time.

U.S.: I was merely indulging in a greeting.

Gromyko: This is a crude way of winning a point through subterfuge and half truth.

Britain: Did you sleep well?

Gromyko: The matter of slumber is not on our agenda.

France: Got a match:

Gromyko: That is an obviously loaded question. The Soviet position on matches is well known and does not call for crude cross-examination.

U.S.: Have a cigarette?

Gromyko: This offer catches me unprepared. It could be a tricky inquiry. I have no information whether I am being offered a filter-tip or the other kind.

U.S.: I am prepared to offer either or both in the interest of amity.

Gromyko: My government would require assurances that it would not be called on for a commitment on the issue of whether "it's what's up front that counts." The U.S.S.R believes that what's away back is also important.

Britain: Let's have unity on this point.

Gromyko: The proposal is unacceptable. Any dicsussion could lead to an attempt to entangle the U.S.S.R. in the claim that "if it hasn't got it there it hasn't got it."

U.S.: I withdraw the cigarette offer. How about a cocktail?

Britain and France: We join in that proposal.

Gromyko: The U.S.S.R. is willing to cooperate in such a proposition under certain conditions. But there are procedural rules to be followed if unrealistic and negative results are to be avoided.

Gromyko: I desire time for further study and consultation.

Free World (in despair): To the bar! Let us salvage something out of this conference.

Police Commissiner of New York has ordered all illegal weapons such as sawed-off shotguns, brass knuckles, switchblades, machine guns and pistols turned in by June 30 to police. ALL OVER U.S. cars in streets around the high schools or in school parking lots are jammed with autos which kids use to go to and from classes.

In newer schools large parking lots have been provided, believe it or not. Kids who live within easy walking distance are allowed to drive family car or have their own jalopy, despite statistics proving that pupils without cars get highest grades.

"Why do you provide Junior with auto to go to school?" we asked one mother.

"He insists," she said. "If I don't approve he seems terribly underprivileged."

"What difference does it make whether or not he feels underprivileged if he can't make the short trip to the high school in a five-passenger sedan?" we pressed.

"Of, if you hurt a teen-ager today it can warp his whole life," mommer said, "and you wouldn't want to warp a life, would you?"

We asked if she thought any boy could do justice to his schoolwork with his mind on an auto and she said in time he would get used to it. At the rate he was going she thought he would be in high school about eight years.

"In the same model auto?" we asked.

"Oh, no. We'd have to keep him in later models," she replied.

The Long Last Flight

Nixon Is Cultivating Labor Support

By Victor Riesel

The last time Siberia saw an American vice president he was a fellow named Henry Wallace, specialist in cross - breeding chickens, corn and czar-sized strawberries. This summer, that frozen land of glowing Russian sunsets and fables will see Dick Nixon, a cross-breeder of sorts, whose experiments in blending conservatives and liberals won't be finished for about a year.

Victor Riesel

One difference between the two vice presidents, among several thousand others, is that Mr. Nixon has the support of his President—and will not have to clear his presidential nomination in 1960 with any labor leader. Nonetheless, Mr. Nixon is playing it as though he might.

The vice president is reported to be determined that the nation's union chiefs be given mighty little room for attack on his candidacy. Typical, for example, are the unreported moments at the dinner Nixon gave to King Baudouin of the Belgians on the night of May 12.

AMONG THE 120 invited to the banquet in the Pan-American building were leaders of the steel, auto and electronic and electrical industries. They were asked because the young King had come here not only for a state visit but to study these particular industrial areas.

So Mr. Nixon made certain that invitations were dispatched to Dave McDonald, leader of the Steel Unoin, and to James Carey, head of the International Union of Electrical Workers. An invite would have gone to AFL-CIO President George Meany, but the topside labor chief had been to the state dinner at the White House the night before at President Eisenhower's request.

The vice president moved about for a while and then spoke to Roger Blough, chairman of the board of U.S. Steel Corp. A few minutes later, Mr. Nixon was talking alone with Dave McDonald. And in a short while, he had both Blough and McDonald in what they call "deep" conversation.

THEY DID DISCUSS the steel crisis which may shut the nation's mills for some two months late this summer. Mr. Nixon reportedly spoke of the rights of both sides and of the benefits to the country of a peaceful settlement of these negotiations.

If anything was settled, I wasn't told. Some men can be so close-mouthed. However, two days later McDonald saw the President of the United States.

Mr. Nixon even swapped pleasantries with his arch political foe, that angry young man James Carey. But Mr. Nixon is in training for this sort of thing.

Just the morning before — on Monday, May 11 — the vice president found himself at a small reception given in the Sheraton Park Hotel by the Committee on Government Contracts.

Eyebrows moved in cadence as Nixon and Victor Reuther, brother of Walter, talked amiably about international labor. Victor Reuther, quite a specialist, batted a few at the vice president. Nixon fielded them nicely and returned a few himself.

THEY DISCUSSED, of all things, the visiting, young Tom Mboya, leader of the Kenya Federation of Labor and the Independence party in that British colony.

Nixon told Reuther that he was impressed with Mboya's "maturity and broad understanding of world problems." Nixon also praised the AFL-CIO for training independent labor leaders in Asia and Africa.

There will be other conservations with labor leaders before Nixon flies to Moscow. The vice president will ask some of labor's international experts in for discussions of Soviet labor conditions — especially since he had decided to extend his stay and tour Siberia, where you can't tell a slave labor camp from a bit of icy Socialist paradise without a map.

Nixon may not be able to cross-breed labor support with his conservative support — but it won't be because he's not trying.

A Right Of Rights

By Raymond Moley

A large volume of fine sentiments have come from the United States Supreme Court concerning the imprescriptible rights of American citizens. Let us see, come the fall term, whether there is room for a right which is the peer of all rights, the free exercise of citizenship in a republic.

In short, does the Bill of Rights protect a citizen from a harsh choice of having his money used in politics against his convictions or of forfeiting his job and the benefits thereof?

This matter of great importance, except for futile efforts by three senators, has been ignored by the McClellan committee and by the various labor proposals of the administration. Are votes so dear and evasion so cheap that this is so?

Is the Supreme Court so concerned with minority rights that this right of what may be a majority of union members loses priority? We shall see.

A SUIT in the Georgia courts, on appeal entitled "International Association of Machinists, et al, vs. S. B. Street, Nancy M. Looper, et al," has been at issue for more than two years. By unanimous decision rendered by Justice Bond Almand, the Georgia Supreme Court has handed this issue, under the First and Fifth Amendments, to the U.S. Supreme Court.

In 1953 the railroads involved in this case, including the Southern Railway, entered into a union shop agreement with the unions, including the machinists.

This was under the federal Railway Act authorizing such agreements. This act, it has been held by the U.S. Supreme Court, swept aside all state legislation forbidding such union shop agreements.

The union thereupon used dues money in political activities of various kinds. It used this money without direct authorization by vote of its members.

Since the dues money was used without the explicit consent of members to promote candidates and ideologies with which they did not agree, they were denied their rights under the First and Fifth Amendments.

The argument was not based upon the fact that the money was thus used but upon the point whether the agreement was a purely private affair and not one in which, to use an expression in another case of the U.S. Supreme Court, "the authority derives in part from government's thumb on the scales."

The unanimous decision of Georgia's Supreme Court by Justice Almand brushed aside this argument of the defense and held that in fact the complaining employes were denied their rights under the two amendments.

THE COURT found on the basis of facts and stipulations agreed to by all parties that the original union shop agreement had been entered into without prior notice to the employes, that such an agreement was not authorized by them, that the dues paid under penalty of loss of jobs were used "to support ideological and political doctrines and candidates" which some employes were not willing to support voluntarily and in fact to which they were opposed.

It held, therefore, that the complaining members were denied freedom of contract guaranteed by the Fifth Amendment and also of their rights under the First Amendment.

If, as was indicated in certain dicta in the minority opinion of the U.S. Supreme Court in the UAW case in 1957, it should be argued that the officers of the union would be denied under the Taft - Hartley Act their freedom of speech or petition under the First Amendment, it could be answered that their political activities were in fact not authorized by the people they claim to represent.

Therefore, that these people are denied their rights and that their rights are paramount.

This will be an excellent test of the court's sincerity about minority rights.

What is believed to be one of the world's largest underground "mountains" goes under the name of "Monumental Mountain" and is located in Wyandotte Cave, a limestone cavern with five levels of passages in Crawford County, southern Indiana. This underground mountain is approximately 135 feet high.

Dulles Preserved Peace

By James Marlow

Held Communism Behind The Frontiers

WASHINGTON

John Foster Dulles died in a world he never made. The forces which shook and shaped it were in motion before he became secretary of state. He spent his six years in office trying to control them.

It may have been a matter of regret to him that, before his death Sunday, he had really settled nothing. But for six years he managed to preserve peace and hold communism behind the frontiers it had when he became secretary.

That may have been the most any man in his time could have done.

There were really two worlds in the days of his growing up: the troubled rest of the world, saturated in feuds; and the American world, impregnable and self-sufficient in isolation.

That was when distance meant safety and survival lay in aloneness. The two oceans gave America time to prepare for any attack and staying out of foreign alliances meant avoiding grief. It was an American dream that didn't last long.

All of it was to change before cancer finished him. Missiles have made the oceans look no more difficult than a country creek.

There were still the two worlds in 1907 when Dulles was 19 and took his first dip into foreign affairs — the field which was to dominate his life, his vision and his energy — by going to the Hague peace conference.

Within 10 years after that communism in Russia began the march which was to change the history of mankind. It may not have seemed so at the time, for it took two wars to drag America out of isolation and melt two worlds into one.

He had had a hand in the melting over the years — as adviser to Democratic presidents and secretaries of state — but until he took office in 1953 he never was in a position to direct policy or make it.

By that time America was deep in foreign entanglement, military and economic, made ncessary by the cold war and the realization that communism could gorge itself in disunity.

Then suddenly after Dulles took office there piled up on him a series of events never encountered by any American secretary of state.

Forty-four days after Dulles was sworn in Joseph Stalin died. Within a few months the Soviet Union exploded its first hydrogen bomb. Within a few years it was boasting of missiles that could carry hydrogen warheads across the oceans in minutes.

This was a new and terrible power never possessed by any American enemy. In a few years time had lost its meaning, distance evaporated, and America had to accommodate itself to the idea of annihilation without warning.

Diplomacy had always been an international mine-field but never so sensitive, so savage or so loaded with the flowers of doomsday as the one Dulles had to pick his way through.

With Stalin went the sullen, humorless face of communism. Stalin's had been a hand of iron, dripping blood. His successors put on the soft glove. They smiled.

They talked peace. With more imagination than their old boss they began to make progress in fields closed to Stalin whose tactics frightened nations as well as babies—in the Middle East, Asia, Africa.

Dulles, like President Truman and Secretary of State Acheson, had learned how to handle Stalin's tactics: with i on equal to his own. But now Dulles had to adapt himself to the new Soviet approach, more effective, twice as deadly.

For a while—this was after the summit conference of 1955—he seemed to see improvement. It didn't last long. Like Truman and Acheson, he froze solid again. He remained that way to the end.

But the new tactics—together with the missiles and the hydrogen bomb—gave the Soviets a power, both talking and real, that not even Truman and Acheson had to cope with.

Dulles' foreign policy was neither original nor creative. It seemed based on the belief that if war could be avoided and if communism could be held tight in its present bottle it might, as he once said, undergo favorable changes.

He didn't live long enough to find out if he was right. He had too good a sense of history to pretend to be a positive prophet. In his last moments the most he could do was hope for the best in the belief he had done his best.

Only time could give the answer to questions which, since he was a thinking man, must have been on his mind often.

Were his years as secretary the golden years of opportunity for the West in the cold war and had he made the most of them? Or had he failed to understand them? Or were these years just a minor interval in a long struggle?

Diploma Underworld

By Alan Emory

WASHINGTON

As many as 200 "diploma mills" may be operating in the United States, according to the Office of Higher Education in the Health, Education and Welfare Department.

The "diploma mills" are phony organizations set up to fleece the eager and unsuspecting with promises of education and degrees from correspondence courses. Usually the price is low, the profit high.

The federal agency says continued operation of these mortarboard fakers stems from the fact that many persons are unaware that no recognized college in the country grants degrees for work done solely by correspondence. Also, very few states have an effective law to stop the operations.

Once one of these outfits gets a charter, revocation is almost impossible, since most charters are granted "in perpetuity." Establishing rigid standards would discourage legitimate educational enterprises.

As the Office of Higher Education put it in a recent memo to Secretary Arthur S. Flemming, "human greed and gullibility continue to support an educational underworld."

A LEGISLATIVE inquiry in California in October, 1957, turned up 60 diploma mills in the Los Angles area alone.

Dr. Walter Winert, director of Education of the West German Republic, notes that over the past 30 years he was discovered 70-odd "doctor factories" operating in 15 countries. These institutions issue high academic degrees, such as the PhD, or doctor of philosophy.

The United States is home to 33 of the total and an additional 10 in other countries purport to be branches of enterprises first chartered in the U.S.

The 200 mills reportedly operating in this country are spread over 38 states and the District of Columbia.

They advertise through circulars, catalogues, matchbooks and other media that, as educational institutions, they can broaden a person's cultural background or help him obtain a professional or an academic degree while studying at home and holding a job.

THE GOVERNMENT office points out that the "campus" of these organizations is nothing more than a Post Office box, a desk or a suite of offices and that the curriculum is "a burlesque of academic offerings which need not be completed but for which payment must be received."

There are only two federal agencies that have the power to fight these operators—the Post Office Department and the Federal Trade Commission.

The Post Office Department may act when there is suspicion of use of the mails to defraud.

The FTC may step in with a cease-and-desist order after establishing that an agency is guilty of unfair competition or deceptive practices in commerce.

Even after one of these orders has been issued, however, it is very easy for the diploma mill operator to open again under a slightly different name or in a different location.

Letter To Editor

In an article published April 24 concerning House Bill 780 which, was before the Ohio legislature at that time, The Review stated that this bill's passage was endorsed by the Calcutta Area Improvement Association. For the record, the association has never endorsed either passage or defeat of the proposal.

House bill 780 would bar Ohio sub - divisions from collecting income taxes from non - residents. Even though there may be individual opinions amongst members of the association these were never, voted upon, therefore we request a public retraction of the statement.

go to church. Instead, he went to the sun porch of his country home and penciled a tribute to Dulles.

"John Foster Dulles," the President wrote on a yellow pad, was "one of the truly great men of our time. . .a champion of freedom and foe only to tyranny. . .his countrymen all who believe in justice and the rule of law grieve at the passing from the earthly scene of one of the truly great men of our time."

Thus ended a career that had made Dulles an outstanding world figure, a tireless diplomat whose tactics sometimes stirred praise, sometimes criticism.

One consistent fact: The Russians didn't like him.

The resignation was tendered to become effective at Eisenhower's convenience. By his own wish Dulles held on to office long enough to countersign the commission of a friend and fellow worker, Christian A. Herter, to succeed him.

Dulles performed that friendly service April 21 at Walter Reed Army Medical Center, where he had been much of the time since it was discovered in February that cancer had recurred in his abdominal region.

Surgery proved temporarily successful in 1956, but the doctors decided this time they would have to rely on massive radiation. For a time, their patient responded, but on April 14 they reported evidence of a cancerous growth in the lower neck.

The announcement of Dulles' resignation, long expected though it had been, loosed an extraordinary flood of statements.

These comments were the sort that usually heap praise when a prominent man lies dead — but here was a case in which the man could read and hear what people thought of him.

Eisenhower wrote to "Dear Foster":

"I accept, with deepest personal regret and only because I have no alternative, your resignation.

"In so doing, I can but repeat what the vast outpouring of affection and admiration from the free world has told you."

Eisenhower went on to remark on Dulles' talents, integrity, his heritage and experience, and called him a man who inspired countless people to join the free world fight for freedom and principle.

Enthusiastically but less formally, Eisenhower several times called Dulles the greatest secretary of state America ever had. Former President Herbert Hoover said much the same thing.

A Democratic tribute came from Adlai E. Stevenson, who tried twice to beat Eisenhower.

Stevenson said of Dulles: "I know of no man who has served his country more diligently and devotedly."

Eisenhower found still another way to demonstrate his feeling: On April 23 he drove out to the hospital and commissioned his old friend a special consultant on foreign policy. Dulles was clearly pleased.

But Dulles had his critics, too. Some accused him of rigidity and failure to develop dynamic new ideas. They also said he casually brought the United States to the brink of war time after time.

There were headshakings in Allied capitals, too. Various free world diplomats showed occasional nervousness—or even alarm—at what they called a Dulles' predilection for stirring up the Russians.

His theory of brinkmanship, as it came to be called, was that the United States would on occasion have to face up to a Communist challenge and go to the brink of war, if necessary, to defend a free country.

Perhaps Dulles' worst time came in the Suez Canal crisis of 1956 when Egypt seized the internationally owned waterway. Britain and France attacked Egypt, after Israel had made an attack of its own.

Dulles chose to denounce the moves against Egypt, even though this meant getting into a position of siding with the Soviet Union in the United Nations against Britain and France. It took a year to repair the Allied relations.

One of the great disappointments that attended Dulles' resignation was the knowledge that he could not take part in a Big Four summit conference.

That tough job, which he would have gloried in, now falls to Herter.

Drivers Fined $65 On Speed

Six of nine motorists arrested for speeding in Chester Saturday night were fined a total of $65 by acting Mayor Roy Cashdollar, who scheduled hearings tonight for the others.

George H. Gillespie of Carolina Ave., Chester, was fined $15 and costs for speeding. The $10 fines were for speeds over the 25-mile limit but under 40, and the $15 fine was for over 40.

John S. Long of 538 Elizabeth St., East Liverpool, posted a $15.50 bond for a hearing tonight for speeding, and Frederick Mader of Oak St., East Liverpool, and William Wright of Chester R. D. 1 also are slated for hearings.

One consistent fact: The Russians didn't like him.

The resignation was tendered to become effective at Eisenhower's convenience. By his own wish Dulles held on to office long enough to countersign the commission of a friend and fellow worker, Christian A. Herter, to succeed him.

Dulles performed that friendly service April 21 at Walter Reed Army Medical Center, where he had been much of the time since it was discovered in February that cancer had recurred in his abdominal region.

Surgery proved temporarily successful in 1956, but the doctors decided this time they would have to rely on massive radiation. For a time, their patient responded, but on April 14 they reported evidence of a cancerous growth in the lower neck.

The announcement of Dulles' resignation, long expected though it had been, loosed an extraordinary flood of statements.

These comments were the sort that usually heap praise when a prominent man lies dead — but here was a case in which the man could read and hear what people thought of him.

Eisenhower wrote to "Dear Foster":

"I accept, with deepest personal regret and only because I have no alternative, your resignation.

"In so doing, I can but repeat what the vast outpouring of affection and admiration from the free world has told you."

Eisenhower went on to remark on Dulles' talents, integrity, his heritage and experience, and called him a man who inspired countless people to join the free world fight for freedom and principle.

Enthusiastically but less formally, Eisenhower several times called Dulles the greatest secretary of state America ever had. Former President Herbert Hoover said much the same thing.

A Democratic tribute came from Adlai E. Stevenson, who tried twice to beat Eisenhower.

Stevenson said of Dulles: "I know of no man who has served his country more diligently and devotedly."

Eisenhower found still another way to demonstrate his feeling: On April 23 he drove out to the hospital and commissioned his old friend a special consultant on foreign policy. Dulles was clearly pleased.

But Dulles had his critics, too. Some accused him of rigidity and failure to develop dynamic new ideas. They also said he casually brought the United States to the brink of war time after time.

There were headshakings in Allied capitals, too. Various free world diplomats showed occasional nervousness—or even alarm—at what they called a Dulles' predilection for stirring up the Russians.

His theory of brinkmanship, as it came to be called, was that the United States would on occasion have to face up to a Communist challenge and go to the brink of war, if necessary, to defend a free country.

Perhaps Dulles' worst time came in the Suez Canal crisis of 1956 when Egypt seized the internationally owned waterway. Britain and France attacked Egypt, after Israel had made an attack of its own.

Dulles chose to denounce the moves against Egypt, even though this meant getting into a position of siding with the Soviet Union in the United Nations against Britain and France. It took a year to repair the Allied relations.

One of the great disappointments that attended Dulles' resignation was the knowledge that he could not take part in a Big Four summit conference.

That tough job, which he would have gloried in, now falls to Herter.

Drivers Fined $65 On Speed

Six of nine motorists arrested for speeding in Chester Saturday night were fined a total of $65 by acting Mayor Roy Cashdollar, who scheduled hearings tonight for the others.

Fined $10 and costs as a result of a radar speed check on Virginia Ave. were Harvey Cottrill of Staunton Ave., Keith E. Bishop of 934 Lisbon St., and Claire Cunningham of 112 E. 2nd St., all of East Liverpool, Ronald R. Weekley of 9th St., Wellsville, and Cecil Lee Robinson of 4th St., Chester.

George H. Gillespie of Carolina Ave., Chester, was fined $15 and costs for speeding. The $10 fines were for speeds over the 25-mile limit but under 40, and the $15 fine was for over 40.

John S. Long of 538 Elizabeth St., East Liverpool, posted a $15.50 bond for a hearing tonight for speeding, and Frederick Mader of Oak St., East Liverpool, and William Wright of Chester R. D. 1 also are slated for hearings.

Otto T. Jenkins of LaCroft was fined $10 and costs by Cashdollar Saturday for hazardous driving. Eugene Nelson of Newell was fined $5 and costs for failure to halt at a stop sign at Indiana Ave. and 2nd St.

All were cited by Chester police.

Mishap Hurts Young Wife

A young wife was examined at City Hospital Sunday afternoon for a possible skull fracture received nine hours earlier when her husband's car struck a parked auto and then slid into a utility pole.

Mrs. Sondra Watkins, 19, of 211 Walnut St. was released after being X-rayed, the hospital said. She entered the hospital at 1 p. m.

Police said Mrs. Watkins and her husband, Oren Leon Watkins, 22, refused to be checked after the accident at 3:25 a. m. yesterday on Alton St. Both suffered cuts and abrasions, police said.

Watkins told police he was headed east on Alton St. when a rear brake locked and his 1956 sedan struck the parked car of Edward Berdine, 813 Burford St., and then skidded into a utility pole.

Two other motorists were cited into Municipal Court after traffic accidents Saturday.

Ralph E. Cunningham, 33, of 100 Harrison St., Newell, forfeited a $16 bond on a charge of failing to stop within the assured clear distance.

Police cited Cunningham at 11:25 a. m. Saturday after his car struck a car owned by George Cowfer, 53, of 527 W. 8th St., at the intersection of Lisbon and W. 8th Sts.

Earl Garner, 60, of 1007 Huston Ave. posted a $16 bond for a hearing on a charge of failing to yield the right-of-way following a mishap at 7 p. m. Saturday on E. 6th St.

Police said Garner, attempting to park, struck a passing car driven by James A. Shawl, 18, of Dixonville.

Two 1959 sedans were damaged slightly in a collision at 10:20 a. m. yesterday on College St.

Police said Marjorie Birbeck, 1031 Ephraim St., was headed south when her sedan, owned by Kathleen Potter of the same address, scraped a parked 1959 sedan owned by Jane Simmers, 514 E. 5th St.

Camp Counselors Stage Meeting To Prepare Opening

About 50 counselors from the Mahoning and Steubenville Presbyteries met Saturday at the Beaver Creek Presbyterian Camp for a training program for the 11-week camping schedule June 8—Aug. 24.

The Rev. David Mellon, pastor of the Brilliant Presbyterian Church, taught various small group games to be used at the camp and the Rev. Russell Owens, pastor of the Grace United Presbyterian Church in East End, led discussions on the program and demonstrated major crafts.

The Rev. Richard Fruit, an assistant pastor of the Salem Presbyterian Church, led the group on a tour of the camp site.

During the afternoon session, the counselors met with their directors to discuss the schedule and program for the weeks they will be assigned at the camp.

Rev. Owens, who is in charge of the camps and conference subcommittee of the Steubenville Presbytery, was in charge of morning worship.

The meeting closed with small group worship.

Plans On Freeway Nearly Completed

City officials conferred this morning at City Hall with two representatives of Michael Baker Jr., Inc., of Rochester on detailed plans for the first phase of the city's freeway from the city limits to the vicinity of Monroe and W. 3rd Sts.

Mayor Fred P. Lawrence said the detailed plans are expected to be submitted to the State Highway Department and the Federal Bureau of Public Roads within 10 days.

The plans do not include any change in location, he said, but provide more details. Other plans previously submitted were preliminary proposals.

Besides the mayor and engineering representatives, others who attended the conference were Safety-Service Director Joseph F. Ross, City Engineer George Bloomgren, City Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper, representatives of City Council and Atty. Francis H. Lang, chairman of the roads and streets committee of the Chamber of Commerce.

Hearing Reset For 2 Drivers

A Municipal Court hearing for two Campground Rd. neighbors, accused of reckless driving, was continued today until 9 a. m. Wednesday to permit a prosecution witness to appear.

The continuance was granted by Judge George L. Brokaw after a hearing in which Liverpool Township Constable C. H. Owens testified on the charges against Bob Walter Hazelet, 536 Campground Rd., and Gene Raymond Fultz, 540 Campground Rd. The two defendants also testified.

Owens arrested the pair at 6:45 p. m. Friday on Shadyside Ave.

Jerry Jerome Blaschak, 834 Louise St., forfeited a $16 bond when he failed to appear on a speeding charge. He was cited Sunday night on Dresden Ave., police said.

Nathaniel M. McKinney of Steubenville forfeited $11 for crashing a traffic signal Sunday night on W. 8th St. Larry Clyde Miller of Wellsville R. D. 1 forfeited $11 on a charge of driving left of center this morning on Dresden Ave.

Lance Freeze of Thompson Pl. was fined $5 and costs Saturday for driving with a temporary instruction permit without being accompanied by a licensed driver. He was cited early Thursday on Park Way, police said.

3 Nabbed In Trap To Halt Smashing Of Window Panes

The parents of three young boys were ordered to pay for damages to a window after the boys received a hearing Saturday morning before Juvenile Officer Chris Pusey for breaking a pane of glass at the Winland Lumber Co. on Walnut St.

The youths were picked up by Fred Winland and Patrolman Paul Carter, on private duty, after one hurled a stone through the 15-x-18-inch glass in the company's workshop.

Police said Winland had employed Carter and they were watching the building when the three boys turned into an alley behind the Veterans of Foreign Wars and one boy threw the stone through the window.

The building was being watched because windows have been broken in the building sporadically during the last year, police said.

Committeeman Quits, Cites 'Wheat Rebel' Bid

SALEM — Frank Saffell, a Democratic precinct committeman for 41 years, resigned his post because he said a group of "wheat rebels" was prevented from putting on a demonstration prior to last Saturday night's Jefferson - Jackson Day dinner near East Liverpool.

Saffell, of North Georgetown, also is a farmer and a member of the Independent Farmers of Ohio, an organization which opposes federal controls on wheat acreage.

Saffell said the farmers had hoped to display placards supporting a measure before the House of Representatives. The measure would repeal the Agricultural Act of 1938, thereby abolishing farm controls. Saffell said he had received prior permission to put on the demonstration from Columbiana County Democratic Chairman Don Gosney.

Then, two hours before the dinner, Saffell said, a spokesman for Rep. Wayne Hays (D-Ohio), this district's congressman, stopped plans for the demonstration. He said the congressman felt it might embarass the dinner's featured speaker, Sen. Albert Gore (D-Tenn).

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I'm one teen-ager who is off you for life. I just read the letter from that kid with the ducktail haircut. That did it. I nearly passed out when you sided with the principal.

Since when is a corny high school principal an authority on hair? I've never yet seen one who had any.

You knew you were going to get us kids all steamed up because you said, "Sorry, gang, but I call 'em as I see 'em." Either your eyeballs need cleaning or old umpires should wear glasses. That call stank.

About 70 per cent of the guys in our school wear ducktails. They look real sharp. Most of them are clean-cut athletes, not hoods or thugs. I get six haircuts a year and I consider myself neat at all times. This is one teen-ager who attends church every Sunday ducktail and all.—DUCKY.

Dear Ducky: Thanks for brushing the mop out of your eyes long enough to write the letter. Plenty of ducktailed readers from coast to coast quacked about the advice. The mail is running 50-1 against me but in spite of all the static, the original verdict still stands. Ducktails belong on ducks.

What's In A Name?

Dear Ann Landers: I am going with a wonderful young man. We are talking seriously about getting married. For several months I've been thinking about asking him to shorten his last name. Finally, last night I broke the ice.

He went into a rage and said he'd change girls before he'd change his name. I told him I didn't want him to change it. I just want him to leave off the "ykowski". He made it plain that he has no intention of doing so and if I want HIM I'll have to take his name.

What is your opinion — is he being arbitrary? I just can't see myself going through life with a name that is unpronounceable.—MISS SMITH.

Dear Miss Smith: How would you like to be Miss Smith forever? It could happen — and it could serve you right. No name is unpronounceable. Some names require a little more effort than others. This young man is proud of his name and you should be happy to have it.

Restless Wife

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a woman whose three children are grown up and living away from home. My husband is busy with his lodge meetings and civic organizations about three evenings a week. I wouldn't mind any of this if I had something to keep me busy during the day. My life seems dull and boring.

I'm very much interested in the field of television. Where does a person start? I'm well aware there's lots of competition but I am willing to work hard. I hear, too, that the pay is good, and the hours are short.

I won't send you my picture or list my qualifications because I want the straight dope with no buildup. What I need from you is advice on how to break into the field of TV.—RESTLESS.

Dear Restless: How can I tell you "how to break into a field" when I have no clue to your abilities? Are you an actress? Would you like to read commercials? Or are you handy with a screw driver and able to repair sets?

If it's TV performing you're interested in, go to the local station and ask for an interview. Be prepared to hear, "Don't call us—we'll call you" at least a dozen times.

Confidentially

TO HEAD OVER HEELS? The best you can give this man is his self-respect. Let him pay his own bills. Gratitude sometimes can be a crushing burden.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review enclosing a stamped self-addressed envelope.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I'm one teen-ager who is off you for life. I just read the letter from that kid with the ducktail haircut. That did it. I nearly passed out when you sided with the principal.

Since when is a corny high school principal an authority on hair? I've never yet seen one who had any.

You knew you were going to get us kids all steamed up because you said, "Sorry, gang, but I call 'em as I see 'em." Either your eyeballs need cleaning or old umpires should wear glasses. That call stank.

About 70 per cent of the guys in our school wear ducktails. They look real sharp. Most of them are clean-cut athletes, not hoods or thugs. I get six haircuts a year and I consider myself neat at all times. This is one teen-ager who attends church every Sunday ducktail and all.—DUCKY.

Dear Ducky: Thanks for brushing the mop out of your eyes long enough to write the letter. Plenty of ducktailed readers from coast to coast quacked about the advice. The mail is running 50-1 against me but in spite of all the static, the original verdict still stands. Ducktails belong on ducks.

What's In A Name?

Dear Ann Landers: I am going with a wonderful young man. We are talking seriously about getting married. For several months I've been thinking about asking him to shorten his last name. Finally, last night I broke the ice.

He went into a rage and said he'd change girls before he'd change his name. I told him I didn't want him to change it. I just want him to leave off the "ykowski". He made it plain that he has no intention of doing so and if I want HIM I'll have to take his name.

What is your opinion — is he being arbitrary? I just can't see myself going through life with a name that is unpronounceable.—MISS SMITH.

Dear Miss Smith: How would you like to be Miss Smith forever? It could happen — and it could serve you right. No name is unpronounceable. Some names require a little more effort than others. This young man is proud of his name and you should be happy to have it.

Restless Wife

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a woman whose three children are grown up and living away from home. My husband is busy with his lodge meetings and civic organizations about three evenings a week. I wouldn't mind any of this if I had something to keep me busy during the day. My life seems dull and boring.

I'm very much interested in the field of television. Where does a person start? I'm well aware there's lots of competition but I am willing to work hard. I hear, too, that the pay is good, and the hours are short.

I won't send you my picture or list my qualifications because I want the straight dope with no buildup. What I need from you is advice on how to break into the field of TV.—RESTLESS.

Dear Restless: How can I tell you "how to break into a field" when I have no clue to your abilities? Are you an actress? Would you like to read commercials? Or are you handy with a screw driver and able to repair sets?

If it's TV performing you're interested in, go to the local station and ask for an interview. Be prepared to hear, "Don't call us—we'll call you" at least a dozen times.

Confidentially

TO HEAD OVER HEELS? The best you can give this man is his self-respect. Let him pay his own bills. Gratitude sometimes can be a crushing burden.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review enclosing a stamped self-addressed envelope.

Midland Choir Waits Festival

The Dr. Lazo Kostich Choir and Junior Choir of the St. George Serbian Orthodox Church at Midland will participate in the 18th annual National Choral Festival of the Serbian Singing Federation of America Saturday and Sunday in Johnstown's Central High School Auditorium.

The Very Rev. Milorad Dobrota, pastor, is director of the Dr. Lazo Kostich choir. Some 16 choirs from an area stretching from New York City to Detroit will swell the massed chorus to 800 voices.

Most of the choirs will be dressed in colorful native costumes. Soprano Gati Mitrovich of Cincinnati and tenor Mija Markovich of Chicago, concert and radio artists recently escaped from Belgrade, will be honored guest soloists.

Dancing will follow each concert in Billows Park, where an old country lamb barbecue will add to the "rustic quality" of the festival, according to Milan Gjurich and Miss Julia Buncich, co-hosts.

Distant choirs will sing on Saturday, including the Midland junior choir, and nearby groups will appear Sunday afternoon. Festival headquarters is in the Ft. Stanwix Hotel in Johnstown.

The first shipment of hybrid seed corn was made in Ohio — at Jacobsburg, April 13, 1916 — about 20 years before hybrids came into general use.

Church Sponsors Family

Refugees Given Welcome

A newly-arrived Hungarian family, brought to the United States under the sponsorship of the Trinity United Presbyterian Church, was welcomed by the congregation following the Sunday morning worship.

John Pattison, chairman of the ways and means committee, is shown handing a flower to Joseph and Theresa Szabo, but the youngster appears more interested in the camera.

The Szabo family arrived in New York Thursday and was sent to Pittsburgh and then came to East Liverpool, ending a two-year campaign by the congregation working through the Church World Service agency for resettlement of the family.

Because the Szabos speak no English, the congregation has rented an apartment in Beaver where they can live near some close Hungarian friends.

Church members have provided three rooms of furniture, clothing and other articles. A collection taken yesterday morning also will be turned over to them.

Besides providing the apartment, furniture and clothing, the congregation also will secure a job for Joseph, a skilled mechanic. He probably will work at the Crucible Steel Co. plant in Midland.

When they arrived in New York, the family's only possessions were 40 pounds of personal clothing, but it marked the beginning of a new life in a free country in sharp contrast to the communist-dominated homeland they fled after the Hungarian revolt in 1956.

The Szabos were residing in Budapest when the revolt started. In their first attempt to flee, Joseph was successful but his wife and daughter were turned back.

He was sent to a reception camp in Austria and then on to Belgium. Six months later, Mrs. Szabo and Agi escaped, but were sent to a camp in Yugoslavia.

The family wasn't reunited until a Presbyterian minister discovered the relationship while examining the records and then arranged for Mrs. Szabo and the child to join Joseph in Belgium.

The Szabos will reside in an apartment in Beaver near their good friends, Frank and Julianna Raszipovich, who were brought to America two years ago under the sponsorship of the Beaver First United Presbyterian Church.

The Szabos are among 3 million Presbyterians in Hungary. Besides Hungarian, they also speak French.

Following the church welcome yesterday, they were entertained at a dinner at the home of the Rev. and Mrs. M. Rudolph Miller.

Officers To Be Named For Heart Association

Officers will be elected for one-year terms and 14 directors for three years at the annual meeting of the Beaver County Heart Association Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. in the Penn Beaver Hotel in Rochester.

Reports of the treasurer, the association office and heart clinic will be given along with results of the 1959 campaign for funds. Emma G. Brand, executive director, said.

Salineville Woman Will Hold County PTA For Next Term

A Salineville woman was named to head the Columbiana County Parent-Teacher Association Council at election of officers Friday night at Beaver Local High School.

Mrs. Betty Whelan was named president to succeed Mrs. Floreine Broderick of Wellsville. Other officers named were Mrs. Marjorie Dysert of Wellsville, first vice president; Aguin Bowling of Wellsville, second vice president; Mrs. Dora Laughlin of Franklin Local, third vice president; Mrs. Veronica Wolski of West Point, recording secretary; Mrs. Doris Adams of Salineville, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Mary Jo Kirkland of West Point, treasurer.

Donald Wellington installed the new officers. Mrs. Broderick named a by-laws committee consisting of Mrs. Wolski, Mrs. Pearl Briceland of Franklin Local, Mrs. Lucille Robertson of West Point, Mrs. Ethel Clark of Wellsville and Mrs. Joyce Lewis of Salineville

Mrs. Kirkland reported past president pins have been purchased and that various PTA groups can purchase them from her.

She also reported on the $300 scholarship which will be presented by the council for the first time in May 1960. It wil be known as the Columbiana County PTA Council scholarship. The student must be from a paid-up unit of the council.

Other scholarships held by a student will not affect his or her application and the money can be applied toward any school. The deadline for applications will be March 1960. A scholarship board will meet in April to rule on the applications.

Midland Choir Waits Festival

The Dr. Lazo Kostich Choir and Junior Choir of the St. George Serbian Orthodox Church at Midland will participate in the 18th annual National Choral Festival of the Serbian Singing Federation of America Saturday and Sunday in Johnstown's Central High School Auditorium.

The Very Rev. Milorad Dobrota, pastor, is director of the Dr. Lazo Kostich choir. Some 16 choirs from an area stretching from New York City to Detroit will swell the massed chorus to 800 voices.

Most of the choirs will be dressed in colorful native costumes. Soprano Gati Mitrovich of Cincinnati and tenor Mija Markovich of Chicago, concert and radio artists recently escaped from Belgrade, will be honored guest soloists.

Dancing will follow each concert in Billows Park, where an old country lamb barbecue will add to the "rustic quality" of the festival, according to Milan Gjurich and Miss Julia Buncich, co-hosts.

Distant choirs will sing on Saturday, including the Midland junior choir, and nearby groups will appear Sunday afternoon. Festival headquarters is in the Ft. Stanwix Hotel in Johnstown.

The first shipment of hybrid seed corn was made in Ohio — at Jacobsburg, April 13, 1916 — about 20 years before hybrids came into general use.

Church Sponsors Family

Refugees Given Welcome

A newly-arrived Hungarian family, brought to the United States under the sponsorship of the Trinity United Presbyterian Church, was welcomed by the congregation following the Sunday morning worship.

John Pattison, chairman of the ways and means committee, is shown handing a flower to Joseph and Theresa Szabo, but the youngster appears more interested in the camera.

The Szabo family arrived in New York Thursday and was sent to Pittsburgh and then came to East Liverpool, ending a two-year campaign by the congregation working through the Church World Service agency for resettlement of the family.

Because the Szabos speak no English, the congregation has rented an apartment in Beaver where they can live near some close Hungarian friends.

Church members have provided three rooms of furniture, clothing and other articles. A collection taken yesterday morning also will be turned over to them.

Besides providing the apartment, furniture and clothing, the congregation also will secure a job for Joseph, a skilled mechanic. He probably will work at the Crucible Steel Co. plant in Midland.

When they arrived in New York, the family's only possessions were 40 pounds of personal clothing, but it marked the beginning of a new life in a free country in sharp contrast to the communist-dominated homeland they fled after the Hungarian revolt in 1956.

The Szabos were residing in Budapest when the revolt started. In their first attempt to flee, Joseph was successful but his wife and daughter were turned back.

He was sent to a reception camp in Austria and then on to Belgium. Six months later, Mrs. Szabo and Agi escaped, but were sent to a camp in Yugoslavia.

The family wasn't reunited until a Presbyterian minister discovered the relationship while examining the records and then arranged for Mrs. Szabo and the child to join Joseph in Belgium.

The Szabos will reside in an apartment in Beaver near their good friends, Frank and Julianna Raszipovich, who were brought to America two years ago under the sponsorship of the Beaver First United Presbyterian Church.

The Szabos are among 3 million Presbyterians in Hungary. Besides Hungarian, they also speak French.

Following the church welcome yesterday, they were entertained at a dinner at the home of the Rev. and Mrs. M. Rudolph Miller.

Officers To Be Named For Heart Association

Officers will be elected for one-year terms and 14 directors for three years at the annual meeting of the Beaver County Heart Association Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. in the Penn Beaver Hotel in Rochester.

Reports of the treasurer, the association office and heart clinic will be given along with results of the 1959 campaign for funds. Emma G. Brand, executive director, said.

Salineville Woman Will Hold County PTA For Next Term

A Salineville woman was named to head the Columbiana County Parent-Teacher Association Council at election of officers Friday night at Beaver Local High School.

Mrs. Betty Whelan was named president to succeed Mrs. Floreine Broderick of Wellsville. Other officers named were Mrs. Marjorie Dysert of Wellsville, first vice president; Aguin Bowling of Wellsville, second vice president; Mrs. Dora Laughlin of Franklin Local, third vice president; Mrs. Veronica Wolski of West Point, recording secretary; Mrs. Doris Adams of Salineville, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Mary Jo Kirkland of West Point, treasurer.

Donald Wellington installed the new officers. Mrs. Broderick named a by-laws committee consisting of Mrs. Wolski, Mrs. Pearl Briceland of Franklin Local, Mrs. Lucille Robertson of West Point, Mrs. Ethel Clark of Wellsville and Mrs. Joyce Lewis of Salineville

Mrs. Kirkland reported past president pins have been purchased and that various PTA groups can purchase them from her.

She also reported on the $300 scholarship which will be presented by the council for the first time in May 1960. It wil be known as the Columbiana County PTA Council scholarship. The student must be from a paid-up unit of the council.

Other scholarships held by a student will not affect his or her application and the money can be applied toward any school. The deadline for applications will be March 1960. A scholarship board will meet in April to rule on the applications.

Korean GI Given School Warning

Some Korea veterans in night school or in part - time training under the Korean GI Bill may have to start accelerating their courses if they want to finish by the termination date of their GI benefits, William Holsinger, manager of the Veterans Administration Regional Office in Cleveland, warned today.

Under the law, a veteran GI termination date is 8 years from the date of his discharge. But in no event may he take GI training beyond Jan. 31, 1965.

Holsinger pointed out that a veteran discharged in 1952 faces a termination date next year — in 1960. For a veteran discharged in 1953, his termination date would be sometime in 1961.

Holsinger suggested that veterans taking Korean GI Bill training check their own termination dates. If time is running short, he suggested they may want to consider accelerating their courses by taking additional subjects or going to summer school.

Veterans working days and going to school at night part - time may be particularly hard put to finish their GI training before their deadlines, since this type of training often extends over several years, the manager explained.

It's Never Too Late For Highway Safety

His car early Sunday ripped down 40 feet of highway fence, uprooted several trees, and snapped off a utility pole.

When police arrived, Grant was tending two fires, one at each end of his wrecked car to warn oncoming cars. He was using the splintered fence to fuel the fires.

Now Sinus Sufferers Can Drain and Clear Nasal-Sinus Cavities With New "Hard-Core" Tablet
Just One Tablet Does the Job of 3 or 4 Ordinary Tablets!
Medical research specialists acknowledge that colds, allergies and weather changes cause pressure and pain in stuffed up nasal-sinus cavities. They know, too, that headaches, nasal drip, uncomfortable breathing and all the other sinus symptoms can be relieved by draining and clearing the nasal-sinus passages.
Now, a new tablet is available with an exclusive formula that acts instantly and continuously to drain and clear your nasal-sinus passages. One tablet, with its new "hard-core" process does the job of 3 or 4 ordinary tablets. The coated layer surrounding the "hard-core" dissolves first, placing its soothing medication in the blood canals, where it is instantly carried to the pained, pressure congested area. Congestive pressures are reduced almost immediately—and the exclusive "hard-core" process takes over. It dissolves the tablet slowly and continuously for periods of up to 8 hours, feeding soothing medication to formerly congested areas—and allows you to continue to breathe easily for extended periods of time!
This new tablet, called SYNA-CLEAR, is now available at BLOOR'S —without need for a prescription. It contains not one, but a combination of the same type medically proven decongestant ingredients doctors prescribe to help shrink swollen, irritated membranes and promote drainage of nasal-sinus cavities. Buy and use SYNA-CLEAR Decongestant Tablets with the absolute money-back guarantee that they will relieve pained, pressure congested sinus areas, or your purchase price will be refunded by the maker.

It's Never Too Late For Highway Safety

COVENTRY, R.I. (AP) — For Daniel R. Grant, 32, of north Kingston, it's never too late for highway safety.

His car early Sunday ripped down 40 feet of highway fence, uprooted several trees, and snapped off a utility pole.

When police arrived, Grant was tending two fires, one at each end of his wrecked car to warn oncoming cars. He was using the splintered fence to fuel the fires.

FATAL CRASH. Dr. Charles Jaquette, a Youngwood, Pa., dentist, was killed and four persons injured when his car crashed into a Youngwood home, setting it afire, Sunday. Injured were Clyde Fisher of Youngwood, a passenger, and Thomas Skowronek, 5, and his brother Gilbert, 10-months, and Mrs. Mae Roberts, 66, who was watching the children while their parents were at church. Mrs. Roberts and the children were inside the home. (UPI Telephoto)

Now Sinus Sufferers Can Drain and Clear Nasal-Sinus Cavities With New "Hard-Core" Tablet

Just One Tablet Does the Job of 3 or 4 Ordinary Tablets!

Medical research specialists acknowledge that colds, allergies and weather changes cause pressure and pain in stuffed up nasal-sinus cavities. They know, too, that headaches, nasal drip, uncomfortable breathing and all the other sinus symptoms can be relieved by draining and clearing the nasal-sinus passages.

Now, a new tablet is available with an exclusive formula that acts instantly and continuously to drain and clear your nasal-sinus passages. One tablet, with its new "hard-core" process does the job of 3 or 4 ordinary tablets. The coated layer surrounding the "hard-core" dissolves first, placing its soothing medication in the blood canals, where it is instantly carried to the pained, pressure congested area. Congestive pressures are reduced almost immediately—and the exclusive "hard-core" process takes over. It dissolves the tablet slowly and continuously for periods of up to 8 hours, feeding soothing medication to formerly congested areas—and allows you to continue to breathe easily for extended periods of time!

This new tablet, called SYNA-CLEAR, is now available at BLOOR'S —without need for a prescription. It contains not one, but a combination of the same type medically proven decongestant ingredients doctors prescribe to help shrink swollen, irritated membranes and promote drainage of nasal-sinus cavities. Buy and use SYNA-CLEAR Decongestant Tablets with the absolute money-back guarantee that they will relieve pained, pressure congested sinus areas, or your purchase price will be refunded by the maker.

200 Attend Ceremony

Church Cornerstone Laid

Some 200 attended a cornerstone laying ceremony at the Chester First Christian Church Saturday afternoon for the church's new addition.

Shown above with the copper box used for records in the cornerstone are, left to right, Al Ganiss of Midland, architect; E. G. Jackson, church development committee chairman, the Rev. Earliss Gleaton, pastor, and Earl Broadbent of East Liverpool, contractor.

The actual cornerstone did not arrive until Saturday night, and lacked the proper cavity for holding the copper box, so a facsimile stone was used in the ceremony. The scheduled placing of the box in the stone was not conducted by the Grand Lodge Masons of West Virginia because their traditional rite calls for the actual cornerstone.

William R. Loper of Wheeling, grand master, spoke briefly, following the ceremony held by Rev. Gleaton.

Mayor Burton Ward and other city officials attended the event, which followed a parade including the Chester High School band, Grant District Burial Squad and others.

Youngstown Man Held For Uncoupling Train

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — Apparently annoyed by a lengthy wait for a freight train at the bridge street crossing, a Youngstown man decided to speed things up.

So, police reported, David McComb got out of his car Sunday and uncoupled the train.

It just happened that a police cruiser was waiting at the other side of the crossing.

McComb, 30, an automobile dealer, was to be arraigned today on charges of uncoupling a train and resisting arrest.

Police said he put up a struggle when the officers in the cruiser arrested him. And when they put one handcuff on him and allowed him to drive his car to the station, McComb sped off, worked his hand free from the manacle and tossed the handcuffs into the swimming pool at his home, police reported.

WIIC'S ED CONWAY GETS EARL BELLE INTERVIEW SCOOP

"SUMMER AUDITIONS" TO BEGIN SATURDAY

WIIC newscaster Ed Conway scored a major newsbeat last week when he presented exclusive filmed question-and-answer interviews with Pittsburgh fugitive Earl Belle. The films were shown on Conway's "News at 11" over WIIC.

Conway's exclusive interviews with the so-called "boy wonder" of Pittsburgh's financial world, climaxed three weeks of telephone negotiations. Finally, Belle granted his first press interview and Channel 11's Ed Conway got the scoop. The WIIC newsman flew to Rio de Janiero to interview Belle who has spent more than ten months of exile in Brazil.

The filmed interview marked the second exclusive for WIIC News on this story. Conway previously had Belle's associate Mitchell Ostwind as a live guest on April 27 after Ostwind had voluntarily returned to Pittsburgh.

Belle fled to Brazil in July, 1958, after the collapse of his paper financial empire.

"Summer Auditions" Premiers

Channel 11's new variety show, "Summer Auditions", debuts next Saturday, May 30, at 2 p. m. with Bill Cardille as master of ceremonies. The show will be seen each Saturday at 2 p. m. and replaces the summer-vacationing "Club 11 Teen Party."

"Summer Auditions" will feature the top non-professional talent in the Tri-State area. Tryouts are now underway each Saturday morning in the WIIC studios. If you can sing, dance, play a musical instrument or tell funny stories, and you'd like to appear on "Summer Auditions", then write WIIC Television, 341 Rising Main Avenue, Pittsburgh. You'll be sent complete information as to date and time of tryouts.

Another show which returns to Channel 11 Thursday night, May 28, at 7:30 p. m. is "Badge 714". Jack Webb as Joe Friday and Ben Alexander as Frank Smith find themselves in plenty of hot water in the case of "The Big Check".

★ ★ ★

Pittsburgh heavyweight Alonzo Johnson will meet Nino Valdes of Havana, Cuba, in a 10-round bout direct from Madison Square Garden in New York City, Friday, May 29, on Channel 11's "Cavalcade of Sports". The bout will get underway at 10 p. m.

WIICy Picks!

If you're a real Western fan, then tune in Channel 11 on Monday night. You'll see "Restless Gun" at 8 p. m. and "Tales of Wells Fargo" at 8:30 p. m. A young woman is persecuted by townspeople just because she works in a saloon! I'd say that's downright unfriendly of them, too. So, tune in with me for "Restless Gun" and see what happens.

You teenagers will really "dig" the "cool" music of Jimmy Rodgers, Connie Francis and the Kirby Stone Four. The Buddy Murrow Orchestra is on hand, too, for the "Jimmy Rodgers Show", Tuesday at 8:30 p. m.

There's plenty in the way of rip roarin' action when notorious outlaw Rube Burrows gets involved in a thirty-thousand dollar train robbery on Channel 11's "Outlaw Guns". Don't miss it Wednesday at 7 p. m. Also on tap Wednesday at 9 p. m. will be another hilarious session with that top-rated British comedian and recording star, Dave King, and the "Kraft Music Hall".

Tough-guy Lee Marvin stars in the moving story of a 21-year-old salesman who supplies much-needed clues when his wife vanishes after threatening to "go home to mother." It's all on the dramatic "M-Squad" presentation Friday night at 9 p. m. over WIIC.

If you go for real suspense and intrigue, and who doesn't?, you'll enjoy WIICy "Pick of the Week" Tuesday night at 10 p. m. It's the "David Niven Theatre" and it features Joanne Dru and Jacques Bergerac in the story of a wealthy woman who's left alone on a Mediterranean island with a travel guide. Romance and excitement turn into fear in this thrilling presentation.

Youngstown Man Held For Uncoupling Train

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — Apparently annoyed by a lengthy wait for a freight train at the bridge street crossing, a Youngstown man decided to speed things up.

So, police reported, David McComb got out of his car Sunday and uncoupled the train.

It just happened that a police cruiser was waiting at the other side of the crossing.

McComb, 30, an automobile dealer, was to be arraigned today on charges of uncoupling a train and resisting arrest.

Police said he put up a struggle when the officers in the cruiser arrested him. And when they put one handcuff on him and allowed him to drive his car to the station, McComb sped off, worked his hand free from the manacle and tossed the handcuffs into the swimming pool at his home, police reported.

WIIC'S ED CONWAY GETS EARL BELLE INTERVIEW SCOOP

"SUMMER AUDITIONS" TO BEGIN SATURDAY

WIIC newscaster Ed Conway scored a major newsbeat last week when he presented exclusive filmed question-and-answer interviews with Pittsburgh fugitive Earl Belle. The films were shown on Conway's "News at 11" over WIIC.

Conway's exclusive interviews with the so-called "boy wonder" of Pittsburgh's financial world, climaxed three weeks of telephone negotiations. Finally, Belle granted his first press interview and Channel 11's Ed Conway got the scoop. The WIIC newsman flew to Rio de Janiero to interview Belle who has spent more than ten months of exile in Brazil.

The filmed interview marked the second exclusive for WIIC News on this story. Conway previously had Belle's associate Mitchell Ostwind as a live guest on April 27 after Ostwind had voluntarily returned to Pittsburgh.

Belle fled to Brazil in July, 1958, after the collapse of his paper financial empire.

"Summer Auditions" Premiers

Channel 11's new variety show, "Summer Auditions", debuts next Saturday, May 30, at 2 p. m. with Bill Cardille as master of ceremonies. The show will be seen each Saturday at 2 p. m. and replaces the summer-vacationing "Club 11 Teen Party."

"Summer Auditions" will feature the top non-professional talent in the Tri-State area. Tryouts are now underway each Saturday morning in the WIIC studios. If you can sing, dance, play a musical instrument or tell funny stories, and you'd like to appear on "Summer Auditions", then write WIIC Television, 341 Rising Main Avenue, Pittsburgh. You'll be sent complete information as to date and time of tryouts.

Another show which returns to Channel 11 Thursday night, May 28, at 7:30 p. m. is "Badge 714". Jack Webb as Joe Friday and Ben Alexander as Frank Smith find themselves in plenty of hot water in the case of "The Big Check".

★ ★ ★

Pittsburgh heavyweight Alonzo Johnson will meet Nino Valdes of Havana, Cuba, in a 10-round bout direct from Madison Square Garden in New York City, Friday, May 29, on Channel 11's "Cavalcade of Sports". The bout will get underway at 10 p. m.

WIICy Picks!

If you're a real Western fan, then tune in Channel 11 on Monday night. You'll see "Restless Gun" at 8 p. m. and "Tales of Wells Fargo" at 8:30 p. m. A young woman is persecuted by townspeople just because she works in a saloon! I'd say that's downright unfriendly of them, too. So, tune in with me for "Restless Gun" and see what happens.

You teenagers will really "dig" the "cool" music of Jimmy Rodgers, Connie Francis and the Kirby Stone Four. The Buddy Murrow Orchestra is on hand, too, for the "Jimmy Rodgers Show", Tuesday at 8:30 p. m.

There's plenty in the way of rip roarin' action when notorious outlaw Rube Burrows gets involved in a thirty-thousand dollar train robbery on Channel 11's "Outlaw Guns". Don't miss it Wednesday at 7 p. m. Also on tap Wednesday at 9 p. m. will be another hilarious session with that top-rated British comedian and recording star, Dave King, and the "Kraft Music Hall".

Tough-guy Lee Marvin stars in the moving story of a 21-year-old salesman who supplies much-needed clues when his wife vanishes after threatening to "go home to mother." It's all on the dramatic "M-Squad" presentation Friday night at 9 p. m. over WIIC.

If you go for real suspense and intrigue, and who doesn't?, you'll enjoy WIICy "Pick of the Week" Tuesday night at 10 p. m. It's the "David Niven Theatre" and it features Joanne Dru and Jacques Bergerac in the story of a wealthy woman who's left alone on a Mediterranean island with a travel guide. Romance and excitement turn into fear in this thrilling presentation.

Walker's 5-Hitter Over Yankees Is 4th Straight Win

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Jerry Walker, a 20-year-old with the poise and control of a seasoned campaigner, has thrown his hat into the ring for rookie-of-year honors.

The 6-1 right-hander hasn't attracted the attention of such Baltimore pitching heroes as Hoyt Wilhelm, Billy O'Dell and Billy Loes but the kid from Ada, Okla., has pitched as well as anybody in the American League this year.

Sunday, for instance, Walker threw a five-hitter at New York, beating the Yankees 2-1 in the second game of a doubleheader to prevent the defending champions from escaping the cellar. Only Norm Siebern's seventh inning home run kept him from duplicating Whitey Ford's shutout in the Yankee's 9-0 opening game victory.

It was Walker's fourth straight victory this season, and his fifth major league triumph without a setback. Signed as a bonus boy in June 1957, he won his only start that year but spent 1958 with Knoxville of the Sally League and turned in an 18-4 record and a 2.61 earned run average. The youngster currently has a 1.37 era, has fanned 31 and walked only six in 46 innings. He hasn't walked a batter in 27 2-3 innings.

Although held to a split in their doubleheader with Detroit, the Cleveland Indians increased their first place margin to a full game over the Chicago White Sox. Cleveland won the opener 3-2 but lost the second game, 6-3. Kansas City downed the White Sox 8-6 and Washington whipped Boston 8-3.

Mickey Mantle and Yogi Berra walloped three-run homers in the Yankees' first game triumph over Baltimore which gave them two in a row for the first time in two weeks.

Granny Hamner's ninth inning single drove in Cleveland's winning run in the first game as Herb Score fanned 10 for his fifth victory and third in a row. Frank Lary turned back the Indians with eight hits in the nightcap although he needed help from Dave Sisler in the ninth. Harvey Kuenn, who had six hits in the twin bill, had a double and two singles in the nightcap, scored twice and drove in a run.

Kansas City whacked Billy Pierce and four relievers for 15 hits. Hec Lopez, who drove in four runs in Saturday's 16-0 triumph over the White Sox, knocked in four more with a double and triple. Ray Herbert won his fourth.

Faye Throneberry, who had three hits, drove in two runs with a triple that highlighted Washington's three-run fifth and gave Bill Fischer his fourth triumph in five decisions. It was Boston's ninth loss in a disastrous 12-game homestand.

Cleveland, Cincy Schools Grab Spring Sport Titles

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—With the exception of a few make-up baseball games and an occasional track meet, Ohio's high school athletic program goes into hibernation until next fall.

Hundreds of scholastic athletes rang down the curtain here Saturday with the state's four spring sport championships.

Cleveland Glenville grabbed the Class AA track title and West Alexandria annexed the small school cinder crown; Cincinnati Elder won its sixth Class AA baseball championship, its fourth in five years, and Northwestern picked up the Class A crown; Jerry Graebner of Lakewood won the tennis singles title and Jim Guest and Larry Stark of Elyria claimed the doubles championship, and Shaker Heights retained the golf title.

Both track crowns were decided on the same event—the 880-yard relay.

In the Class AA division, Glenville edged Cleveland East Tech, which had set the high school record in the half-mile relay in the qualifier Friday.

In the Class A running, Chagrin Falls was well on its way to winning the event when the baton was dropped on the last exchange and the team failed to finish the relay.

In baseball, Elder scored four runs in the top of the 12th inning to edge Barberton 11-7 in that lengthy battle. The Panthers, who had won the diamond title in 1943, 1952, 1955, 1956 and 1958, scored four runs in the top of the seventh to send the game into extra innings. That rally started after Barberton was just one out away from its first baseball crown.

Dean Chance, Northwestern's all-Ohio basketball star, claimed the ironman title of the baseball carnival. Chance hurled a no-hitter Friday against Cincinnati Country Day to move the Huskies into the final game and then came back Saturday to spin a 7-0, two-hitter against Spencerville.

In tennis, Graebner carried on a family tradition. The youth defeated Jerry Levin of Cincinnati Country Day 6-1, 7-5 to claim the title, the same one his father, Dr. Paul Graebner, had won in 1935 for Lakewood.

The Elyria doubles team edged Walter Beatty and Dave Harrington of Middletown 11-9, 7-5 for the title.

Earl Weiss led the Shaker Heights golfers to their second title in as many years. Weiss carded a 36-hole 151 to win the medalist honors and the team posted a 640 total, 10 strokes better than runnerup Greenville.

Local Entries Fail To Place

Four East Liverpool and Wellsville athletes who qualified for the state track and field meet at Columbus failed to place among the top five.

Bob Mackali of East Liverpool broad jumped in the finals but his leap of 21 feet 1 inch, the best jump he has ever made, was not good enough to be among the top five.

Warren Lincoln was East Liverpool's other qualifier but didn't place in the mile or half-mile

Dan Baldwin of Wellsville won his heat in the 880-yard run but his time wasn't fast enough to be among the top.

Bob Kiggans of Wellsville also failed to place in the high jump.

Pirates Jump From Fifth To Third Position

CINCINNATI (AP) — It's time now to recall the hoots and jeers of Smoky Burgess after the Cincinnati Reds traded him and Don Hoak to Pittsburgh.

The Reds got heavy-hitter Frank Thomas, among others, in return, and Forrest Harrill Burgess, the sturdy son of the Carolinas, commented gleefully:

"I'll bet that between Hoak and me we'll hit more home runs and drive in more runs for Pittsburgh than Thomas does for Cincinnati."

That's the way it worked out. And other onetime Reds who moved on to the Pirates have popped up to haunt Cincinnati.

Burgess and former Reds' slugger Ted Kluszewski starred in Pirate pinch-hit roles Sunday that sank Cincinnati in a doubleheader, 2-1 and 5-4.

That finished a four-game Pirate sweep over the Reds and ended an 18-game Cincinnati road trip. The Redlegs won only six of the games, plummeted from first place to sixth in the National League.

Burgess doubled in the winning run in the nightcap Sunday in the 10th inning after Roman Mejias singled.

In the opener, the Reds were leading by one run, but in the ninth, Bill Mazeroski and Hoak singled, and Klu's bounce single put over the tying run. Danny Kravitz doubled in Hoak with the deciding marker.

The Reds also didn't score until the ninth when Temple got on base by an error, followed by Vada Pinson on a bunt and Gus Bell via a walk. Frank Robinson's fly-out gave Temple time to scramble home.

The nightcap brought a little more scoring activity. Pittsburgh tied the score for the second time in the ninth when Bill Virdon singled and Rocky Nelson homered.

Virdon's single, sandwiched between doubles by Dick Schofield and Kravitz put two Pirate runs across in the first inning, but Cincinnati tied it in the second when Roy McMillan trippled in Frank Robinson, who had singled, and Dutch Dotterer, who had walked. The Reds scored another run in the sixth and one more in the seventh.

An end-of-tour rest comes today for the Rhinelanders. The first of three scheduled games against Philadelphia is planned Tuesday night, with Don Newcombe due to start.

Conley Shuts Out Former Mates As Phillies Gain Split With Braves

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Lanky Gene Conley finally has made believers out of the Milwaukee Braves.

It took the 6-8 right-hander more than a year to do it but the Braves must be convinced now. There is nothing more convincing than a shutout with the doubters as victims.

That's what the new Philadelphia pitching ace did Sunday. He shut out his former Braves' teammates 6-0, doling out six hits while handcuffing Henry Aaron without a safety. The fact that Hammerin' Hank rapped four hits in the nightcap and Milwaukee won 8-3 didn't dampen Conley's superlative hurling.

Conley, traded by the Braves to the Phils just before the opening of the season, now has permitted only five earned runs in 42 1-3 innings. That's a spectacular 1.07 earned run average, the best in the National League.

Conley, once a highly prized Milwaukee starter, apparently forgot how to win last year. He was involved in six decisions with the Braves and lost them all. Manager Fred Haney lost all confidence in his giant moundsman and used him sparingly during the last three months of the campaign.

Conley insisted all along he could win if given the opportunity. During the off season, while playing professional basketball with the Boston Celtics, the big fellow issued an ultimatum to the club.

"Pitch me or trade me to a club that will pitch me," he challenged.

The split reduced Milwaukee's first place lead to three games over the runner-up San Francisco Giants, who defeated the Los Angeles Dodgers 6-1. Pittsburgh jumped from fifth to third place, sweeping a doubleheader from Cincinnati 2-1 and 5-4 in 10 innings, St. Louis whipped Chicago 7-3 for its seventh victory in its last eight games.

The Anderson boys, Harry and Sparky, drove in two runs apiece in Conley's shutout triumph over the Braves. Philadelphia scored four runs in the first inning as Milwaukee starter Joey Jay failed to retire a batter. Aaron supported Carleton Willey's seven-hit pitching in the second game with a double and three singles that drove in three runs. He now is hitting .461.

Home runs by Willie Mays, Orlando Cepeda and Bob Schmidt, who collected eight of the Giants' 12 hits among them, dropped the losing Los Angeles Dodgers into fourth place. Right-hander Jack Sanford scattered five hits for his sixth victory in 10 decisions. Danny McDevitt was the loser.

Pinch hitters Danny Kravitz and Smoky Burgess delivered final inning blows as the Pirates came from behind to down Cincinnati twice and extend the Red's losing streak to five. Kravitz doubled to drive in the winning run in the ninth of the opener after the Pirates had tied the score on singles by Bill Mazeroski and Don Hoak, and Ted Klusewski's grounder. Burgess doubled in the 10th inning of the nightcap to drive in the winning run after Rocky Nelson tied the game for Pittsburgh in the ninth at 4-4 with a two-run homer.

The Cards used three managers to down the Cubs. Coach Harry Walker was directing the club at the finish after Manager Solly Hemus was ejected in the fifth inning and Johnny Keane, his first lieutenant, was thumbed out five minutes later. The Redbirds got 13 hits, however, and fine relief pitching by Lindy McDaniel to sweep the three-game series. Hal Smith, Ken Boyer, and Lee Tate each knocked in two runs.

'Look At Their Lineup,' Conley Says After Win

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — "It's great to win and I'm a little excited about beating the pennant winners. But who wouldn't be. Look at their lineup."

That was Gene Conley talking after throwing a six-hit shut out Sunday to lead the Philadelphia Phillies to a 6-0 victory over his ex - teammates, the Milwaukee Braves. The Braves came back in the nightcap of the doubleheader for an 8-3 win.

"I'm happy to beat them, sure, but I'd be just as happy to beat any team," the 6-foot-8, 220-pound Conley said.

The victory was Conley's second against one loss this season. Last year at Milwaukee, he ended the season with an 0-6 record, mostly because of a sore shoulder.

The Braves traded the lanky Conley this spring after a hassle about his playing with the champion Boston Celtics of the National Basketball Assn.

After the trade, Phillies General Manager John Quinn, who had the same job with the Braves last year, allowed Conley to stay with the Celtics until the end of the NBA title playoffs. Once Boston had defeated the Minneapolis Lakers, Conley reported to Leechburg, Fla., for conditioning.

"Actually, I was in pretty good shape when I went to Florida," Conley said.

When he reported to the Phillies, one long relief stint was enough to gain him a starting job. He worked nine innings in relief May 2 against the Chicago Cubs and held them to six hits. He struck out 11. Sunday, he struck out five and didn't allow a walk.

He said his greatest satisfaction was holding the major league's leading hitter, Hank Aaron, hitless in four times at bat. It was only the third time this season Aaron went hitless.

Gengarellas Gain Title In National Loop

Gengarella's defeated Rearks, 2,879 to 2,858 in a tight match to win the championship of the National Bowling League.

The match went down to the eighth frame of the third and final game when Rearks blew three spares and Gengarellas connected for three doubles.

The scores showed Gengarellas with 982, 936 and 961 while Rearks had 973, 931 and 954.

Chuck Spencer with a 217 and Claude Ruckman's 214 were high in the match while Frank Benedict of Gengarellas posted high series with a 597.

Hamner's Hit Gives Score Win In Opener

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Indians split a doubleheader with the Detroit Tigers Sunday, but gained a half-game on the second-place Chicago White Sox, who lost to Kansas City in a single game.

The Indians now lead the Sox by a full game for the opening of a two-game series in Chicago Tuesday night. The Tribe and Sox are idle today.

Manager Joe Gordon used big Jim Baxes, who reported to the Indians Saturday from Spokane, at third base in both games Sunday and plans to use him at the hot corner in the Chicago series. Baxes collected four singles in eight trips to the plate in the twin bill. He had a home run in two trips against Detroit Saturday.

"We can use a bat like that in the lineup," Gordon said. "They don't cheat Baxes up there at the plate."

A ninth-inning single by Granny Hamner scored Carroll Hardy from second base to give the Indians a 3-2 victory in Sunday's first game. Detroit scored three runs in the third inning of the nightcap and went on to win it, 6-3.

Southpaw Herb Score posted his fifth victory in seven decisions in the opener. He struck out 10 batters, walked seven and allowed only five hits.

Mike Garcia started the nightcap, but was lifted after five innings with the Tigers holding a 5-2 lead. Two of the runs off the veteran right-hander were unearned as the result of a throwing error by catcher Russ Nixon. The loss was Garcia's third straight. He has no wins.

Hamner's game-winning single off former Indian Ray Narleski followed walks to pinchhitter Tito Francona and Jim Piersall. Hardy ran for Francona. Narleski had relieved starter Don Mossi, another ex-Tribesman, in the bottom of the ninth after the Tigers had tied the score at 2-2 in the top half of the inning.

The Tigers opened the scoring in the second game—won by Frank Lary—with three runs in the third inning on singles by Lary and Eddie Yost and doubles by Harvey Kuenn and Charley Maxwell. Two more were added in the fifth on a walk to Yost, a single by Kuenn, a double steal and Nixon's error.

The Tigers last run came in the sixth inning. Gail Harris and Lou Berberet hit consecutive singles and Harris scored on a sacrifice by Rocky Bridges.

Cleveland scored two in the fourth on a single by Vic Power, a double by Minoso and an error by Maxwell, who threw wild to third base after catching Rocky Colavito's sacrifice fly that sent Minoso to third.

The Indians chased Lary in the ninth with three consecutive singles to load the bases with nobody out. Dave Sisler replaced Lary and retired the side with only one run—on a sacrifice fly by Nixon.

Walker's 5-Hitter Over Yankees Is 4th Straight Win

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Jerry Walker, a 20-year-old with the poise and control of a seasoned campaigner, has thrown his hat into the ring for rookie-of-year honors.

The 6-1 right-hander hasn't attracted the attention of such Baltimore pitching heroes as Hoyt Wilhelm, Billy O'Dell and Billy Loes but the kid from Ada, Okla., has pitched as well as anybody in the American League this year.

Sunday, for instance, Walker threw a five-hitter at New York, beating the Yankees 2-1 in the second game of a doubleheader to prevent the defending champions from escaping the cellar. Only Norm Siebern's seventh inning home run kept him from duplicating Whitey Ford's shutout in the Yankee's 9-0 opening game victory.

It was Walker's fourth straight victory this season, and his fifth major league triumph without a setback. Signed as a bonus boy in June 1957, he won his only start that year but spent 1958 with Knoxville of the Sally League and turned in an 18-4 record and a 2.61 earned run average. The youngster currently has a 1.37 era, has fanned 31 and walked only six in 46 innings. He hasn't walked a batter in 27 2-3 innings.

Although held to a split in their doubleheader with Detroit, the Cleveland Indians increased their first place margin to a full game over the Chicago White Sox. Cleveland won the opener 3-2 but lost the second game, 6-3. Kansas City downed the White Sox 8-6 and Washington whipped Boston 8-3.

Mickey Mantle and Yogi Berra walloped three-run homers in the Yankees' first game triumph over Baltimore which gave them two in a row for the first time in two weeks.

Granny Hamner's ninth inning single drove in Cleveland's winning run in the first game as Herb Score fanned 10 for his fifth victory and third in a row. Frank Lary turned back the Indians with eight hits in the nightcap although he needed help from Dave Sisler in the ninth. Harvey Kuenn, who had six hits in the twin bill, had a double and two singles in the nightcap, scored twice and drove in a run.

Kansas City whacked Billy Pierce and four relievers for 15 hits. Hec Lopez, who drove in four runs in Saturday's 16-0 triumph over the White Sox, knocked in four more with a double and triple. Ray Herbert won his fourth.

Faye Throneberry, who had three hits, drove in two runs with a triple that highlighted Washington's three-run fifth and gave Bill Fischer his fourth triumph in five decisions. It was Boston's ninth loss in a disastrous 12-game homestand.

Pirates Jump From Fifth To Third Position

CINCINNATI (AP) — It's time now to recall the hoots and jeers of Smoky Burgess after the Cincinnati Reds traded him and Don Hoak to Pittsburgh.

The Reds got heavy-hitter Frank Thomas, among others, in return, and Forrest Harrill Burgess, the sturdy son of the Carolinas, commented gleefully:

"I'll bet that between Hoak and me we'll hit more home runs and drive in more runs for Pittsburgh than Thomas does for Cincinnati."

That's the way it worked out. And other onetime Reds who moved on to the Pirates have popped up to haunt Cincinnati.

Burgess and former Reds' slugger Ted Kluszewski starred in Pirate pinch-hit roles Sunday that sank Cincinnati in a doubleheader, 2-1 and 5-4.

That finished a four-game Pirate sweep over the Reds and ended an 18-game Cincinnati road trip. The Redlegs won only six of the games, plummeted from first place to sixth in the National League.

Burgess doubled in the winning run in the nightcap Sunday in the 10th inning after Roman Mejias singled.

In the opener, the Reds were leading by one run, but in the ninth, Bill Mazeroski and Hoak singled, and Klu's bounce single put over the tying run. Danny Kravitz doubled in Hoak with the deciding marker.

The Reds also didn't score until the ninth when Temple got on base by an error, followed by Vada Pinson on a bunt and Gus Bell via a walk. Frank Robinson's fly-out gave Temple time to scramble home.

The nightcap brought a little more scoring activity. Pittsburgh tied the score for the second time in the ninth when Bill Virdon singled and Rocky Nelson homered.

Virdon's single, sandwiched between doubles by Dick Schofield and Kravitz put two Pirate runs across in the first inning, but Cincinnati tied it in the second when Roy McMillan trippled in Frank Robinson, who had singled, and Dutch Dotterer, who had walked. The Reds scored another run in the sixth and one more in the seventh.

That was Gene Conley talking after throwing a six-hit shut out Sunday to lead the Philadelphia Phillies to a 6-0 victory over his ex - teammates, the Milwaukee Braves. The Braves came back in the nightcap of the doubleheader for an 8-3 win.

"I'm happy to beat them, sure, but I'd be just as happy to beat any team," the 6-foot-8, 220-pound Conley said.

The victory was Conley's second against one loss this season. Last year at Milwaukee, he ended the season with an 0-6 record, mostly because of a sore shoulder.

The Braves traded the lanky Conley this spring after a hassle about his playing with the champion Boston Celtics of the National Basketball Assn.

After the trade, Phillies General Manager John Quinn, who had the same job with the Braves last year, allowed Conley to stay with the Celtics until the end of the NBA title playoffs. Once Boston had defeated the Minneapolis Lakers, Conley reported to Leechburg, Fla., for conditioning.

"Actually, I was in pretty good shape when I went to Florida," Conley said.

When he reported to the Phillies, one long relief stint was enough to gain him a starting job. He worked nine innings in relief May 2 against the Chicago Cubs and held them to six hits. He struck out 11.

Sunday, he struck out five and didn't allow a walk.

He said his greatest satisfaction was holding the major league's leading hitter, Hank Aaron, hitless in four times at bat. It was only the third time this season Aaron went hitless.

Cleveland, Cincy Schools Grab Spring Sport Titles

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—With the exception of a few make-up baseball games and an occasional track meet, Ohio's high school athletic program goes into hibernation until next fall.

Hundreds of scholastic athletes rang down the curtain here Saturday with the state's four spring sport championships.

Cleveland Glenville grabbed the Class AA track title and West Alexandria annexed the small school cinder crown; Cincinnati Elder won its sixth Class AA baseball championship, its fourth in five years, and Northwestern picked up the Class A crown; Jerry Graebner of Lakewood won the tennis singles title and Jim Guest and Larry Stark of Elyria claimed the doubles championship, and Shaker Heights retained the golf title.

Both track crowns were decided on the same event—the 880-yard relay.

In the Class AA division, Glenville edged Cleveland East Tech, which had set the high school record in the half-mile relay in the qualifier Friday.

In the Class A running, Chagrin Falls was well on its way to winning the event when the baton was dropped on the last exchange and the team failed to finish the relay.

In baseball, Elder scored four runs in the top of the 12th inning to edge Barberton 11-7 in that lengthy battle. The Panthers, who had won the diamond title in 1943, 1952, 1955, 1956 and 1958, scored four runs in the top of the seventh to send the game into extra innings. That rally started after Barberton was just one out away from its first baseball crown.

Dean Chance, Northwestern's all-Ohio basketball star, claimed the ironman title of the baseball carnival. Chance hurled a no-hitter Friday against Cincinnati Country Day to move the Huskies into the final game and then came back Saturday to spin a 7-0, two-hitter against Spencerville.

In tennis, Graebner carried on a family tradition. The youth defeated Jerry Levin of Cincinnati Country Day 6-1, 7-5 to claim the title, the same one his father, Dr. Paul Graebner, had won in 1935 for Lakewood.

The Elyria doubles team edged Walter Beatty and Dave Harrington of Middletown 11-9, 7-5 for the title.

Earl Weiss led the Shaker Heights golfers to their second title in as many years. Weiss carded a 36-hole 151 to win the medalist honors and the team posted a 640 total, 10 strokes better than runnerup Greenville.

Local Entries Fail To Place

Four East Liverpool and Wellsville athletes who qualified for the state track and field meet at Columbus failed to place among the top five.

Bob Mackali of East Liverpool broad jumped in the finals but his leap of 21 feet 1 inch, the best jump he has ever made, was not good enough to be among the top five.

Warren Lincoln was East Liverpool's other qualifier but didn't place in the mile or half-mile.

Dan Baldwin of Wellsville won his heat in the 880-yard run but his time wasn't fast enough to be among the top.

Bob Kiggans of Wellsville also failed to place in the high jump.

40 Cage Prospects Meet With Jim Harris

Forty cage candidates turned out at the high school to meet with Jim Harris, the new Potter basketball coach, who was in East Liverpool Saturday. Harris told the prospects what he expected from them next season and to work hard on any of their weaknesses.

'Pappy' Wins 200-Mile Race From Xenia

"Pappy" owned by Charles Papendry won the East Liverpool's Homing Club 200-mile race from Xenia Sunday in 4 hours, 59 minutes and 54 seconds.

"Buddy" owned by Victor Giovenco was second and Papendry's "Blue Boy" was third.

The next race will be a 300-mile test from Indianapolis.

Two Former 500 Winners Back In Start

INDIANAPOLIS, (AP)—Former winners Jimmy Bryan of Phoenix and Pat Flaherty of Chicago will start away back in the field Saturday when 33 cars blast away from the starting line in the 43rd 500-mile race at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway.

The windup of 10-mile qualifications Sunday left Bryan in the middle of the seventh row, with 19 cars to pass before he can repeat last year's $105,000 victory.

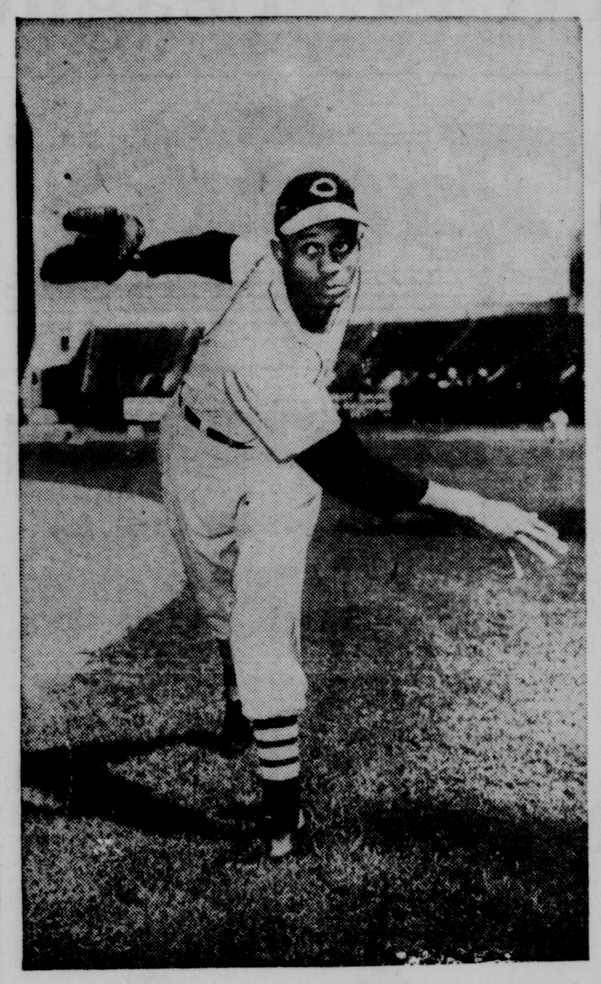
Flaherty, returning for the first time since he took the 1956 Memorial Day event, qualified a shade faster than Bryan and will start in 18th place, in the sixth row.

The field qualified a little slower than last year's record average of 143.445 miles an hour. This year's average in the four qualifying sessions was 143.004.

The front half of the lineup is extremely fast, led by Johnny Thomson of Boyertown, Pa., who set a one-lap record of 146.532 on May 16. The last half, although manned by veteran drivers, includes ten cars with qualifying speeds that would not have made last year's lineup.

The fastest was Bobby Grim of Indianapolis, four-times champion of the nation's county fair tracks, who will sit in the second row with a qualifying speed of 144.225 miles an hour.

Satchel Paige To Play At Midland On Tuesday



LeRoy "Satchel" Paige, one of baseball's greatest pitchers, will appear with the Havana Cuban Stars Tuesday at the Crucible Field in Midland.

The game will start at 6 p. m. with the Midland USW team under Art Petrosky furnishing the competition.

Paige, whose age is estimated anywhere from 50 to 60, began his career in 1925 with the Chattanooga Black Lookouts. He has pitched everywhere in the United States and over most of the world.

Paige finally gained the major leagues in 1948 when he helped Cleveland to a pennant that year with a 6-1 record. He pitched for Cleveland again in 1949 then was with the old St. Louis Browns in 1951 and 1952.

The last three years he has been with Miami of the fast International League.

The Cuban Stars have some top talent from the Cuban Leagues who are barnstorming through the United States.

Illinois Wins Track Crown

By The Associated Press

Two conference marks fell as Illinois won the Big Ten championship at Ann Arbor in the highlight of Saturday's national track and field program.

George Kerr of Illinois, won the 880 in 1:50.1, bettering the record of 1:50.3 set by Michigan State's Dave Lean last year.

Bob Lake of Michigan State shattered an eight-year-old mark when he ran the mile in 4:08.5. The old record of 4:09 was set by Don Mcewen of Michigan in 1951.

The real star of the meet, however, was an unheralded Illinois sophomore, Ward Miller. He won both the 100 and 220 yard dashes.

Noteworthy performances were turned in by Ed Moran and Jim Schwab of Penn State in a dual meet with Manhattan College. Moran ran the 880 in 1:49.6, and Schwab tossed the javelin 223 feet 11½ inches. Both were meet records, as was the mile relay mark of 3:13.3 turned in by the Nittany Lions.

John Lawlor of Boston Univ. bettered his own U. S. college hammer throw record with a heave of 208 feet, 8½ inches in the New England Intercollegiate meet. His old mark was 204 feet 9½ inches.

At Pocatello, Idaho, Charley Campbell of Idaho State ran 100 yards in better than world record time, but his mark has no chance of being recognized.

A 17-mile wind at his back boosted Campbell along so he was timed in 9.2, with two watches catching him in 9.1. The recognized world mark is 9.3.

Jets Gaining Ground After Sudden Spurt

By The Associated Press

Columbus Manager Cal Ermer has only to look as far as his pitching roster if he wants an answer to the sudden spurt of his Jets toward the upper reaches of the International League.

In the past week, the Jets have vaulted from sixth place to fourth, winning six of seven games. Last Sunday, they were six games behind the first place Miami Marlins. Today, they are 2½ games back of the Marlins and only a half game behind third place Montreal.

The Jets defeated the Toronto Maple Leafs 4-3 in the first game of a doubleheader Sunday at Toronto, while the second game was suspended, with the Leafs leading 5-3 in the sixth inning, because of the Sunday curfew.

Pacific Coast Loop Dead After 44 Years

SEATTLE (AP) — The Pacific Coast Conference is dead today after 44 years of lively existence.

The dissolution was finalized Sunday by the faculty athletic representatives who have been the conference bosses.

UCLA has said it will never again meet Oregon or Washington State athletically. California, Washington, Southern California and UCLA have formed a "Big Four" and will take over the Rose Bowl game after 1960. Stanford, Oregon State, Idaho, Washington State and Oregon will operate independently.

Weirton Matched With Parkersburg

Three of the four high school teams which will compete for the state baseball championship beginning Thursday in Parkersburg were decided today.

Area play-off games were scheduled at Morgantown, New Martinsville and St. Albans but the Area 3 berth in the state tournament had not been decided between Montgomery (15-3) and Princeton (9-3).

Berkeley Springs took a 9-1 record to the West Virginia University field in Morgantown against Philippi (11-1). That contest decided the champion from Area 2.

The Area 1 finals at New Martinsville matched two standout teams in Parkersburg (13-4) and Weirton (14-2). Weirton had lost both its games to teams from Steubenville, Ohio.

East Bank, state diamond champion two years ago, was back in the running with a 21-1 record when it played Huntington (21-4) at St. Albans. That battle decided the Area 4 title.

The state tourney in Parkersburg will be a two-day affair.

SEATTLE (AP) — The Pacific Coast Conference is dead today after 44 years of lively existence.

The dissolution was finalized Sunday by the faculty athletic representatives who have been the conference bosses.

UCLA has said it will never again meet Oregon or Washington State athletically. California, Washington, Southern California and UCLA have formed a "Big Four" and will take over the Rose Bowl game after 1960. Stanford, Oregon State, Idaho, Washington State and Oregon will operate independently.

The ruffed grouse is also known as mountain pheasant, thunder bird, partridge and drummer.

Weirton Matched With Parkersburg

Three of the four high school teams which will compete for the state baseball championship beginning Thursday in Parkersburg were decided today.

Area play-off games were scheduled at Morgantown, New Martinsville and St. Albans but the Area 3 berth in the state tournament had not been decided between Montgomery (15-3) and Princeton (9-3).

Berkeley Springs took a 9-1 record to the West Virginia University field in Morgantown against Philippi (11-1). That contest decided the champion from Area 2.

The Area 1 finals at New Martinsville matched two standout teams in Parkersburg (13-4) and Weirton (14-2). Weirton had lost both its games to teams from Steubenville, Ohio.

East Bank, state diamond champion two years ago, was back in the running with a 21-1 record when it played Huntington (21-4) at St. Albans. That battle decided the Area 4 title.

The state tourney in Parkersburg will be a two-day affair.

Any team wishing to enter may submit an application at this meeting.

Tom Sardinia, a football halfback from Mount Morris, N. Y., will captain the Syracuse University baseball team this spring.

Williams, Busby Due Back In Bosox Lineup

BOSTON (AP) — Outfielders Ted Williams and Jim Busby, forced out of Sunday's game with Washington because of injuries, are expected to be ready when the Boston Red Sox open a series at New York Tuesday night.

Williams pulled a muscle in his right leg. Busby bruised his right wrist when he slammed into the wall chasing a triple. Both injuries were considered minor.

Nursing, Rest Home Bills Await Ohio Senate's Vote

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio senators have called for a vote today on House-approved bills to tighten state control over nursing and rest homes.

The measures head a list of proposals up for consideration as the Legislature begins its 21st week of work.

One bill empowers the State Health Council to set standards for the care of aged persons in such homes, and entrusts the health director with their enforcement. License fees, now $5 a year, would be increased to a maximum of $100, according to the size of homes.

A companion measure defines private institutions for the mentally ill. Control of such homes remains under the Mental Hygiene Division.

Action on those and other proposals will set the stage for another bout by controlling Democrats with tax and labor legislation.

Sen. Frank W. King (D-Lucas), Senate majority leader, expressed "high hopes" that the Senate would vote on the corporate franchise fee bill this week.

The measure became vital to Gov. Michael V. DiSalle's big tax program after proposals for "direct use" taxes on new farm and factory machinery were chopped from the sales tax bill.

To make up for loss of the levy on machinery, a four-fold increase in the one-tenth of one per cent fee on corporate net worth was proposed to raise $96 million dollars more in two years. As passed by the House, the bill called for an increase to only two-tenths for an extra $32 million dollars.

Senate leaders had hoped to vote on the franchise fee bill this week but indicated they lacked the votes for passage. Defeat in the House of the administration-backed bill to change Ohio's utility rate-making formula led to reports that franchise fees might be extended to utility firms. They now are exempt from such fees.

Other revenue measures awaiting Senate action would increase taxes on retail sales, cigarettes and horse race betting. The Senate sales tax measure, as revised, would bring in about 34 million dollars in the next two years. Originally, it called for new revenues of more than 200 million.

House-approved bills to jump the tax on cigarettes two cents a pack would produce another 46 million. The state's take from race track betting would increase another six million.

Portions of DiSalle's third of a billion dollar tax increase program, already in effect, apply to liquor and gasoline. Gasoline taxes went up two cents a gallon last Thursday to yield about 120 million dollars more for a 300 million dollar annual highway building program. Bottled liquor price increases will yield another 40 million dollars.

The state will begin collecting another four million dollars as soon as the House and Senate settle minor differences over a bill to double the barrel tax on 3.2 beer. Both houses have approved the bill but they differed on Senate changes.

The House Industry and Labor Committee resumes a series of hearings this week on bills to liberalize unemployment and workmen's compensation benefits. Business interests oppose increases sought by organized labor in both types of benefits. DiSalle has asserted the bills go "too far too fast".

The House Elections and Federal Relations Committee will take up an administration-backed proposal for a labor code of ethics despite claims by unionists that the measure is dead. DiSalle asserted the claims were exaggerated.

Other proposals up for hearings would:

Ban the drinking of beer, as well as intoxicants, in automobiles; require cities to split income taxes with suburbs where some taxpayers live; establish a state scholarship fund; ban discrimination in public housing; establish eastern standard time statewide and provide for a second Lake County Common Pleas judge to be elected for a term starting Jan. 2, 1961.

House-passed bills up for Senate hearings would:

Permit destruction of pigeons; create a Division of Dairy Marketing with power to ban sale of milk and dairy products below cost to help sell other items and to restore "fair trade" pricing of trademarked items knocked out by the Ohio Supreme Court.

Is Housework Running Your Life?

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Are you a slave to your home? Do you pass up weekends, dinner parties and entertaining your friends because there is always something to be done around the house?

If so, take a second look—there always will be work around a house, and giving up fun and friendships won't solve the problem.

YOUR REACTION to these five common situations will show whether or not your home is getting the best of you:

1. — Your guests leave at a late hour and you are so tired you can't hold your head up. But there the dishes loom menacingly in the kitchen and you can't go to bed until the kitchen is cleaned up. Why not? Stack dishes and pots neatly in the sink (or the oven!) and pretend they're in a dishwasher, if you don't have one. In lieu of a slipcover for the sink, cover the whole array with a couple of clean dish towels. Go to bed and relax. In the morning you'll be in better shape to face the situation and the job may be done better and in much less time.

2. — You feel the need of company, but the house is in such a disheveled state that you are embarrassed to invite your friends.

If you attempt to clean it thoroughly, you know you'll be too tired to cook the dinner. Well, size up the problem. How much of the mess is paraphernalia that is misplaced? Take a pillow case or laundry bag and load it with all the oddiments. Take all the old magazines and put them in the closet. (Some people stack them under the bed.)

After that you may not have much more to do than vacuuming, dusting, wiping mirrors and ash trays. You'll be surprised how easy it is after you remove extraneous stuff that somehow makes a room look tacky. Remove the clutter and live again.

3. — You want to have people to dinner, but you've got a back-breaking job in the garden and you wonder if you will be able to drag yourself around after that.

Use the easy method of entertaining: Plan a cookout. Prepare all the greens in the morning, wrap them in a towel, put them in the refrigerator. Prepare the salad dressing. Dress up the garlic bread, butter the rolls or other bread and wrap it in foil. Pat out the hamburgers or marinate the chicken, and have it set for the fire. Remove corn husks, butter and wrap in foil. Put it in the ice box. Now you're all set.

After your garden chores, take a shower and relax until the guests arrive. Set the barbecue table and you'll have nothing to do but entertain the guests, assuming you can persuade the man of the house to take over the outdoor cooking.

4. — Do you give up weekends away from home because "the weeds will take over and the grass will be sky-high" if you don't stick around?

There are usually small boys around eager to do the job for pin money. They can also take care of those other "excuses" that keep you at home—feeding dog and cat and watering the lawn.

5. — Do you stay indoors because you fear the sun and the house is so cool?

There are many advantages to be gained being outdoors, and equipped properly with sun glasses, beach umbrella and straw hat, you can enjoy the outdoors without getting sunburned. Better still, find a shady spot, but get out of the rut of sticking close to home. Home is a wonderful place, but you may not appreciate it, if you never have a change of scenery.

There are more 4-H clubs in Ohio than in any other state, probably due to the fact that the 4-H Club movement started in Springfield, Ohio, more than 50 years ago.

Installation Tips Offered For New Wooden Fence

By The Associated Press

Like houses, wooden fences come in a variety of styles. And like houses, they can be made to fit your pocketbook.

The best way to cut the cost of a good fence is to build it yourself.

Even if you do not have anything except ordinary tools, you should be able to install an attractive wooden fence because of the tendency of many lumber dealers to carry basic fencing styles in packages of pre - cut materials.

The most important factor to consider in choosing your fence design is to determine the degree of privacy and protection you want as well as the appearance that best suits the style of your house and neighborhood.

Wooden fencing styles can range from the open - viewed simplicity of the picket fence to the dramatic, maximum - privacy afforded by the new basketweave design. Before deciding on the size and type of your fence, take a drive around the community. You probably will get many ideas from the ingenuity and planning of others.

Vertical lines can become tiresome if carried on a straight run of more than 100 feet. If you need a long string of fencing, you should plan your design to capture the horizontal line of the "stretcher" fence or the post - and - rail.

In getting the lumber, be sure to find out whether the wood is already preservative - treated or whether the design of your choice is available in one of the naturally decay - resistant woods.

If you have to treat the lumber yourself, it usually is a simple matter of dipping the wood into a preservative at a reasonable cost.

When you have all the needed materials on hand for actual construction, stake out the fence location with mason's twine or fish-line about a foot above the ground and then mark the post locations.

When strength is required, post-holes should be two feet deep and not more than eight feet apart. One or two shovels of porland cement can then be dry-mixed with the soil and tamped firmly around the post — with water added at intervals until the posthole is filled. If your fence is to serve primarily to confine children and - or pets, rather than for a purely decorative purpose, it should be at least four feet in height.

Here are some other installation hints:

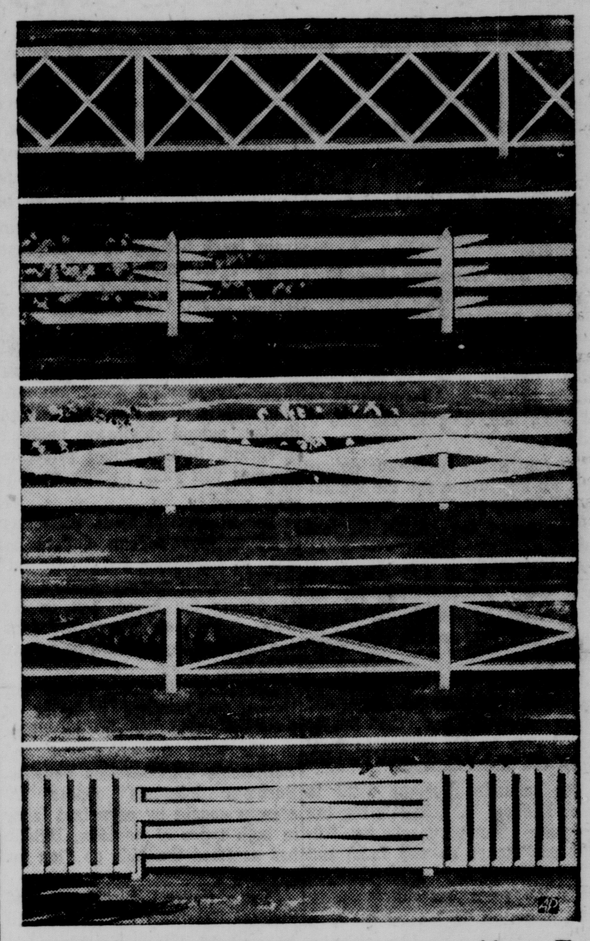
Use an auger for digging post-holes in rock - free soil; a clam-shell digger for rocky soil.

Use a carpenter's spirit level to be sure posts are vertical and stringers level.

For drainage, put a 2-inch layer of gravel in the posthole.

Use non - rusting nails to prevent later staining of the finished surface.

Drive nails at least one inch from the end of the board to avoid possible splitting as the lumber weathers with age. Where nails have to be located closer to the ends of fence boards, holes should be drilled for the nails to prevent splitting.



SOMETHING TO PICK FROM. Here are five types of fences. The top four are variations of the "stretcher" style. The one at the bottom is a combination of basketweave and vertical board.

A good rule - of - thumb for fence finishes is to harmonize the color with that of your house. You can paint the fence to match either the trim of your house or the house itself.

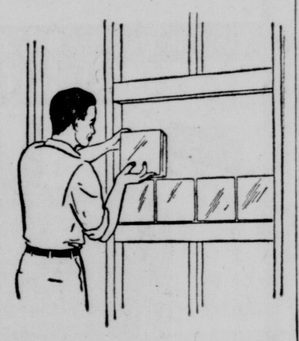
Or you can use the color of your fence to contrast pleasingly with the house color, setting it off as a picture frame does the painting.

The trend today is toward the natural look in fences. Natural stain emphasizes the warm, woody look that blends well into the browns and greens of garden and lawns. But whatever the style or finish, a tastefully - planned and sturdily - installed fence increases the value and beauty of your home.

Here's An Easy Method In Lighting Dark Room

Thousands of homes have a dark room or a hallway so dark that one requires a light even at noontime.

In many cases the owner is not inclined to spend the money for another window which will eliminate the gloom. Actually there is no reason why he could not take care of the situation himself by installing a glass-block panel whereever it would do the most good.



The procedure to be followed in installing a panel is a simple one. The first step is to mark out the size of the panel required and cut out the interior well finish as neatly as possible. Usually this can be done with a wood chisel.

The wall studs then will be exposed and should be cut as shown and 2-by-4 braces installed across the opening as illustrated. Where only one stud is cut it is not necessary to install double-framing. The exterior wall finish is next cut out and a frame of proper deputh installed all around the opening.

Needless to say, all of this is done with due regard to the number and size of the glass block to be used, plus an allowance for quarter-inch joints between blocks and between frame and blocks.

The blocks are set in mortar. Before the mortar becomes thoroughly set it is raked out a quarter-inch deep and caulking compound inserted to make the joints flush with the face of the blocks.

To avoid the weight of the blocks squeezing out the mortar before it has set, light strips of wood are laid along the horizontal joints at the block centers. They can be left there and mortared right in. The final finish of the job, both inside and out, is a wood trim the same as around a window.

Beaver Farmers Told Of Deadline On Wheat

Farmers of Beaver County have only until June 21 to dispose of wheat planted in excess of their acreage allotments, G. M. Swick of the Beaver County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee said today.

Swick cited several advantages for the wheat grower who disposes of excess acres and brings his acreage for harvest down to the allotment. These include eligibility for wheat price support and soil bank payments, freedom from a marketing quota penalty on wheat and credit for acreage diverted from wheat this year in computing his allotment in future years.

Farmers who have any questions about excess wheat disposal are urged to get in touch with the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office for further information at Beaver.

Is Housework Running Your Life?

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Are you a slave to your home? Do you pass up weekends, dinner parties and entertaining your friends because there is always something to be done around the house?

If so, take a second look—there always will be work around a house, and giving up fun and friendships won't solve the problem.

YOUR REACTION to these five common situations will show whether or not your home is getting the best of you:

1. — Your guests leave at a late hour and you are so tired you can't hold your head up. But there the dishes loom menacingly in the kitchen and you can't go to bed until the kitchen is cleaned up. Why not? Stack dishes and pots neatly in the sink (or the oven!) and pretend they're in a dishwasher, if you don't have one. In lieu of a slipcover for the sink, cover the whole array with a couple of clean dish towels. Go to bed and relax. In the morning you'll be in better shape to face the situation and the job may be done better and in much less time.

2. — You feel the need of company, but the house is in such a disheveled state that you are embarrassed to invite your friends.

If you attempt to clean it thoroughly, you know you'll be too tired to cook the dinner. Well, size up the problem. How much of the mess is paraphernalia that is misplaced? Take a pillow case or laundry bag and load it with all the oddiments. Take all the old magazines and put them in the closet. (Some people stack them under the bed.)

After that you may not have much more to do than vacuuming, dusting, wiping mirrors and ash trays. You'll be surprised how easy it is after you remove extraneous stuff that somehow makes a room look tacky. Remove the clutter and live again.

3. — You want to have people to dinner, but you've got a back-breaking job in the garden and you wonder if you will be able to drag yourself around after that.

Use the easy method of entertaining: Plan a cookout. Prepare all the greens in the morning, wrap them in a towel, put them in the refrigerator. Prepare the salad dressing. Dress up the garlic bread, butter the rolls or other bread and wrap it in foil. Pat out the hamburgers or marinate the chicken, and have it set for the fire. Remove corn husks, butter and wrap in foil. Put it in the ice box. Now you're all set.

After your garden chores, take a shower and relax until the guests arrive. Set the barbecue table and you'll have nothing to do but entertain the guests, assuming you can persuade the man of the house to take over the outdoor cooking.

4. — Do you give up weekends away from home because "the weeds will take over and the grass will be sky-high" if you don't stick around?

There are usually small boys around eager to do the job for pin money. They can also take care of those other "excuses" that keep you at home—feeding dog and cat and watering the lawn.

5. — Do you stay indoors because you fear the sun and the house is so cool?

There are many advantages to be gained being outdoors, and equipped properly with sun glasses, beach umbrella and straw hat, you can enjoy the outdoors without getting sunburned. Better still, find a shady spot, but get out of the rut of sticking close to home. Home is a wonderful place, but you may not appreciate if, if you never have a change of scenery.

There are more 4-H clubs in Ohio than in any other state, probably due to the fact that the 4-H Club movement started in Springfield, Ohio, more than 50 years ago.

Installation Tips Offered For New Wooden Fence

By The Associated Press

Like houses, wooden fences come in a variety of styles. And like houses, they can be made to fit your pocketbook.

The best way to cut the cost of a good fence is to build it yourself.

Even if you do not have anything except ordinary tools, you should be able to install an attractive wooden fence because of the tendency of many lumber dealers to carry basic fencing styles in packages of pre - cut materials.

The most important factor to consider in choosing your fence design is to determine the degree of privacy and protection you want as well as the appearance that best suits the style of your house and neighborhood.

Wooden fencing styles can range from the open - viewed simplicity of the picket fence to the dramatic, maximum - privacy afforded by the new basketweave design. Before deciding on the size and type of your fence, take a drive around the community. You probably will get many ideas from the ingenuity and planning of others.

Vertical lines can become tiresome if carried on a straight run of more than 100 feet. If you need a long string of fencing, you should plan your design to capture the horizontal line of the "stretcher" fence or the post - and - rail.

In getting the lumber, be sure to find out whether the wood is already preservative - treated or whether the design of your choice is available in one of the naturally decay - resistant woods.

If you have to treat the lumber yourself, it usually is a simple matter of dipping the wood into a preservative at a reasonable cost.

When you have all the needed materials on hand for actual construction, stake out the fence location with mason's twine or fishline about a foot above the ground and then mark the post locations.

When strength is required, postholes should be two feet deep and not more than eight feet apart. One or two shovels of porland cement can then be dry-mixed with the soil and tamped firmly around the post — with water added at intervals until the posthole is filled. If your fence is to serve primarily to confine children and - or pets, rather than for a purely decorative purpose, it should be at least four feet in height.

Here are some other installation hints:

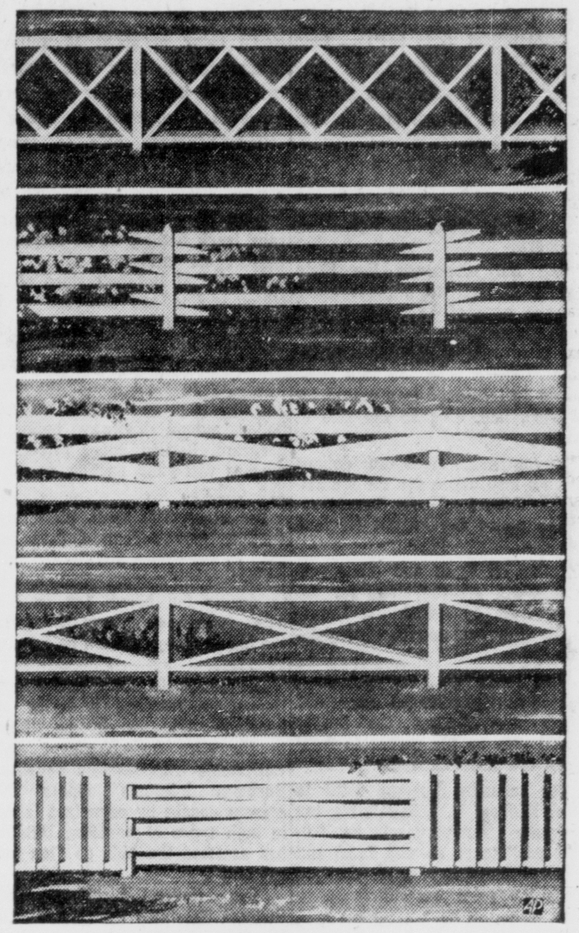
Use an auger for digging postholes in rock - free soil; a clam-shell digger for rocky soil.

Use a carpenter's spirit level to be sure posts are vertical and stringers level.

For drainage, put a 2-inch layer of gravel in the posthole.

Use non - rusting nails to prevent later staining of the finished surface.

Drive nails at least one inch from the end of the board to avoid possible splitting as the lumber weathers with age. Where nails have to be located closer to the ends of fence boards, holes should be drilled for the nails to prevent splitting.



SOMETHING TO PICK FROM. Here are five types of fences. The top four are variations of the "stretcher" style. The one at the bottom is a combination of basketweave and vertical board.

A good rule - of - thumb for fence finishes is to harmonize the color with that of your house. You can paint the fence to match either the trim of your house or the house itself.

Or you can use the color of your fence to contrast pleasingly with the house color, setting it off as a picture frame does the painting.

The trend today is toward the natural look in fences. Natural stain emphasizes the warm, woody look that blends well into the browns and greens of garden and lawns. But whatever the style or finish, a tastefully - planned and sturdily - installed fence increases the value and beauty of your home.

Home Owners Cautioned To Protect Against Rust

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

Seven and one-half billion dollars!

Sounds like something out of the government budget, doesn't it?

Actually, it's the country's annual rust bill. It is estimated authoritatively that industry and trade, home owners, car owners, farmers and non-categorized individuals spend 7½ billion dollars every year to correct conditions caused by rust.

The home owner's share of this expense can be reduced to a minimum by a good defense—which is to prevent rust before it occurs.

All exposed metal, whether inside or outside, should be protected against rain, humidity, wind and sunlight with at least two rust-stopping coats.

Points to check include gutters and down-spouts, fences and railings, pipes and fittings, roof flashing, window sash and frames, outdoor furniture and equipment, toys and the family car.

In recent years, special products developed to prevent rust have become amazingly effective. They can be applied like regular paint and, unlike the materials of years ago, come in a full range of colors.

A tremendous job of scraping and sandpapering once was necessary to tackle metal where rust already had occurred to any appreciable degree.

Today, this tedious process is not required. Only a few easy strokes of a wire brush are needed to remove loose particles. A special primer then is applied directly to the sound, rusted surface. This primer penetrates the rust and bonds to the metal underneath. When the primer is thoroughly dry, a finish coat of the desired color is then put on.

Complete coating is essential, by the way, since even the tiniest skips will give rust a chance to start and then spread under the finish coat.

Credit the tiny sardine with an assist in this new way of halting rust. It is specially-processed sardine oil in the primer which does the penetrating of the rust, driving out air and moisture and forming a protective coating.

You may be interested in the results of a survey made over a series of years in all cities in the United States with a population of 10,000 or more.

The idea was to find the places where rust was most likely to develop. Some of the cities highest on the list were Buffalo, N.Y.; Erie, Pa.; Miami,; Fla.; Mobile. Ala.; and New Orleans.

Some of the cities lowest on the list—where it takes much longer for rust to develop—were Tucson, Ariz.; Columbia, Mo.; Santa Fe, N.M.; Abilene, Tex.; and Cheyenne, Wyo.

Paint Protects Concrete

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

Unprotected cement - containing materials, such as concrete, mortar joints and other similar building products, can spell trouble under certain conditions.

Water working its way through exterior masonry, for instance, can damage the inside of a building, ruin plaster and woodwork and rust structural steel.

In addition, the water can spoil the appearance of protected masonry by leaching out soluble salts and causing unsightly efflorescence, which shows up in the form of a white surface coating. Excessive dampness also can further the growth of mildew.

—:—

THE PAINT industry has developed a number of products which will effectively protect concrete from the assaults of the weather and which will decorate it with any desired color to hide the effects of age and previous damage.

Newest of these are the exterior latex, or water - thinned paints, which are immune to the alkali contained in cement products, including stucco, concrete and cinder block.

In addition to their familiar quick - drying properties, another advantage of these latex paints is that they can be applied over either dry or wet surfaces.

While they prevent water from entering, they permit moisture vapor from within to escape without blistering the paint.

Also relatively new in the field of coatings for concrete are the transparent silicone paints which are used when it is desirable to keep the natural appearance of brick and other masonry unchanged.

They perform their protective function by lining the capillary pores of masonry and completely eliminating the absorption of water. They can be used only over bare surfaces and it is advised that rough cinder blocks receive a coat of cement-based paint before silicones are applied.

PORTLAND cement paints have been used successfully for a number of years to coat masonry surfaces.

These paints come in white and a variety of colors and actually penetrate the masonry, bond with it and become an integral part of the surface. They are mixed with water just before use.

The walls or other surfaces must be thoroughly wet while the cement paint is being applied in one or more heavy coats with a stiff bristle brush.

The finished job should be kept damp for several days so that the cement will have a chance to cure. Portland cement paints can be used only over bare masonry or over previous coats of the same type of paint.

Excellent masonry paints are made from synthetic rubber and chlorinated rubber solutions. They are solvent - thinned, not water-thinned.

They have outstanding resistance to chemical and corrosive fumes as well as to water. Swimming pool paints usually are of this type. There also are oil - based masonry paints that have given good service on aged, thoroughly dry masonry surfaces that are free of alkali.

Surface preparation of concrete usually consists merely in removing dirt and dust by vigorous brushing or scribbing with plain water. Solvent wiping will remove grease.

Brand new concrete should be washed with diluted muriatic acid or a zinc sulphate solution to neutralize any surface alkali. Wear rubber gloves and protective goggles when working with this acid.

Previously - painted surfaces in good condition usually require only the removal of dirt and grease. Loose or peeling paint should be removed, as should chalking.

English Wife Of Indian Prince Now Sells Washing Machines

By RAYMOND E. PALMER

LONDON (AP) — The blonde English wife of an Indian prince got bored with all that palace life. She is selling washing machines in London.

"Just call me an ordinary girl," said the Maharani of Mymensingh, once the mistress of a 20-room mansion, a big staff of servants and five automobiles.

"Forget the title. I'm Janet Hicks again."

The lovely 23-year-old was demonstrating a washing machine in a West End store. She pushed a shirt into the soap suds before a crowd of Cockney housewives.

"My days of luxury may be over, but I've never been happier," said Janet.

Miss Hicks and the maharaja met three years ago in an English hotel. He was a guest, she the receptionist. They were married after a whirlwind courtship. Prince Dulu — as she called him — whisked her off to high life in Calcutta.

"It was just one long round of parties and idleness," said the reformed maharani.

"It got so boring I wanted to take a job. But Dulu wouldn't hear of it.

"Now at least I'm doing something useful and earning my own living."

The beauty who gave up a palace now shares a small apartment with a girl friend.

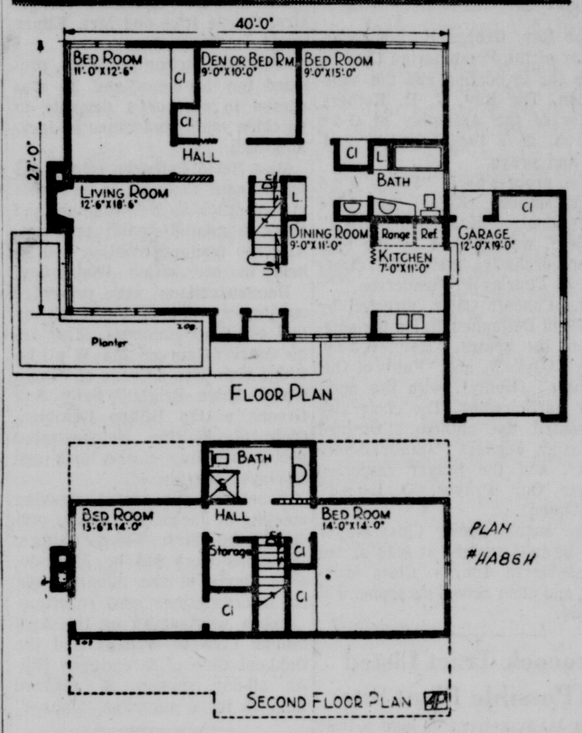
Miss Hicks is separated from the maharaja, but there has been no divorce.

State Will Open Bids Tuesday On County Job

The State Highway Department will open bids Tuesday at Columbus for a number of projects, including the straightening of a mill section of Route 30 near Lisbon.

Eighty projects are up for bid. The greatest number at any of the 3 other openings has been 31. But the total amount involved in Tuesday's contract letting is expected to be $7 million, about $2 million less than in the opening March 31.

The 80 projects are in 52 counties and involve more than 500 miles of road. Ninety-six per cent of the work concerns resurfacing, with construction planned for slightly more than 17 miles.



EXPANSION ATTIC. This small house was designed so that the second floor, containing two bedrooms and a bath, can be finished by the owner after the main structure is completed. There are six rooms and bath on the first floor. The plan is HA86H, by Architect Paul T. Haagen, 360 North Michigan Ave., Chicago. It has 1,130 square feet of space on the first floor.

Ohio ranks second in the nation in production of kitchenware, topped only by Wisconsin.

Cleveland's Hopkins Airport is the largest municipal airport in the world.

Steel Breaks Another Mark

CLEVELAND (AP)—A weekly production record was set by the steel industry last week, "Steel" magazine said today.

Operating at 95½ per cent of capacity, the industry turned out 2,704,000 ingot tons, the magazine stated.

Detroit was the only one of 12 steelmaking districts to show a decline in operations, dropping two points to 98½ per cent of capacity.

If steelworkers strike July 1, "Steel" said, all but 12.2 per cent of the industry's production will be halted. The 52 companies which would continue to operate could produce "under 1½ million tons a month at full capacity."

Some of these companies have contracts with independent unions. Others have United Steelworkers union contracts that do not expire for some months.

Among the companies are Armco Steel Corp. of Middletown, Ohio; Industrial Forge & Steel Inc., Canton, Ohio; H. K. Porter Inc., Huntington, W. Va.; Timken Roller Bearing Co., Canton; Universal-Cyclops Steel Corp., Mansfield Corp., Weirton, W. Va.

Orders already on the books would take up most of the steel produced during a strike, "Steel" said.

Home Owners Cautioned To Protect Against Rust

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

Seven and one-half billion dollars!

Sounds like something out of the government budget, doesn't it?

Actually, it's the country's annual rust bill. It is estimated authoritatively that industry and trade, home owners, car owners, farmers and non-categorized individuals spend 7½ billion dollars every year to correct conditions caused by rust.

The home owner's share of this expense can be reduced to a minimum by a good defense—which is to prevent rust before it occurs.

All exposed metal, whether inside or outside, should be protected against rain, humidity, wind and sunlight with at least two rust-stopping coats.

Points to check include gutters and down-spouts, fences and railings, pipes and fittings, roof flashing, window sash and frames, outdoor furniture and equipment, toys and the family car.

In recent years, special products developed to prevent rust have become amazingly effective. They can be applied like regular paint and, unlike the materials of years ago, come in a full range of colors.

A tremendous job of scraping and sandpapering once was necessary to tackle metal where rust already had occurred to any appreciable degree.

Today, this tedious process is not required. Only a few easy strokes of a wire brush are needed to remove loose particles. A special primer then is applied directly to the sound, rusted surface. This primer penetrates the rust and bonds to the metal underneath. When the primer is thoroughly dry, a finish coat of the desired color is then put on.

Complete coating is essential, by the way, since even the tiniest skips will give rust a chance to start and then spread under the finish coat.

Credit the tiny sardine with an assist in this new way of halting rust. It is specially-processed sardine oil in the primer which does the penetrating of the rust, driving out air and moisture and forming a protective coating.

You may be interested in the results of a survey made over a series of years in all cities in the United States with a population of 10,000 or more.

The idea was to find the places where rust was most likely to develop. Some of the cities highest on the list were Buffalo, N.Y.; Erie, Pa.; Miami,; Fla.; Mobile, Ala.; and New Orleans.

Some of the cities lowest on the list—where it takes much longer for rust to develop—were Tucson, Ariz.; Columbia, Mo.; Santa Fe, N.M.; Abilene, Tex.; and Cheyenne, Wyo.

Paint Protects Concrete

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

Unprotected cement - containing materials, such as concrete, mortar joints and other similar building products, can spell trouble under certain conditions.

Water working its way through exterior masonry, for instance, can damage the inside of a building, ruin plaster and woodwork and rust structural steel.

In addition, the water can spoil the appearance of protected masonry by leaching out soluble salts and causing unsightly efflorescence, which shows up in the form of a white surface coating. Excessive dampness also can further the growth of mildew.

—:—

THE PAINT industry has developed a number of products which will effectively protect concrete from the assaults of the weather and which will decorate it with any desired color to hide the effects of age and previous damage.

Newest of these are the exterior latex, or water - thinned paints, which are immune to the alkali contained in cement products, including stucco, concrete and cinder block.

In addition to their familiar quick - drying properties, another advantage of these latex paints is that they can be applied over either dry or wet surfaces.

While they prevent water from entering, they permit moisture vapor from within to escape without blistering the paint.

Also relatively new in the field of coatings for concrete are the transparent silicone paints which are used when it is desirable to keep the natural appearance of brick and other masonry unchanged.

They perform their protective function by lining the capillary pores of masonry and completely eliminating the absorption of water. They can be used only over bare surfaces and it is advised that rough cinder blocks receive a coat of cement-based paint before silicones are applied.

PORTLAND cement paints have been used successfully for a number of years to coat masonry surfaces.

These paints come in white and a variety of colors and actually penetrate the masonry, bond with it and become an integral part of the surface. They are mixed with water just before use.

The walls or other surfaces must be thoroughly wet while the cement paint is being applied in one or more heavy coats with a stiff bristle brush.

The finished job should be kept damp for several days so that the cement will have a chance to cure. Portland cement paints can be used only over bare masonry or over previous coats of the same type of paint.

Excellent masonry paints are made from synthetic rubber and chlorinated rubber solutions. They are solvent - thinned, not water-thinned.

They have outstanding resistance to chemical and corrosive fumes as well as to water. Swimming pool paints usually are of this type. There also are oil - based masonry paints that have given good service on aged, thoroughly dry masonry surfaces that are free of alkali.

Surface preparation of concrete usually consists merely in removing dirt and dust by vigorous brushing or scribbing with plain water. Solvent wiping will remove grease.

Brand new concrete should be washed with diluted muriatic acid or a zinc sulphate solution to neutralize any surface alkali. Wear rubber gloves and protective goggles when working with this acid.

Previously - painted surfaces in good condition usually require only the removal of dirt and grease. Loose or peeling paint should be removed, as should chalking.

English Wife Of Indian Prince Now Sells Washing Machines

By RAYMOND E. PALMER

LONDON (AP) — The blonde English wife of an Indian prince got bored with all that palace life. She is selling washing machines in London.

"Just call me an ordinary girl," said the Maharani of Mymensingh, once the mistress of a 20-room mansion, a big staff of servants and five automobiles.

"Forget the title. I'm Janet Hicks again."

The lovely 23-year-old was demonstrating a washing machine in a West End store. She pushed a shirt into the soap suds before a crowd of Cockney housewives.

"My days of luxury may be over, but I've never been happier," said Janet.

Miss Hicks and the maharaja met three years ago in an English hotel. He was a guest, she the receptionist. They were married after a whirlwind courtship. Prince Dulu — as she called him — whisked her off to high life in Calcutta.

"It was just one long round of parties and idleness," said the reformed maharani.

"It got so boring I wanted to take a job. But Dulu wouldn't hear of it.

"Now at least I'm doing something useful and earning my own living."

The beauty who gave up a palace now shares a small apartment with a girl friend.

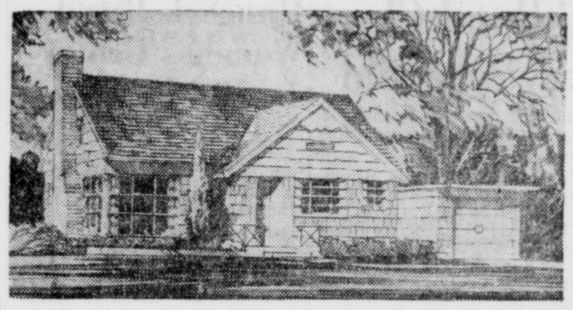
Miss Hicks is separated from the maharaja, but there has been no divorce.

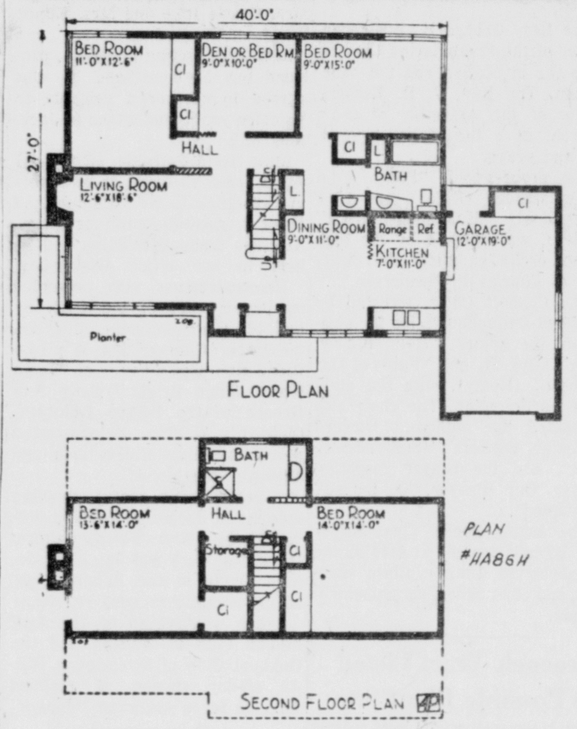
State Will Open Bids Tuesday On County Job

The State Highway Department will open bids Tuesday at Columbus for a number of projects, including the straightening of a mill section of Route 30 near Lisbon.

Eighty projects are up for bid. The greatest number at any of the 3 other openings has been 31. But the total amount involved in Tuesday's contract letting is expected to be $7 million, about $2 million less than in the opening March 31.

The 80 projects are in 52 counties and involve more than 500 miles of road. Ninety-six per cent of the work concerns resurfacing, with construction planned for slightly more than 17 miles.





EXPANSION ATTIC. This small house was designed so that the second floor, containing two bedrooms and a bath, can be finished by the owner after the main structure is completed. There are six rooms and bath on the first floor. The plan is HA86H, by Architect Paul T. Haagen, 360 North Michigan Ave., Chicago. It has 1,130 square feet of space on the first floor.

Ohio ranks second in the nation in production of kitchenware, topped only by Wisconsin.

Cleveland's Hopkins Airport is the largest municipal airport in the world.

Steel Breaks Another Mark

CLEVELAND (AP)—A weekly production record was set by the steel industry last week, "Steel" magazine said today.

Operating at 95½ per cent of capacity, the industry turned out 2,704,000 ingot tons, the magazine stated.

Detroit was the only one of 12 steelmaking districts to show a decline in operations, dropping two points to 98½ per cent of capacity.

If steelworkers strike July 1, "Steel" said, all but 12.2 per cent of the industry's production will be halted. The 52 companies which would continue to operate could produce "under 1½ million tons a month at full capacity."

Some of these companies have contracts with independent unions. Others have United Steelworkers union contracts that do not expire for some months.

Among the companies are Armco Steel Corp. of Middletown, Ohio; Industrial Forge & Steel Inc., Canton, Ohio; H. K. Porter Inc., Huntington, W. Va.; Timken Roller Bearing Co., Canton; Universal-Cyclops Steel Corp., Mans-Corp., Weirton, W. Va.

Orders already on the books would take up most of the steel produced during a strike, "Steel" said.

The magazine's composite price on No. 1 heavy melting grade of steelmaking scrap held unchanged last week at $33.33 a gross ton.

Anyone desiring to do so may present a bid for said bonds based upon their bearing a different rate of interest, but not in excess of 6 per cent, provided that where a fractional interest rate is bid, such fraction shall be one-quarter of one per cent or a multiple thereof.

Said bonds mature as follows: $10,000 on December 1 in the years 1960 to 1981, inclusive.

Said bonds are issued for the purpose of paying a portion of the cost of a project consisting of certain classroom facilities, pursuant to an agreement with the State Board of Education and under authority of Sections 3318.01 to 3318.20, inclusive of the Revised Code of Ohio.

Said bonds are payable at the office of the legal depositary of the Board, presently, The Farmers National Bank of Salem, Lisbon Branch, Lisbon, Ohio, and are supported by unlimited taxes.

Said bonds will be sold to the highest bidder offering the lowest interest rate at not less than par and accrued interest. The lowest interest rate will be determined by calculating the total interest to stated maturity at the rate bid and deducting therefrom the premium bid. If each of two or more bids is the highest bid offering the lowest interest rate, the bonds will be awarded on such one of said highest bids as is chosen by the said Clerk by lot. All bids must be accompanied by a bond or certified check on a solvent bank (other than the bidder) payable to said Board of Education, in the amount of one per cent of the par amount of the bonds bid for, upon condition that if the bid is accepted, the bidder will receive and pay for such bonds within a reasonable time after the award thereof or forfeit the same as liquidated damages in the event said condition is not fulfilled.

Bids shall be sealed and endorsed "Bid for School Bonds."

The proceedings for this issue have been taken under the supervision of Squire, Sanders & Dempsey, Bond Attorneys, Cleveland, Ohio, whose approving opinion may be obtained by the successful bidder at his expense. A complete transcript of proceedings and the printed bonds will be furnished by the Board of Education, together with a certificate showing no litigation pending or threatened at the time of the delivery, to enjoin delivery or to contest the validity of the bonds or the power to issue them or the levy or collection of taxes for their payment.

In the event the interest on said bonds should by act of Congress or otherwise become subject to Federal Income Taxes prior to delivery, the successful bidder may refuse to accept delivery and in such event his bond or certified check shall be returned without interest.

It is contemplated that said Board will meet at 7:30 o'clock p. m. on the 11th day of June, 1959, to consider said bids and make an award.

The right is reserved to reject bids.

Board of Education of the Beaver Local School District

E. L. Review: May 11, 18, 25, 1959.

NOTICE OF SALE OF BONDS

Sealed bids will be received by the undersigned, Clerk of the Board of Education of the Beaver Local School District, Columbiana County, Ohio, at his office in the Beaver Local Public School Building, State Route 7, R. D. No. 3, Lisbon, Ohio, until 12:00 Noon Eastern Daylight Savings Time (11:00 a.m. Eastern Standard Time), on the 11th day of June, 1959, at which time the bids will be publicly opened and read, for the purchase of bonds of said Board of Education in the aggregate amount of $220,000, authorized to be issued by resolution adopted May 11, 1959.

Said bids will be promptly considered by said Board of Education.

Said bonds shall be dated the first day of June, 1959, shall be in the denomination of $1,000 each, shall draw interest payable semi-annually on the first days of June and December of each year, at the rate of four per centum per annum.

Anyone desiring to do so may present a bid for said bonds based upon their bearing a different rate of interest, but not in excess of 6 per cent, provided that where a fractional interest rate is bid, such fraction shall be one-quarter of one per cent or a multiple thereof.

Said bonds mature as follows: $10,000 on December 1 in the years 1960 to 1981, inclusive.

Said bonds are issued for the purpose of paying a portion of the cost of a project consisting of certain classroom facilities, pursuant to an agreement with the State Board of Education and under authority of Sections 3318.01 to 3318.20, inclusive of the Revised Code of Ohio.

Said bonds are payable at the office of the legal depositary of the Board, presently, The Farmers National Bank of Salem, Lisbon Branch, Lisbon, Ohio, and are supported by unlimited taxes.

Said bonds will be sold to the highest bidder offering the lowest interest rate at not less than par and accrued interest. The lowest interest rate will be determined by calculating the total interest to stated maturity at the rate bid and deducting therefrom the premium bid. If each of two or more bids is the highest bid offering the lowest interest rate, the bonds will be awarded on such one of said highest bids as is chosen by the said Clerk by lot. All bids must be accompanied by a bond or certified check on a solvent bank (other than the bidder) payable to said Board of Education, in the amount of one per cent of the par amount of the bonds bid for, upon condition that if the bid is accepted, the bidder will receive and pay for such bonds within a reasonable time after the award thereof or forfeit the same as liquidated damages in the event said condition is not fulfilled.

Bids shall be sealed and endorsed "Bid for School Bonds."

The proceedings for this issue have been taken under the supervision of Squire, Sanders & Dempsey, Bond Attorneys, Cleveland, Ohio, whose approving opinion may be obtained by the successful bidder at his expense. A complete transcript of proceedings and the printed bonds will be furnished by the Board of Education, together with a certificate showing no litigation pending or threatened at the time of the delivery, to enjoin delivery or to contest the validity of the bonds or the power to issue them or the levy or collection of taxes for their payment.

In the event the interest on said bonds should by act of Congress or otherwise become subject to Federal Income Taxes prior to delivery, the successful bidder may refuse to accept delivery and in such event his bond or certified check shall be returned without interest.

It is contemplated that said Board will meet at 7:30 o'clock p. m. on the 11th day of June, 1959, to consider said bids and make an award.

The right is reserved to reject bids.

Board of Education of the Beaver Local School District
By Harry T. Greenwood, Clerk.

New Orleans Holds Thrills For Tourists

Often called "The Crescent City," named for its sweep of river shaped like a wide, warm smile, New Orleans' zest for entertaining its guests and citizens is known as inexhaustible; but New Orleans, one of the greatest of world seaports and a growing leader of the industrial South, goes to work in the morning.

Your visit should include a thoughtful look at the side of this city that has its sleeves rolled up and proud plans in its pocket.

Make it a point to dine in some restaurants, for they are responsible for preserving the city's fame for the most delicious food in America.

Nor should you leave New Orleans until you have visited some of its beautiful parks, particularly City Park, Audubon and West End, its public buildings and its charming residential sections. Inspect its harbor, Moisant International Airport, the Huey P. Long Bridge, and the International Trade Mart.

Within the hundred squares of the Vieux Carre, heart of New Orleans, history has been halted, tenderly preserved.

This city of French and Spanish background, casquette girls and buccaneers, flatboaters and gourmets has become world famous for its Mardi Gras, the French Quarter, jazz, fun, food and frivolity.

New Orleans was already profitably busy in world trade way back when Paul Revere made his famous ride! You can see their city as it was, and find in it peace, strange beauty and more fun than you have ever had.

Nobody needs to be bored in New Orleans.

Miami Beach Popular Spot

Luxury accommodations, bargain prices for both hotel rooms and apartments and a wealth of different things to see and do combine to make Miami Beach a popular summer vacation center.

Rates in this resort city's 380 hotels range from $25 a week to $15 a day, double, with the average being $8 to $10 per day for a couple. Apartment prices are competitive. These low summer tariffs begin May 1 and end Nov. 1.

Nearly all Miami Beach's hotels boast swimming pools for their guests, or are within a block or two of one of the eight oceanfront parks where swimming and beach-combing make for pleasant hours.

New air connections place Miami Beach within a day's flight from even the Pacific Northwest. Airline package vacations assuring accommodations in oceanfront hotels for as little as $19 per person for six nights, have grown rapidly in favor.

Summer temperatures here, cooled by off-ocean breezes, are milder than the extremes experienced in many northern areas. Comfort is further assured by air-conditioning in most hotels, stores and restaurants.

Big-game fishing, golf at two municipal courses, sightseeing, sailing, skin diving, night clubs, and other sport and entertainment, present an always-changing schedule for holiday fun for all the family.

You May Bring Back Some Items Duty Free

The American's greatest ally when bargain-hunting abroad surprisingly enough is Uncle Sam.

Every U.S. resident out of the country for at least 48 hours is entitled to bring back $200 in purchases duty free.

Those who have been abroad 12 days or longer (and this includes practically all U.S. visitors to Europe) may return with $500 of merchandise duty free provided they have not claimed a similar exemption within the prior six months.

FREEDOM TRAIL. Boston's trail of famous historical landmarks leads to nearby Lexington where the Minuteman Monument recalls the events of the American Revolution. Wherever you go in the Greater Boston area (Plymouth, Concord, Lexington, etc.) you'll find reminders of our exciting Puritan and Colonial past.

FOR THOSE UNABLE TO GET FAR FROM HOME, there are many vacation opportunities in the immediate district. A trip to Pittsburgh to see "Big Mama", the towboat Sprague, would make an enjoyable day's outing for the entire family. The 318-foot Sprague, largest towboat ever built for the inland waterways, has been a floating theater and river museum at Vicksburg, Miss., since she was decommissioned in 1946. Now, remodeled and redecorated, she will spend the summer helping Pittsburgh commemorate its bicentennial anniversary. She is shown here at her berth at Pittsburgh's Point.

Bangkok Is One Of Faraway Places

Among all the fabled cities of the Orient, Bangkok is unique—the gleaming, teeming, intriguing, fantastic kind of far - off place children dream about, but few people ever really see.

Even today Bangkok is off the main tourist ocean routes.

But it is now accessible by frequent flights from key cities around the world.

Hundreds of tourists now "discover" Bangkok each year, with excitement and delight — a city of golden temples and multi-colored palaces in a little tropical country of less than 20-million people where wild elephants still roam the jungle.

THE THAI people emigrated from the Yangtze Valley in Southern China centuries ago and about the middle of the 13th century established an independent kingdom.

Though it fought with and sometimes was defeated by Burma, Thailand (formerly Siam) never became a colony of any European nation, as its neighbors did. In 1932, Thailand became a constitutional monarchy with a parliament of which half the members are elected, the other half appointed.

With luxuriant natural wealth and an enervating tropical climate, Thailand developed one of the most elegant and luxurious cultures in the world. The temperament of the people is cheerful, a little languid, confident and content, free of any frantic drives for "security."

But the Thais' fantastic art expresses an ebullience not apparent in their easy - going actions. Their temple architecture is one of the most resplendent and ornate in the world. Their decorative figures are grotesque and magnificent. Their highly stylized dancing reveals a precision and technique almost incredible.

SPECIAL sightseeing for tourists includes visits to the most brilliant and famous temples (which, among other things, are commonly believed the original home of Siamese cats); the Grand Palace, which is not one building but the whole walled capital area which includes the royal residence, the royal temple, and three Halls of Audience for court ceremonies, as well as minor structures; the National Museum; the Thai Parliament's Marble Throne Hall; a snake farm, and the highly animated and colorful early morning "floating market" on canals called klongs.

As in other oriental cities, shopping is a major attraction — and like everything else in Thailand, its products are unique.

Most popular souvenirs are the characteristic niello silver jewelry; handwoven Thai silks; a fascinating type of tableware called "Thai bronze" which has a gleaming gold color and is made with decorated handles of water-buffalo horn, and snakeskin and crocodile leather goods. Many people have found Bangkok also an advantageous and fascinating place to buy jewels, such as pearls and sapphires.

BESIDES sightseeing and shopping, activities attractive to visitors include the exquisite native dancing, and a peculiarly violent kind of boxing in which participants use knees, elbows, feet and heels, as well as fists.

According to local description, "most knock-outs take place with a blow of the ankle or elbow, usually to the temple or back of the neck." Thai boxing is highly ritualistic, with native musical accompaniment, and at the end "the victor kneels before the vanquished and begs his pardon for having hurt him. It is all very charming," says the native narrator.

The boxing regularly takes place on Sundays and Thursdays. Special contests also are staged at other times. Competitive kiteflying is another exciting and colorful native sport well worth viewing.

Japan Has Quiet Summer Resorts

Japan is a land of pleasure resorts and excursioning people who love their countryside and preserve its beauty assiduously.

There are hundreds of places—wooded mountain areas, trout-filled lakes and streams and breeze-freshened seacoast resorts—within a few hours by train or car from Tokyo or Osaka.

But of all the resorts in Japan, Karuizawa is the favorite among Tokyo's international set—diplomats, businessmen and old hands in the Orient. This is where Crown Prince Akihito met Michiko Shoda, the future Empress of Japan.

Karuizawa has excellent and popular hotels, but the thing that distinguishes it is its summer homes—the fact that it is a place where people not only visit, but live, during the summer. The atmosphere is unique—not the carnival atmosphere of a weekend resort, but the leisurely atmosphere of a village where families spend long vacations.

FOR TOURISTS suddenly weary of intensive sight-seeing, Karuizawa offers a delightful interlude for refreshing relaxation and a real rest for a new start.

Karuizawa is in the mountains, 90 miles northeast of Tokyo, at an altitude of more than 3,000 feet, where the weather is exhilarating.

It is surrounded by mountains on three sides and faces the Usui pass on the east, in grassy, open country with fine golf courses and a wonderful terrain for hiking, cycling or horseback-riding.

The landscape is delightful and nearly always visible is towering lava fields of its last great eruption in 1783 are still apparent.

Climbing Mount Asama is a popular pastime, of course, and starting at night is recommended to avoid the sun's glare. The mountain is 8,389 feet high. It has an oval crater a mile-and-a-half around and in its unfathomable depths the glow of eternal fires creates an awesome spectacle, especially at night.

Mount Asama is on the southern edge of the great Joshin-etsu Kogen National Park, an area full of inviting resorts, hot springs, and wonderful scenery, a favorite outing region both because of its attractions and its accessibility within a few hours of Tokyo.

Karuizawa, because of its long history as a missionary center, its comfortable climate and its fine facilities, is a popular place for conferences and conventions.

IT ALSO is a sports center, and has an organized summer sports program of tennis, baseball, track and field events. The fame of its golf courses extends far beyond the national boundaries of Japan.

Among the best-known hotels are the Green, the Mampei and the Park, all of which have modern western accommodations, as well as Japanese-style rooms. Room rates range from $2.75 per day for single with bath to $10 per day for double with bath. Meals are very reasonable and a la carte service is available.

Any tourist who takes time for even a brief sojourn in Karuizawa always will remember its charm.

If You're Flying, You Must Become A Weight Watcher

Going to travel by plane? Then you are no doubt worried about your take - with - you wardrobe.

Remember your free weight allowance is 66 pounds on first-class transatlantic flights; 44 pounds on overseas tourist planes and on most domestic airlines abroad.

First, select the largest, roomiest and lightest weight bag you can personally handle. Add to it a lightweight overnighter and hat box and pack them up wisely. These three bags can carry your wardrobe for either two weeks or twice that.

Travel experts say the watchwords for wardrobe economy are "wash and wear" — "dip and dry"!

From suits to socks, from nylons to nighties, easy care daytime and dress-up fashions are the wisest choice for the air traveler.

New Gadget May Soon Replace Steering Wheel

NEW YORK (AP) — The car steering wheel may soon be replaced by "handle-bar grips" or a half wheel similar to that on aircraft, automotive engineers say.

Bendix Aviation Corp. engineers report a new steering system called "variable ratio" will lead to new wheel designs, and improvement of the driver's view of the road and instruments.

The new steering system would combine power steering with a mechanical device that automatically changes the ratio when the wheels are turned, thus permitting better control of the car.

Won't Gamble, But Gamble With Lives

DENVER (AP) — Colorado Highway Patrol Chief Gilbert Carrel says many persons who wouldn't be caught dead in a gambling casino have been found dead in unsafe automobiles.

"Many of the vehicles involved in fatal accidents last year were in need of mechanical repair," he says. "The people who were killed in these accidents gambled their lives and lost."

FOR THOSE UNABLE TO GET FAR FROM HOME, there are many vacation opportunities in the immediate district. A trip to Pittsburgh to see "Big Mama", the towboat Sprague, would make an enjoyable day's outing for the entire family. The 318-foot Sprague, largest towboat ever built for the inland waterways, has been a floating theater and river museum at Vicksburg, Miss., since she was decommissioned in 1946. Now, remodeled and redecorated, she will spend the summer helping Pittsburgh commemorate its bicentennial anniversary. She is shown here at her berth at Pittsburgh's Point.

Bangkok Is One Of Faraway Places

Among all the fabled cities of the Orient, Bangkok is unique—the gleaming, teeming, intriguing, fantastic kind of far - off place children dream about, but few people ever really see.

Even today Bangkok is off the main tourist ocean routes.

But it is now accessible by frequent flights from key cities around the world.

Hundreds of tourists now "discover" Bangkok each year, with excitement and delight — a city of golden temples and multi-colored palaces in a little tropical country of less than 20-million people where wild elephants still roam the jungle.

THE THAI people emigrated from the Yangtze Valley in Southern China centuries ago and about the middle of the 13th century established an independent kingdom.

Though it fought with and sometimes was defeated by Burma, Thailand (formerly Siam) never became a colony of any European nation, as its neighbors did. In 1932, Thailand became a constitutional monarchy with a parliament of which half the members are elected, the other half appointed.

With luxuriant natural wealth and an enervating tropical climate, Thailand developed one of the most elegant and luxurious cultures in the world. The temperament of the people is cheerful, a little languid, confident and content, free of any frantic drives for "security."

But the Thais' fantastic art expresses an ebullience not apparent in their easy - going actions. Their temple architecture is one of the most resplendent and ornate in the world. Their decorative figures are grotesque and magnificent. Their highly stylized dancing reveals a precision and technique almost incredible.

SPECIAL sightseeing for tourists includes visits to the most brilliant and famous temples (which, among other things, are commonly believed the original home of Siamese cats); the Grand Palace, which is not one building but the whole walled capital area which includes the royal residence, the royal temple, and three Halls of Audience for court ceremonies, as well as minor structures; the National Museum; the Thai Parliament's Marble Throne Hall; a snake farm, and the highly animated and colorful early morning "floating market" on canals called klongs.

As in other oriental cities, shopping is a major attraction — and like everything else in Thailand, its products are unique.

Most popular souvenirs are the characteristic niello silver jewelry; handwoven Thai silks; a fascinating type of tableware called "Thai bronze" which has a gleaming gold color and is made with decorated handles of water-buffalo horn, and snakeskin and crocodile leather goods. Many people have found Bangkok also an advantageous and fascinating place to buy jewels, such as pearls and sapphires.

BESIDES sightseeing and shopping, activities attractive to visitors include the exquisite native dancing, and a peculiarly violent kind of boxing in which participants use knees, elbows, feet and heels, as well as fists.

According to local description, "most knock-outs take place with a blow of the ankle or elbow, usually to the temple or back of the neck." Thai boxing is highly ritualistic, with native musical accompaniment, and at the end "the victor kneels before the vanquished and begs his pardon for having hurt him. It is all very charming," says the native narrator.

The boxing regularly takes place on Sundays and Thursdays. Special contests also are staged at other times. Competitive kiteflying is another exciting and colorful native sport well worth viewing.

Japan Has Quiet Summer Resorts

Japan is a land of pleasure resorts and excursioning people who love their countryside and preserve its beauty assiduously.

There are hundreds of places—wooded mountain areas, trout-filled lakes and streams and breeze-freshened seacoast resorts—within a few hours by train or car from Tokyo or Osaka.

But of all the resorts in Japan, Karuizawa is the favorite among Tokyo's international set—diplomats, businessmen and old hands in the Orient. This is where Crown Prince Akihito met Michiko Shoda, the future Empress of Japan.

Karuizawa has excellent and popular hotels, but the thing that distinguishes it is its summer homes—the fact that it is a place where people not only visit, but live, during the summer. The atmosphere is unique—not the carnival atmosphere of a weekend resort, but the leisurely atmosphere of a village where families spend long vacations.

FOR TOURISTS suddenly weary of intensive sight-seeing, Karuizawa offers a delightful interlude for refreshing relaxation and a real rest for a new start.

Karuizawa is in the mountains, 90 miles northeast of Tokyo, at an altitude of more than 3,000 feet, where the weather is exhilarating.

It is surrounded by mountains on three sides and faces the Usui pass on the east, in grassy, open country with fine golf courses and a wonderful terrain for hiking, cycling or horseback-riding.

The landscape is delightful and nearly always visible is towering lava fields of its last great eruption in 1783 are still apparent.

Climbing Mount Asama is a popular pastime, of course, and starting at night is recommended to avoid the sun's glare. The mountain is 8,389 feet high. It has an oval crater a mile-and-a-half around and in its unfathomable depths the glow of eternal fires creates an awesome spectacle, especially at night.

Mount Asama is on the southern edge of the great Joshin-etsu Kogen National Park, an area full of inviting resorts, hot springs, and wonderful scenery, a favorite outing region both because of its attractions and its accessibility within a few hours of Tokyo.

Karuizawa, because of its long history as a missionary center, its comfortable climate and its fine facilities, is a popular place for conferences and conventions.

IT ALSO is a sports center, and has an organized summer sports program of tennis, baseball, track and field events. The fame of its golf courses extends far beyond the national boundaries of Japan.

Among the best-known hotels are the Green, the Mampei and the Park, all of which have modern western accommodations, as well as Japanese-style rooms. Room rates range from $2.75 per day for single with bath to $10 per day for double with bath. Meals are very reasonable and a la carte service is available.

Any tourist who takes time for even a brief sojourn in Karuizawa always will remember its charm.

If You're Flying, You Must Become A Weight Watcher

Going to travel by plane? Then you are no doubt worried about your take - with - you wardrobe.

Remember your free weight allowance is 66 pounds on first-class transatlantic flights; 44 pounds on overseas tourist planes and on most domestic airlines abroad.

First, select the largest, roomiest and lightest weight bag you can personally handle. Add to it a lightweight overnighter and hat box and pack them up wisely. These three bags can carry your wardrobe for either two weeks or twice that.

Travel experts say the watchwords for wardrobe economy are "wash and wear" — "dip and dry"!

From suits to socks, from nylons to nighties, easy care daytime and dress-up fashions are the wisest choice for the air traveler.

James H. Doolittle was the first airplane pilot to prove the feasibility of instrument flying when he took off and landed entirely on instruments Sept. 24, 1929.

New Gadget May Soon Replace Steering Wheel

NEW YORK (AP) — The car steering wheel may soon be replaced by "handle-bar grips" or a half wheel similar to that on aircraft, automotive engineers say.

Bendix Aviation Corp. engineers report a new steering system called "variable ratio" will lead to new wheel designs, and improvement of the driver's view of the road and instruments.

The new steering system would combine power steering with a mechanical device that automatically changes the ratio when the wheels are turned, thus permitting better control of the car.

Won't Gamble, But Gamble With Lives

DENVER (AP) — Colorado Highway Patrol Chief Gilbert Carrel says many persons who wouldn't be caught dead in a gambling casino have been found dead in unsafe automobiles.

"Many of the vehicles involved in fatal accidents last year were in need of mechanical repair," he says. "The people who were killed in these accidents gambled their lives and lost."

Colorado Fete Will Point Up Its Rich Past

The rugged beauty of the Rockies . the sunny, clearblue skies . the fun to be found in colorful Colorado, have always appealed to the vacationing family

But this year, the bustling activities of the Centennial celebration make this one of the most exciting spots in the nation.

Throughout the state, all sights are set on making the "Rush to the Rockies" observance something never to be forgotten.

Every city—every community--is busy entertaining visitors and residents alike.

It's true in Denver, the booming Capitol and in Pueblo, the steel city. It's true in the glorious mountain towns — some quiet ghosts, remembering the boom of the first Rush to the Rockies—and others, busy, modern communities.

A great many of the thrilling centennial events are being held in Colorado Springs and the Pikes Peak Region.

This summer, many events will honor the Rush to the Rockies. The Pikes Peak Hill Climb and International Sports Car Race will be held July 4 and 5. The Pikes Peak or Bust Rodeo, Aug. 4-8, is famous throughout the world.

One of this year's highlights will be the Colorado Springs Centennial Spectacular, to be held July 4 in Spencer Penrose Stadium.

Pacific Ports Call Tourists

The vast, colorful Pacific area —one of the "last frontiers of tourist travel"—can be enjoyed by voyagers sailing on one of six of the world's biggest, fastest, most modern ships.

Since 1957, The Orient and Pacific Lines with its fleet of 28,000-ton liners has linked the West Coast, the Orient and the Far East.

The Orient & Pacific Lines, a subsidiary of England's historic Peninsular and Oriental Steam Navigation Co. (P & O), joins Vancouver, San Francisco and Los Angeles with Honolulu, ports of Japan, Hong Kong and Manila.

The other links the West Coast with Honolulu, the Fiji Islands and Australia.

The new fleet provides approximately 20,000 additional passenger berths in the Pacific each year and makes 24 voyages annually.

Liners now operating are the Orcades, Orsova, Oronsay, Himalaya, Chusan and Arcadia.

In 1960, two brand-new ships will be added to the service. They are the 40,000-ton Oriana and the 45,000 ton Canberra—the two largest ships to be built in Britain since the "Queen Elizabeth."

Also serving the Pacific area are the American President Lines and the Matson fleet.

TRAVEL EDIT
Extra Care Urged For Night Driving

If you must drive at night, learn from the "pros," who ply cross-country in the world's biggest trucks while most of the nation sleeps:

Keep your eyes moving all the time. The "pros" shift their view across the area just beyond their headlights every two seconds and every five seconds they check the rearview mirror.

This "conscious" activity tends to keep you alert and helps you see the all - important signs placed alongside the road.

Checking the rear-view mirror tells you where the cars behind are at all times—knowledge that may save your life.

Be sure to cut speed at least 10 to 15 miles an hour below daytime levels. Maintain a distance of two-car lengths for each 10 miles per hour unit.

—:—

HAMBURG, the travel gateway to Europe, has fascinating museums, art galleries, and the most modern Opera House in Europe Its hotels are comfortable, with old-world atmosphere, and its renowned restaurants have the finest cuisine.

Berlin is still the heart and soul of the German people. Its smart shops and restaurants, boulevards, night clubs and sophisticated populace give the city an air of one of the great world cities.

Cologne, the ancient Rhine metropolis, is filled with monuments of Roman, medieval and contemporary art. This charming Cathedral City is famed for its Roman churches, the dramatic sweep of bridges spanning the Rhine, and its cheerful people.

Duesseldorf, with its network of modern transportation facilities, is a rewarding, attractive stopover city for all travelers.

Hanover blends a romantic past with a vigorous present. Outstanding is the "Herrenhausen Big Gardens", a 17th-century baroque garden which is illuminated on summer nights.

Frankfort, one of the oldest cities in Germany (the first genuine historical notice of the town occured in 793) is a leading commercial center, and noted for its two great fairs, one in the spring, the other in the fall.

Stuttgart, in Southwestern Germany, is famous for its location amid forests, orchards and vine yards. Also for its up-to-date architecture and export-industries.

Munich means art treasures, galleries, museums, theaters, as well as modern shopping centers. Tourists will be intrigued with the centuries-old charm of this city.

Western Germany, long noted for its "gemutlich" spirit, presents a varied vista of sights for the traveler.

Historical Past Lives On In Today's Busy Boston

"Cradle of Liberty"..."Hub of the Universe"..."Athens of America"....whatever you call her, you'll never forget Boston.

Everywhere you go you will see signs marking the "Freedom Trail," which is your road through Boston to the most interesting sights.

These markers, plus literature which the Chamber of Commerce will be glad to supply, are all you will need to see Boston quickly and easily.

Bus tours are often preferred by visitors to "The Hub" because the "every-which-way" streets make it a bit difficult for strangers to find their way around. To many however, this is a part of the fun and charm of Boston.

Many of the places you see along the way, you will want to return to for further exploration, such as the numerous museums and the market district.

You'll want to shop along Tremont and Washington Sts. near the Commons; along the lovely avenues, Newbury and Boylston in famous Back Bay, located on the opposite side of the Commons and Public Gardens.

Entertainment-wise there are five legitimate theaters that feature "tryouts" for Broadway plays and musicals; the Boston Symphony concerts in fall and winter; the world-renowned "Pop" Concerts in spring, and outdoor Esplanade Concerts along the banks of the Charles River in summer.

Of course, there are also summer stock, movies, ballet, opera, night club entertainment—and plenty of spectator and active sports.

Boston is famous for sea food, but there is also a wealth of wonderful restaurants of every description which you will enjoy.

Besides the famous sights which every travel folder lists as a "must" to see, don't miss the exhibit in the John Hancock building and the view from its tower, the huge revolving globe, and relief map of the U. S.

Odyssey Goes Modern

Since ancient times, the Odyssey has been an epic story of heroic travel experience.

On May 12, the first pages of a new odyssey to antiquity were written, with inauguration by Air France of modern jet travel to Rome, Athens and Constantinople or modern Istanbul via jet "Caravelle."

In 1919, Air France excited the travel world by making the first international flight in airline history.

This is the latest achievement in 40 years of Air France passenger service experience, more years of experience than any other airline.

ANTIQUITY unfolds itself in Rome. Nearby, the ruins of the Appian Way tell of Roman travel in the first centuries after Christ.

Your modern flight opens the triumphal gates of Rome, with a bonus of leisure to "explore the centuries" on the seven hills. The grand Forum whispers the orations of the Caesars, and a twilight glow tints the Colosseum.

Chic cafes on the Via Veneto refresh strollers. Silks, leather goods and inspired fashions tempt the souvenir hunter.

The Pantheon dome is a tribute to ancient Rome engineers; Saint Peter's crowns Christianity with Michelangelo's masterpieces. Catacombs, commemorative columns, churches, palaces — all recall the past for the traveler. There is pleasure for all tastes and interests along the jet skyway, newest road that leads to Rome.

Your jet then whisks you to the Acropolis of Athens, monument to western civilization that rises proud and eternal from its early grandeur centuries past.

THIS IS Attica, heart of Greece, with its Piraeus, bustling port for two millenia and gateway to discovery of ancient world trade. Glyfada beach nearby has every modern facility for sea sport enthusiasts. Kyfissia has charm of elegant spas in flowered gardens.

Conveniently scheduled sea cruises leave weekly for Greek island jewels of the Aegean Sea. Deluxe pullman buses make easily accessible renowned sites such as Delphi of the celebrated Oracle, and Olympia of the traditional pre-Christian games. Warm sunshine crowns all of Greece.

Constantinople: link between West and East, could be your next stop. Numerous churches and mosques contrast other eras . . . walls and fortresses harken back to Romans, crusaders and passing millions.

Grand palaces stand beside modern buildings in tribute to progress from Ataturk forward. Galata groups the shopping center while Pera boasts contemporary residences.

The Golden Horn bids travelers to cruise by the colorful silhouette of Turkey, or revel on its shores at smart restaurants, cabarets, and pleasant beaches.

Truly the Air France jet odyssey brings three great centers of antiquity close together for comparison, contrast and convenient exploration with modern travel adventure.

Travel Through Switzerland Both Scenic And Diversified

Traveling in Switzerland is scenic and diversified.

Among Europe's finest and most modern are the Swiss trains, buses and paddle steamers that put the traveler in intimate contact with the tranquil, colorful beauty of the country-side and its warm, friendly people.

Also, travel in Switzerland is inexpensive. The Swiss offer special combination holiday tickets which reduce tourist fare rates up to 50 per cent and include the privilege of making five side excursions at half fare.

Be sure to check the many special combinations offered at considerable savings and see as much of Switzerland as you can.

A popular combination trip begins at Zurich, includes stops at Chur, St. Moritz, Zermatt, Montreux and Geneva. A first - class ticket covering this journey costs $24.45.

In Zurich, the largest Swiss city, shopping is exciting on the Bahnhofstrasse, its "Fifth Avenue," where most stores will accommodate you by sending sizable purchases directly to your home.

Quality binoculars, embroideries, laces, knits, woolens, cottons, clocks and music box novelties are but a few of the many expertly-crafted Swiss specialties — along with the most - famous Swiss watches.

If you prefer to continue quickly, a bus meets the train and travels on to St. Moritz, the famed playground of Europe.

Although St. Moritz may often swarm with royalty and famous figures from the arts and politics, facilities for the tourist of modest means are ample.

The next part of the trip is a scenic treat. From St. Moritz, the Glacier Express climbs over the "roof of Switzerland." The intimate view of the rugged Rhone Glacier is a rare experience.

Just before Zermatt, the next stop, the train bursts out of a valley, onto flat terrain for the first glimpse of the world-famous Matterhorn.

The trip's climax is the lake steamer cruise to the perfect city for relaxing after a wonderfully-busy tour. . .Geneva.

Here, in peaceful surroundings, you'll enjoy delicious food, unique "dancings" and trips to politically historical sites. Then, from this principal gateway city it's "on to France".

Man All Washed Up On Boating Career

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Carl Milbourn's boating career lasted less than an hour. In fact, he never got his new outboard motor started.

While trying to start it, the boat drifted toward a barge on the St. Louis riverfront. A man on the barge threw him a rope as the boat was swept under the barge. Milbourn, fished out of the water 30 minutes later, said: "I think I've had enough."

The term "horsepower" was coined by the famous pioneer power engineer, James Watt (1736-1819), when he found that a horse could move 33,000 pounds of coal one foot upward in one minute.

Baking Soda Proves Handy

If the family vacation this year takes the form of a motor trip, use the car's glove compartment space for the storage of travel aides.

Items that are handy to have within reach are a flashlight, supply of paper cups, napkins, a small thermos of water, bandaids, aspirin and a box of baking soda.

Soda has many vacation uses. Dry soad mixed in the palm of the hand with a few drops of water from the thermos forms a paste to dab on a bee bite or to smooth on poison ivy, oak or sumac rash. It relivees stinging and itching.

Baking soda can clear the bug-smeared windshield. Apply it dry with a damp sponge. The windshield wipers should be cleaned in the same way from time to time.

Coated with oil kicked up from the highway, the wipers will spread silm over the glass; and if driving on a rainy night, lights from oncoming cars are turned into a dangerous blur.

Spills or grease stains on plastic-type car upholstery can be speedily sponged away with soda.

Stow a box of soda in your suitcase, too, for a bad dose of sunburn.

Soak in a tepid tub of water with a half pound of baking soda added, before bedtime. It will relieve the soreness. Don't scrub tender skin since soda's a mild detergent, dirt will drift away.

House Made Of Plastic Strictly For The Birds

QUICKSAND, Ky. (AP) — A plastic house here is strictly for the birds.

The Robinson Substation built the house for chickens to determine its effect on poultry and egg production.

If the experiment is successful, the economical construction will allow more people to enter the poultry business, the substation reported.

ONE OF THE MAJOR TOURIST ATTRACTIONS in the world is majestic Niagara Falls. Thousands upon thousands have been thrilled by the mighty roar of its waters. The scene above shows the Canadian Horseshoe and American falls from the Canadian side, with Oakes Garden Theater in the foreground.

Historical Past Lives On In Today's Busy Boston

"Cradle of Liberty"..."Hub of the Universe"..."Athens of America"....whatever you call her, you'll never forget Boston.

Everywhere you go you will see signs marking the "Freedom Trail," which is your road through Boston to the most interesting sights.

These markers, plus literature which the Chamber of Commerce will be glad to supply, are all you will need to see Boston quickly and easily.

Bus tours are often preferred by visitors to "The Hub" because the "every-which-way" streets make it a bit difficult for strangers to find their way around. To many however, this is a part of the fun and charm of Boston.

Many of the places you see along the way, you will want to return to for further exploration, such as the numerous museums and the market district.

You'll want to shop along Tremont and Washington Sts. near the Commons; along the lovely avenues, Newbury and Boylston in famous Back Bay, located on the opposite side of the Commons and Public Gardens.

Entertainment-wise there are five legitimate theaters that feature "tryouts" for Broadway plays and musicals; the Boston Symphony concerts in fall and winter; the world-renowned "Pop" Concerts in spring, and outdoor Esplanade Concerts along the banks of the Charles River in summer.

Of course, there are also summer stock, movies, ballet, opera, night club entertainment—and plenty of spectator and active sports.

Boston is famous for sea food, but there is also a wealth of wonderful restaurants of every description which you will enjoy.

Besides the famous sights which every travel folder lists as a "must" to see, don't miss the exhibit in the John Hancock building and the view from its tower, the huge revolving globe, and relief map of the U. S.

Vacation Trip Will Live On With Pictures

It's generally just two weeks with pay, but you can make your vacation trip last the year around by taking your camera with you.

Pictures are much better than notes or your own memory to keep alive the many moments and scenes that make pleasure travel an exciting and meaningful experience.

A little extra care applied to your picture - taking will result in photographs you'll look at again and again and your friends will enjoy.

First: know your camera. If it's a new one, shoot a roll or two of film before leaving, to get the feel of the camera. Study up on the areas to be visited. You'll get better pictures, have more fun because you'll know what to look for.

Always have your camera loaded and ready for action. You never know when the next picture will happen!

Don't include too much of the sky in your pictures unless you're photographing interesting cloud formations.

Distant mountain scenes are best photographed in bright sunlight, with a foreground of branches.

Beach scenes are the most popular of vacation subjects. Keep them simple. Watch out for cluttered backgrounds of beach unbrellas, people and buildings.

When photographing architectural landmarks, from India's Taj Mahal to the Coit Tower overlooking San Francisco Bay, no special problems should arise.

Remember, however, that people almost always enhance a photograph.

Everybody has seen postcard pictures of Notre Dame in Paris, but a shot of a coiffed nun escorting a group of French kids in front of the cathedral will have life and individuality.

Travel Time Cut With Jet Service

With announcement by Pan American World Airways, Inc., of jet service between the United States and South America, travel time to the romantic Latin lands has been reduced by exactly one-half.

Both first-class and tourist service are offered now between New York, Caracas in Venezuela and Asuncion in Paraguay, transfer points to fabulous Rio de Janeiro and Buenos Aires.

Long known as "The Paris of the Western World," Rio de Janeiro offers thrills for all tastes and pocketbooks.

Rio, one of the world's most beautiful cities, also has a wealth of unmatched tourist attractions. Copacabana Beach, Corcovado mountain with its famed statue of Christ, the Botanical Gardens, the race track and market place are but a few.

The gay capital is the logical place to begin.

From the cattle ranches of the Pampas to the snow-covered Andes, from tropical jungles to icebergs and fjords, Argentina includes every attraction from sophisticated Buenos Aires to strangely remote Incan villages.

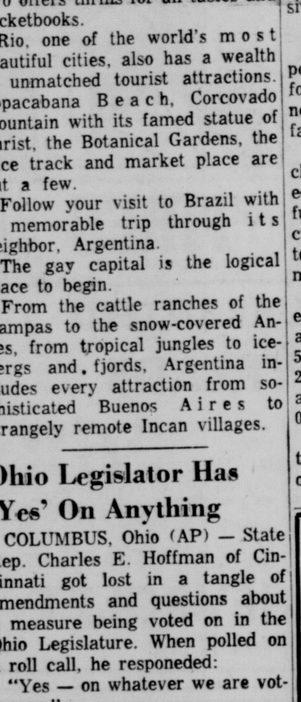
Ohio Legislator Has 'Yes' On Anything

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — State Rep. Charles E. Hoffman of Cincinnati got lost in a tangle of amendments and questions about a measure being voted on in the Ohio Legislature. When polled on a roll call, he responeded:

"Yes — on whatever we are voting on."

Changes Meaning

HENRYETTA, Okla. (AP) — A typographical error caused a newspaper item to read: "McIntosh County singing convention will be hell Saturday night and Sunday afternoon in the Free Will Baptist Church at Checotah."



PARIS LANDMARK. Show a picture of the famed Eiffel Tower to any one anywhere and they say: "Ah, Paris." This thrilling marker is but one of the many hundreds of exciting points of interest in Paris.

Travel Agent Gets Around To Help Set Up Your Trips

Your travel agent knows best. Trust his judgment and you'll have the best vacation ever, either here or abroad at the price you want to pay.

Many tourists are doubtful about consulting a travel agent, feeling he is influenced more by his connections with the travel services he sells than by what his clients really desire. This is a lot of nonsence.

After all, the travel agent wants and needs your interest, not only for the trip you're planning at present, but for other, more extensive tours.

HE'S IN business to please the person with wanderlust, and hopes for a repeat visit from you the next time you feel the urge for far-away places.

The travel agent is not an armchair advisor. He's an experienced traveler. Not only has he carefully studied places and people and customs, but he's actually traveled to most of the places he recommends.

Small wonder he saves travelers money, time, inconvenience and worry. Some agents average 5,000 miles a year, scores travel 25,000 a year, a few dozen 50,000 and a few cover more than 100,000 miles a year.

Their policy is to send their staff traveling too, so that there is someone in the agency with recent knowledge of each major tourist area of the world.

Of course, you can make all the arrangements for your trip yourself.

You can visit steamship and airline offices, correspond with hotels, figure out connections, obtain information on currency exchange, health and customs regulations. Your can do all this the hard way or you can consult your travel agent, and have it done free and easily.

Free for you because your agent earns commissions from the carriers, resorts, hotels and sightseeing companies.

AN EXTRA bonus in seeing a travel agent comes in the form of little "extras" . . . that list of best restaurants to visit, how to find babysitters in Paris and scores of other choice "tidbits."

How to find a good travel agent? The same way you choose a good doctor or an expert repairman! By recommendation or by checking his reputation.

It removes all doubt if he belongs to a trade organization like ASTA (American Society of Travel Agents), with standards which protect the traveler.

NATO (National Association of Travel Organizations) is also reputably known, worldwide.

Riding In Style

ARLINGTON, Va. (AP) — Passengers in the Chantilly Airport for Washington, near here, will be whisked from the terminal to planes in moving "mobile lounges." Walkways no longer will be necessary. The lounges, about 15 by 60 feet, will have a passenger capacity of 80. The passenger misses the fumes and roar of jet planes entering the lounge through a sealed connection with the terminal and leaves it through a pneumatic connection with his plane.

Waiting List Expected For This Book At Jail

ST. LOUIS (AP) — A library of 500 books has been established for inmates of the St. Louis County Jail, and a waiting list is expected to develop for one of the books.

Its title: "Love Can Open Prison Doors."

The U. S. government spends upward of $50 million a year on producing and distributing some 40,000 different books, booklets, pamphlets and reports — all of which makes Uncle Sam far and away the world's biggest publisher.

Boating Trips Gain In Favor

One of the fastest growing and most popular types of vacations this summer is a boating vacation.

According to the DCC Card Club, a national organization that issues credit cards to boating enthusiasts — more than seven million boats all sizes and types will be on the nation's inland and coastal waterways this summer.

For those lucky enough to have larger boats, vacation trips are real fun. Almost everywhere are marinas and other waterfront facilities to make their trip more comfortable.

For the small boat enthusiast confined to local waters, there's fun in packing a family picnic lunch and stopping for the midday meal at a peaceful and secluded spot along the shore.

Or, the family members can take turns water skiing and surf board riding. Fishing can be a family boating affair, too.

A combination car - boat vacation is perfect for persons with smaller boats who also want to tour inland.

With a car and boat trailer arrangement, you can travel to distant points, and have the fun of trying out new bodies of water along the way. At the same time, you'll be able to enjoy all the tourist sights on land.

To make your car - boat trip more convenient, it's possible now to leave cash at home and pay for the vacation with one credit card, good on both land and water.

The DCC credit card system, established last summer to provide credit services to boaters, has been expanded nationwide to inland hotels, motels, restaurants and other facilities.

There are 24 sheets of paper in a quire.

Vacation Trip Will Live On With Pictures

It's generally just two weeks with pay, but you can make your vacation trip last the year around by taking your camera with you.

Pictures are much better than notes or your own memory to keep alive the many moments and scenes that make pleasure travel an exciting and meaningful experience.

A little extra care applied to your picture - taking will result in photographs you'll look at again and again and your friends will enjoy.

First: know your camera. If it's a new one, shoot a roll or two of film before leaving, to get the feel of the camera. Study up on the areas to be visited. You'll get better pictures, have more fun because you'll know what to look for.

Always have your camera loaded and ready for action. You never know when the next picture will happen!

Don't include too much of the sky in your pictures unless you're photographing interesting cloud formations.

Distant mountain scenes are best photographed in bright sunlight, with a foreground of branches.

Beach scenes are the most popular of vacation subjects. Keep them simple. Watch out for cluttered backgrounds of beach unbrellas, people and buildings.

When photographing architectural landmarks, from India's Taj Mahal to the Coit Tower overlooking San Francisco Bay, no special problems should arise.

Remember, however, that people almost always enhance a photograph.

Everybody has seen postcard pictures of Notre Dame in Paris, but a shot of a coiffed nun escorting a group of French kids in front of the cathedral will have life and individuality.

Travel Time Cut With Jet Service

With announcement by Pan American World Airways, Inc., of jet service between the United States and South America, travel time to the romantic Latin lands has been reduced by exactly one-half.

Both first-class and tourist service are offered now between New York, Caracas in Venezuela and Asuncion in Paraguay, transfer points to fabulous Rio de Janeiro and Buenos Aires.

Long known as "The Paris of the Western World," Rio de Janeiro offers thrills for all tastes and pocketbooks.

Rio, one of the world's most beautiful cities, also has a wealth of unmatched tourist attractions. Copacabana Beach, Corcovado mountain with its famed statue of Christ, the Botanical Gardens, the race track and market place are but a few.

Follow your visit to Brazil with a memorable trip through its neighbor, Argentina.

The gay capital is the logical place to begin.

From the cattle ranches of the Pampas to the snow-covered Andes, from tropical jungles to icebergs and fjords, Argentina includes every attraction from sophisticated Buenos Aires to strangely remote Incan villages.

Ohio Legislator Has 'Yes' On Anything

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — State Rep. Charles E. Hoffman of Cincinnati got lost in a tangle of amendments and questions about a measure being voted on in the Ohio Legislature. When polled on a roll call, he responeded:

"Yes — on whatever we are voting on."

Changes Meaning

HENRYETTA, Okla. (AP) — A typographical error caused a newspaper item to read: "McIntosh County singing convention will be hell Saturday night and Sunday afternoon in the Free Will Baptist Church at Checotah."

PARIS LANDMARK. Show a picture of the famed Eiffel Tower to any one anywhere and they say: "Ah, Paris." This thrilling marker is but one of the many hundreds of exciting points of interest in Paris.

Travel Agent Gets Around To Help Set Up Your Trips

Your travel agent knows best. Trust his judgment and you'll have the best vacation ever, either here or abroad at the price you want to pay.

Many tourists are doubtful about consulting a travel agent, feeling he is influenced more by his connections with the travel services he sells than by what his clients really desire. This is a lot of nonsence.

After all, the travel agent wants and needs your interest, not only for the trip you're planning at present, but for other, more extensive tours.

HE'S IN business to please the person with wanderlust, and hopes for a repeat visit from you the next time you feel the urge for far-away places.

The travel agent is not an armchair advisor. He's an experienced traveler. Not only has he carefully studied places and people and customs, but he's actually traveled to most of the places he recommends.

Small wonder he saves travelers money, time, inconvenience and worry. Some agents average 5,000 miles a year, scores travel 25,000 a year, a few dozen 50,000 and a few cover more than 100,000 miles a year.

Their policy is to send their staff traveling too, so that there is someone in the agency with recent knowledge of each major tourist area of the world.

Of course, you can make all the arrangements for your trip yourself.

You can visit steamship and airline offices, correspond with hotels, figure out connections, obtain information on currency exchange, health and customs regulations. Your can do all this the hard way or you can consult your travel agent, and have it done free and easily.

Free for you because your agent earns commissions from the carriers, resorts, hotels and sightseeing companies.

AN EXTRA bonus in seeing a travel agent comes in the form of little "extras" . . . that list of best restaurants to visit, how to find babysitters in Paris and scores of other choice "tidbits."

How to find a good travel agent? The same way you choose a good doctor or an expert repairman! By recommendation or by checking his reputation.

It removes all doubt if he belongs to a trade organization like ASTA (American Society of Travel Agents), with standards which protect the traveler.

NATO (National Association of Travel Organizations) is also reputably known, worldwide.

The AAA (Automobile Association of America) is recognized as an invaluable source of motor information here and abroad with a reputation for reliability.

Riding In Style

ARLINGTON, Va. (AP) — Passengers in the Chantilly Airport for Washington, near here, will be whisked from the terminal to planes in moving "mobile lounges." Walkways no longer will be necessary. The lounges, about 15 by 60 feet, will have a passenger capacity of 80. The passenger misses the fumes and roar of jet planes entering the lounge through a sealed connection with the terminal and leaves it through a pneumatic connection with his plane.

Waiting List Expected For This Book At Jail

ST. LOUIS (AP) — A library of 500 books has been established for inmates of the St. Louis County Jail, and a waiting list is expected to develop for one of the books.

Its title: "Love Can Open Prison Doors."

The U. S. government spends upward of $50 million a year on producing and distributing some 40,000 different books, booklets, pamphlets and reports — all of which makes Uncle Sam far and away the world's biggest publisher.

Boating Trips Gain In Favor

One of the fastest growing and most popular types of vacations this summer is a boating vacation.

According to the DCC Card Club, a national organization that issues credit cards to boating enthusiasts — more than seven million boats all sizes and types will be on the nation's inland and coastal waterways this summer.

For those lucky enough to have larger boats, vacation trips are real fun. Almost everywhere are marinas and other waterfront facilities to make their trip more comfortable.

For the small boat enthusiast confined to local waters, there's fun in packing a family picnic lunch and stopping for the midday meal at a peaceful and secluded spot along the shore.

Or, the family members can take turns water skiing and surf board riding. Fishing can be a family boating affair, too.

A combination car - boat vacation is perfect for persons with smaller boats who also want to tour inland.

With a car and boat trailer arrangement, you can travel to distant points, and have the fun of trying out new bodies of water along the way. At the same time, you'll be able to enjoy all the tourist sights on land.

To make your car - boat trip more convenient, it's possible now to leave cash at home and pay for the vacation with one credit card, good on both land and water.

The DCC credit card system, established last summer to provide credit services to boaters, has been expanded nationwide to inland hotels, motels, restaurants and other facilities.

There are 24 sheets of paper in a quire.

Gloucester Holds Many Attractions

How about a vacation that offers you sport fishing, sailing, exploring a deserted villlage, visiting a castle, shopping for handcrafted pewter or enamels, browsing through antiques, lounging on white beaches, photographing colonial houses and a colorful fishing fleet?

There's a gem of a resort less than an hour north of Boston that offers you all this and much more.

It's an easy afternoon's drive after you leave the New York Thruway at Albany over the new Massachusetts Turnpike, connecting with Route 128 right into Gloucester. If you're coming from New York City, you will travel along the Connecticut Parkways to Route 15, which will bring you to the Massachusetts Turnpike at Sturbridge, or you can continue on Route 15 to Route 20 which connects with Route 128. Affiliated AAA motor clubs will supply routing from any area.

Gloucester, Mass., founded as a fishing port just three years after the Pilgrims landed in Plymouth, is justly famed as an art center and vacationland. Physically, Gloucester shares the island of Cape Ann with the town of Rockport. Three bridges link it with the mainland.

SHORED BY granite outcroppings alternated with long strips of white beaches, Gloucester has quiet coves, a deep and handsome harbor, boulder - strewn woodlands marked by glaciers in ages past.

Visitors comment that "it looks like Norway until you come upon a spot that looks like Vermont." But most of them agree it's different — and "more" than other resorts.

There's so much to do and see, so much that's part of history. Gloucester, as a seaport, has been touched in some way by every war in which this country has been involved. Some of her old buildings are still pock-marked by shells fired by the British.

You can seek out the Reef of Norman's Woe, where the schooner Hesperus was lost, according to Longfellow. You can visit a colonial home, now a Yankee museum, or the Universalist Church, scene of an epic battle for religious freedom. You can walk where Indians once trod, into a village deserted after the War of 1812.

Today's Gloucester offers you tours of fish processing plants, a summer Festival of the Arts, and religious festivals that take you, in spirit, back centuries into old Europe.

BLEND WITH the throng during the Portuguese crowning ceremonies in June, follow the colorful procession through the winding, narrow streets to the harbor, where the ships of the fleet are blessed. Or, later in the month, take part in St. Peter's Fiesta.

In the Fort, a narrow neck of land, there is all the color and glamour and fun of Italy. You can eat spumoni while the Napoli band plays and the crowd mills around the concessions beyong the altar of St. Peter. There's the greasy pole event, dory races, fireworks above the habor — all climaxed by the blessing of the Italian fleet.

For a change of scene, visit an art gallery. Gloucester has many. Or stand beside one of the many artists who work without a trace of self - consciousness along the busy streets or on the wharves.

Go deep sea fishing if you'd like, or cast for stripers from a quiet beach. Try water skiing or have a game of tennis. Ride horseback through pine and birch. Or just lie on the silken sand and soak up sun.

Gloucester was fashioned by nature for everyone with a boat. There are ramps, marinas and two yacht clubs. The harbor and river are host to craft from lengthy cabin cruisers and sailboats to rowboats. And everyone waves to everyone.

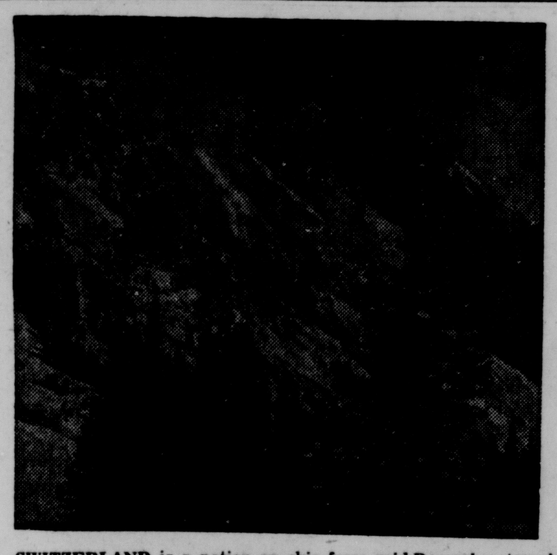
IT IS NO secret, the natives say, that Gloucester has the finest seafoods in the world. After all, it's the home of the men who go down to the sea to get these seafoods.

Happily, the Gloucester area is well supplied with motels, guest homes, hotels and housekeeping cottages. And with so much to do and see and try, it might be well to make it a long reservation.

If you'd like a pictorial map of the Gloucester and Cape Ann area, a listing of accomodation facilities or other information, all you need do is write the Gloucester Chamber of Commerce and this will be sent you promptly.



SWITZERLAND is a nation on skis from mid-December to mid-April as three-fifths of the Swiss area is Alpine. Snow-clad mountain sides, gorges, stretches of greenery, lakes, colorful medieval villages, cosmopolitan cities like Geneva, Zurich, Berne and a wonderfully-friendly people make Switzerland a favorite with Americans abroad.

Paris Offers Everything

To countless Americans the very term "going abroad" is synonymous with going to Paris.

For generations, the unique charm, spirit and excitement of Paris have thrilled writers, artists, musicians and its myriad of visitors.

How can any one person tell another how "to see" Paris? Paris is to each and every one—something else.

—:—

HISTORY, beauty and art are everywhere in Paris — a leisurely stroll down the Champs Elysee will take you from the Arch of Triumph, with its tomb of the Unknown Soldier. . .past glittering shops and showrooms...elegant cafes, restaurants and theaters and you'll see fountains, flower beds and park-like boulevards everywhere.

Near the end of the Champs Elysee, you'll pass the gardens of the Presidential Palace, the American Embassy, and lo—you are in the Place de Concorde—said to be the world's most beautiful square.

You'll want to browse leisurely through the Louvre, home of the famous Mona Lisa, the Winged Victory and the Venus de Milo.

Notre Dame Cathedral, the Tuileries Gardens, the Eiffel Tower, the Luxembourg Gardens, the many monuments and historical buildings await you.

A must for visitors to Paris, is an excursion on the "Bateaux Mouches" — "fly-boats"—trim, double-decker steamers that sail the River Seine offering unusual and exciting views of the city.

These boats offer cultural lectures, music for dancing and dining aboard.

—:—

HIGHLIGHTS for the American tourist include a trip through the "Flea Market"—Paris' marketplace for second-hand merchandise of all kinds, from authentic antiques to whatnots.

Fun, too, is a visit to the food markets, "Les Halles." Great ingenuity and thought go into creating "glamorous" displays of potatoes, onions, turnips, etc.

You can find exactly the food and entertainment you want on any scale you can afford. Tiny, intimate restaurants will delight you with their specialties. The big hotel dining rooms and such famous places as Maxim's, Fouquet's or the Tour d'Argent are both fabulous in their menus and quite expensive.

Night time entertainment is offered in a fantastic variety—extravangazas such as the Folies Bergere or the Lido — music halls, large night clubs, medium sized "cocktail lounges" and intimate little "bistros" offer music, songs and refreshment for every mood and every purse.

MINIATURE MERMAIDS vacationing at the seashore will live in this disarming "farmhand suit with criss - cross stripes and a coverall effect.

Idlewild Field Busy, Exciting

To the air traveler, whether just landing — taking off to an overseas or over—U.S.A. destination, Idlewild Airport, New York's International Airport is one of the most glamorous and exciting places in the world.

A year's traffic adds up to some 149,825 plane arrivals and departures, close to four and a half billion passengers, more than 131 million tons of cargo and 41,211,700 pounds of airmail.

To keep the airport fully functional, more than 15,000 persons are on hand — Americans, Swiss, Italians, English, Germans and many others, contributing to a veritable Tower of Babel.

They work for domestic and foreign flag carriers such as KLM, Iberia, Swissair, TWA and Panam. Among them they can handle as many as 140 aircraft at any given time.

Each airline maintains its own departures building, which in turn forms part of the overall Arrivals Building dominated by the world's highest control tower.

Modernity predominates throughout. Foreign carriers are adept at instituting a national flavor into their surroundings.

For instance, Air France has a strictly Parisian chic about it; BOAC goes in for the regal note and KLM for the legendary Flying Dutchman motif.

The main building has exciting gift shops, in - bond liquor stores, restaurants, lounges, medical facilities and observation decks.

Observation decks help one see distant New York across an area of landscaped gardens and fountains flinging their colored jets to the skies, or across 35,500 feet of immaculately kept runways.

The first Methodist Church in Ohio was organized by Francis McCormick at Milford, Clermont County, in 1797.

Diversity Offered By San Francisco

A "trip" around San Francisco is almost like a trip "around the world".

San Francisco is Hellenic in its azure skies, brisk air and intellectual and cultural climate. It is the most cosmopolitan city in the United States, in love with both Western and Eastern culture.

On the tip of a beautiful peninsula bounded on one side by a magnificent bay, on the other by the world's largest ocean San Francisco seems virtually created to be a city quite apart from any other in the United States.

IN THE HEART of downtown is one of the world's most amazing communities—Chinatown. It is the largest oriental settlement outside of Asia, containing about 30,000 Americans either Chinese-born or of Chinese descent.

Next to Chinatown—where Columbus slants into Grant Ave.—is the Italian section, "Little Italy."

The people "from the toe to the knee of the Italian boot" settled in the North Beach-Telegraph Hill section because it reminded them of their native land.

San Francisco owes its discovery to the early Portuguese, English and Spanish Freebooters; in 1769 Don Gaspar de Portola was the first white man to see the awe-inspiring 450-square mile bay.

The long, curving waterfront of the city, The Embarcadero, reveals a kaleidoscope of ocean liners, ferry - boats, white-sailed yachts, puffing tugs, trim men-o'-war, and an occasional wind-jammer. Here is romance for faraway places.

The old "Barbary Coast" is now a gayway of nightclubs and restaurants, with something of the old time flavor. Many of the old buildings remain, and some have retained the original decor.

—:—

SPEND SOME time on a bit of the Mediterranean, at the fishing fleet's headquarters. Fisherman's Wharf. Seafood repasts are offered at quaint sidewalk grottos and at many fine restaurants!

San Francisco boasts the bridge with the longest single span in the world, the Golden Gate...and the longest bridge in the world (8¼ miles) the San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge.

The things to see and do in San Francisco are practically unlimited. You will be thrilled with the hills that support this exciting city...with the ride on a cable car up Telegraph Hill . . . and no matter what your age, you'll enjoy your visit at Fleishhacker Zoo and Playground.

You will want to drive high up a hill to see Lincoln Park and still up for an unrivaled view of San Francisco in all her beauty.

SEGOVIA, Spain where one of the most beautiful of the country's 1,400 castles, Alcazar, can be visited. It was used by Walt Disney as a model for the castle in "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs."

ON CAPE COD WATERS, there are dozens of sailing regattas each summer. Here is a familiar sight of this area.

Many Attractions Offered In Spain

First-time visitors to Spain are likely to want to "see it all." It's not easy, since Spain is Europe's second largest country.

Spain — with its 3000-year history — is divided into four distinct and distinctive areas. They are: The Castle Country, the Deep South, the Mediterranean and the Atlantis Provinces. If your time in Spain is limited, choose just one area and fully explore it.

The center of Spain's "Castle Country" is Madrid. Here, visitors can make a number of one-day excursions to nearby cities where they can enjoy the cream of Spanish art, architecture and history.

Most popular are the walled city of Avila, neighboring Segovia with its Roman aqueduct and spectacular castle; the royal palaces at La Granja and Aranjuez, and the museum city of Toledo, with its El Greco paintings and giant Gothic cathedral.

ESCORIAL, where Spain's royalty lies buried, and The Valley of the Fallen, a colossal new monument to Spain's Civil War dead are sightseeing musts.

Madrid has its famous Prado Museum; countless fine hotels, restaurants, shops, night clubs, theaters, concerts and sporting events fascinate the tourist.

In the "Deep South" Hollywood's concept of Spain comes true. Here is a sun-drenched land of Moorish palaces, bullfighters and Flamenco dancers.

Its principal cities — Cordoba, Seville, Cadiz, Malaga and Granada — make a "circle" that can be toured in about a week. Malaga, Spain's winter Riviera, boasts 125 miles of sandy beach stretching from the port of Algeciras, across the bay from the Rock of Gibraltar, to Motril, a fishing village south of Granada.

Northward along Spain's Mediterranean coast the visitor encounters the coastal resort areas of "Costa Blanca", between Alicante and Valencia, and the "Costa Brava," north of Barcelona.

Barcelona boasts wild architecture, superb parks and restaurants. In size and in cosmopolitan flavor, it is like Madrid.

An hour's flight to the southeast is the island of Mallorca. Its turquoise waters attract the "skin-diving set." Palma, its capital, is headquarters for the "International set."

—:—

THE ATLANTIC provinces of Spain mix resort life with off-the-beaten-path touring. Its coastline extends from San Sebastian, Spain's official summer capital near the French border, to the remote hills and fjords of Galicia.

Two sightseeing "musts" are the medieval towns of Santiago de Compostela, shrine of St. James the Apostle, and Santillana del Mar, where a 15th-century palace is the hotel.

Tour agencies in Spain are currently expanding their operations. Buses with English-speaking guides leave Madrid almost daily for each part of the country. All-inclusive prices average $19 a day. Private cars are also available for rent.

The Spanish National Tourist Department maintains information offices in New York, Chicago, San Francisco and Dallas and in Canada at Toronto.

First essay written by Harriet Beecher Stowe, author of "Uncle Tom's Cabin," was done when she was a 12-year-old girl in Litchfield, Conn. The title was "Can the Immortality of the Soul be Proved by the Light of Reason?"

Unsolicited Thanks Offered By Cab Driver

DENVER (AP) — Edward Hirschfeld, a director of the Jewish National Home for Asthmatic Children here, caught a taxi during a New York trip. When the cab driver learned he was from Denver, he said 'my kid raves about it. They practically saved his life in Denver."

Then he handed a folder of matches to Hirschfeld. It bore the name of the Jewish National Home.

Guglielmo Marconi, inventor of the wireless, first believed that his invention would work only over water.

Oregon Will Bake Cake -- A Big One

Breath-taking scenery, wooded wilderness, foam-flecked surf and rocky headlands — all this and more will be the backdrop for Oregon's 100th anniversary of statehood.

In a land where trees grow 200 feet tall and snow - capped peaks pierce the clouds, the American Automobile Association reports that Oregon is planning to have a galaxy of biggest items in its 100-year birthday party.

The biggest birthday cake in the world, 50 feet by 10 feet, will serve 50,000 people when the Centennial exposition opens June 10 at Portland.

Pony express riders will carry the mail all over the state throughout the summer — the most extensive horseback mail service for almost a century.

The main exposition building at Portland covers 11 acres and provides the nation's biggest exposition pavilion on a single level!

More than two dozen countries will show their wares at the International Trade Fair to be held the first two weeks of the exposition.

Eighteen of the 65 acres of the exposition are being turned into Adventureland, combining historic displays with glimpses into the future.

The International Garden will provide visitors an area of rest and quiet and will preview newly-developed flowers.

Welcome booths will greet highway visitors to the state; pageants and rodeos will abound and the whole state will be on parade.

Events of interest taking place in Oregon are the contests of "brain and brawn" such as the McKenzie River White Water Parade at Blue River, June 21 . . . the Albany Timber Carnival, July 3 and 4 . . .the Bend Water Pageant, July 3 to 5 . . .The Oregon Fish Festival at Astoria, Aug. 26-31 . . .and the famous Pendleton Round-Up, Sept. 16 to 19.

Excellent highways await the motorist in Oregon. If the visitor does not drive, he can fly in by United, Northwest, Western and West Airlines.

Several railroads operate streamliners into Oregon. These include the Southern Pacific, Great Northern, Northern Pacific and Union Pacific.

Prosecutor Was His Own Judge And Jury

ST. CHARLES, Mo. (AP) — St. Charles County Prosecutor Andrew McCulloch was his own judge and jury recently — and his kitchen was the courtroom.

A business firm asked the prosecutor for permission to sell its fire alarm thermostat in the county. McCullock decided to personally test the device the company said would ring when the temperature reached 160 degrees.

McCulloch put the gadget in his electric stove, set for 160 and waited. No alarm.

While the firm representative squirmed, McCulloch raised the temperature.

Finally, at 220 degrees the alarm went off.

McCulloch ruled the firm couldn't sell the alarms in St. Charles County.

Paintings Given College By One Of Its Trustees

BELOIT, Wis. (AP) — Twenty-six paintings from one of the Midwest's largest private art collections have been presented to Beloit College by Charles H. Morse of Lake Forest, Ill.

Morse, a life trustee of the school, and his wife collected the items over a period of 25 years —much of that time while living in a castle near Munich, Germany.

'Hidden' Road Tolls Can Bite Deeply Into Vacation Budget

Taking the family vacation by auto lets you travel as you wish and is the most economical way.

But unless you're careful, you may be paying a hidden road toll. This unsuspected expense can put a real crimp in your vacation budget.

This extra expense can come from your car's overheated engine.

If you haven't drained off winter's anti-freeze and had your car's cooling system thoroughly flushed—radiator rust and corrosion, plus warm weather and high mileage can cause your motor to run at higher than normal temperatures.

Rust on the water jacket walls of the engine seals heat in the combustion chamber.

If this clogging rust doesn't raise the temperature dangerously, excessive engine heat may be costing you the use of 4 or 5 octane points on every gallon of gas.

The price of these lost octanes, about 4 cents to the gallon, means you pay almost an extra cent for every 3 miles you travel. This "hidden" road toll can run into quite an additional expense.

Worse is the risk you run with your family's safety. High operating temperatures lead to serious engine damage such as valve seizure and burned pistons.

This may stop your car in the path of oncoming traffic, possibly causing a long delay and added expense.

But in less than 1 hour, and at a slight cost, you can insure yourself against this road hazard and expense.

Before you start have a reliable service man drain your anti-freeze, flush your car's cooling system.

Use an additional chemical flush if any signs of rust are present and refill your radiator with fresh water and a can of rust inhibitor. Check all the components, such as water pump, thermostat, hose and fan belt for wear or damage.

This thorough check will cut down the risk of road breakdowns and eliminate free handouts to the hidden toll collectors.

So be sure and put an anti-freeze drain and cooling system flush at the top of your "things to do before starting".

THE PARTHENON atop the Acropolis of Athens, whose beauty has endured through more than two million years, is a proud monument to Western Civilization.

Hawaiian Islands Beckon

A wonderfully warm welcome awaits the visitor to the Hawaiian Islands.

Soft music, handsome hospitable people, fabulous scenic wonders and lush tropical florals — all say, "Aloha".

Visitors to the islands today number in the neighborhood of 200,000 annually, making tourism the fourth largest island industry.

And now as the 50th state — the "Paradise of the Pacific" is expected to welcome even greater numbers of visitors.

—:—

MANY mainlanders once thought of Hawaiian vacations only in terms of Honolulu and Waikiki.

Now, however, half the tourists visit two or more of the outlying islands, according to United Airlines. Most popular are Hawaii, Maui and Kauai.

The "Big Island" of Hawaii, an hour's flight from Honolulu, is known for its twin snow-capped volcanoes of Mauna Loa and Mauna Kea.

The latter rises to 13,784 feet; is the world's highest mountain, since its base on the ocean floor is 18,000 feet below sea level.

Around the island's principal city of Hilo is one of the world's largest commercial growing centers of orchids. Here a lei of 350 orchids sells for a modest $3.00.

Coffee growing, introduced to Hawaii 130 years ago, is a big industry adding to the new state's economy.

—:—

THE NEARBY island of Maui is dominated by a spectacular, but extinct, volcanic crater. Visitors frequently tour the length of the seven-mile crater on horseback to see the lake and its rare plants.

On the southwest coast is the village of Lahaina, once the capital of the Hawaiian Kingdom and later a whaling port. Tourist attractions here include the old prison, a century-old school and a Banyan tree that covers a city block.

A half-hour by air to the north of Honolulu is Kauai, where Waimea Canyon is located. The 10-mile-long "Grand Canyon of the Pacific" is 2,857 feet deep.

The weirdly beautiful fern grotto on the Wailua River is one of the botanical wonders of Kauai giving it the nickname: "Garden Isle." The first Tahitians to come to Hawaii landed in the Wailua River region.

Wave To The Girl Is Strictly Business

DENVER (AP) — If you wave to a girl on the balcony at Denver's Union Station, she may toss you a note. But it's strictly business.

The girl is following a 40-year-old system designed to save a long walk.

Miss Jessie Frank of the Western Union office on the station's main floor explains it: Whenever a secretary in an office on the second or third floor has a telegram to send, she presses a button which buzzes in Miss Frank's office.

Then Miss Frank walks out into the waiting room to catch the folded message. But if she is busy she may say to a customer or a man waiting for his train: "Do you see a girl up on balcony? Please wave to her." He does and the telegram floats down.

Cow Ropes Auto— And That's No Bull

LAUPAHOEHOE, Hawaii (AP) — Now comes the tale of the cow that roped a car.

Clement Malani, 31, was driving along when he came across a cow eating grass at the edge of the highway.

Attached to the cow's neck was a rope which ran across the road. Malani continued driving but as his front wheels passed over the rope, the cow moved. Somehow the car was roped, and the cow slammed against the side of the car. Damage to the car was $100.

The police report did not list any damage to the cow.

On Borromean Islands in Lake Maggiore in North Italy, Napoleon once carved the word "Victory" on a tree. Souvenir hunters have carved away the whole tree.

'Welcome Route' Is Recommended

Vacations that combine the varied attractions of Great Britain and Scandinavia are recommended as ideal for American tourists in a joint promotion launched by the British Travel Association and the Scandinavian Travel Commission.

To summarize the many advantages this travel combination offers, particularly to the tourist making his first trip abroad, Northern Europe has been named the "Welcome Route" because of its renowned hospitality.

THERE IS almost a complete absence of language barriers (English is widely spoken in Scandinavia, too); and cultural ties with America antedate Jamestown and Plymouth Rock going back as far as the Viking Age.

These factors, together with the high standards of living found in Great Britain, Denmark, Finland, Norway and Sweden provide a friendly atmosphere for American tourists and make them feel at home. At the same time, visitors there enjoy the full flavor of foreign travel.

Scandinavia and Britain are just a few hours away from each other by air, or over-night by sea.

Seven flights a day and 20 steamer sailings each week are ready to whisk tourists from London and the Scottish highlands to Norway, Sweden, Finland and Denmark.

"Welcome" mats also await tourists at Northern Europe's 15 gateways, each of them easily reached directly from the U.S. An excellent network of domestic and international communications puts even the Midnight Sun regions of Northern Scandinavia within easy access of the Shakespeare country of Northern Ireland.

—:—

BOTH BRITAIN and Scandinavia are now linked by Polar routes from the West Coast as well as by the traditional sea and air lanes from New York.

A new four - color folder entitled "Great Britain and Scandinavia" and describing the scenic attractions and events along the "Welcome Route" is now available from travel agents. It is the first travel publication issued jointly by Great Britain and the four Scandinavian countries.

It Required Patience And Diligence To Do It

NATIONAL CITY, Calif. (AP) — The story of how C. J. Allen got telephone numbers 2222, 3333 and 4444 for the three phones at his power tools shop exemplifies patience and diligence.

Both Allen and the telephone company agree that he didn't have any inside pull or get special favors.

He merely checked the numbers by calling them over a period of years. As they became unused, he promptly applied—and got them.

Canyon Country Offers Colorama

Enjoy the "biggest color binge" this side of a painter's palette by seeing the "colorama" offered by nature's masterpieces — the Zion, Grand Canyon and Bryce Canyon National Parks.

And, there are more shades, shadows, a wide range of pastel and riotous color to be seen in the Kaibab National Forest, Cedar Breaks National Monument. All are in Utah and Arizona.

The Utah Parks Co.—a subsidiary of the Union Pacific Railroad —operates tours, lodgings, restaurants and assorted entertainment in this magical land of color.

Last season the company and its more than seven hundred employes played host to 108,739 guests.

From Cedar City, Utah—buses purr through tiny Mormon communities along the meandering Virgin River to Zion National Park.

The walls of this canyon are composed of a series of flat-topped mountains—with sides so steep that the sun rarely reaches its depths.

In fact, deep in this canyon there is a spot so shadowed by towering rock that stars are visible in daylight.

At Zion, lodgings, food and a wide variety of activities are offered.

From Zion, buses head toward the north rim of Grand Canyon—winding up the switchbacks of the Mt. Carmel Highway and passing through the mile long tunnel with its six great windows cut at intervals affording the strangest of observation points.

Crossing the barrenly beautiful Prismatic Plains, the buses mount to the Plateau of the verdant Kaibab Forest with its Ponderosa pine and numerous herds of grazing deer.

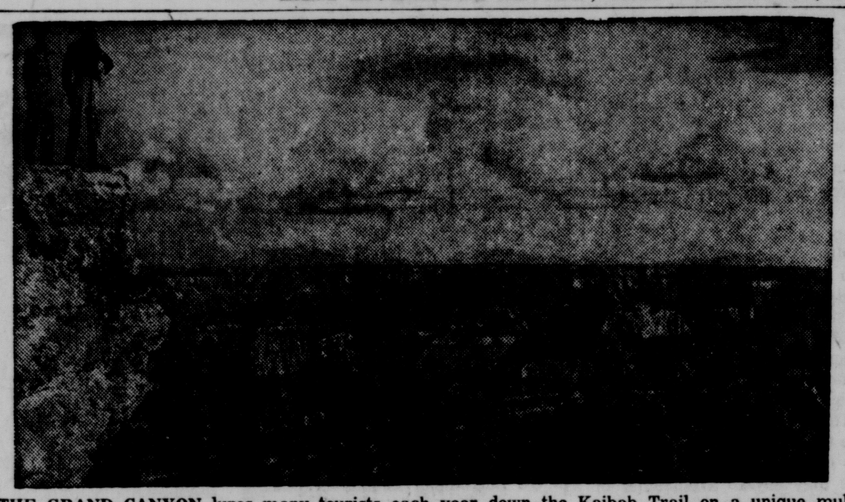
The approach to the north rim of Grand Canyon is breathtaking.

At 8,300 feet elevation the North Rim is bright and cool. The canyon sparkles and shows off its many moods.

A mile deep and 280 miles long, the canyon affords a host of side trips by foot, bus and animal.

One of the thrillers is a descent of the canyon's side astride a mule, an awesome and most unforgetable trip. At night, there is a diversity of entertainment and relaxation for every mood.

From Grand Canyon Lodge the buses run northward to the brilliantly-colored and grotesquely-carved Bryce Canyon. Its soft hues vary constantly.



THE GRAND CANYON lures many tourists each year down the Kaibab Trail on a unique mule trip. Not everyone who visits the North Rim of Grand Canyon National Park makes this trip, but no one misses the numerous view points, including Grand Canyon Lodge itself.

Be Well-Rounded

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — Specialization is fine but don't over do it, is the advice to science and engineering students from Dr. Kirtley F. Mather, emeritus professor of geology at Harvard. He said they should learn broad, basic principles that stand behind scientific matters. He said one of the dangers of present educational practices is a tendency to graduate well-trained technicians who are really illiterate human beings.

You Can Make Packing Easy

Packing's no puzzle, just leave out the wrinkles.

Every crease is a potential wrinkle. So pad each fold with "pleated" tissue paper. It takes up no room and adds no weight. In an emergency, substitute rolled sweater, sox or lingerie for tissue.

Pack heaviest items at the bottom of the case (near hinges) so that there will be no shifting about when the case is carried. Stuff shoes with handkerchiefs, hose, sox, etc. to save space. Cover shoes with mitts or old sox to protect garments.

For the least possible number of folds, work next to the case, fitting each garment to its dimensions.

To pack a wardrobe hanger case, first fill the bottom section with accessories.

Then place dresses and suit coats on hangers or bars; let sleeves hang along side seams, turning in fronts and backs carefully. Pin skirts to hangers or bars, folding sides towards the center.

To fold a jacket for flat packing, hold jacket facing you with a hand inside each shoulder; flip right shoulder over left, turning body of jacket inside out. Smooth sleeves and lapels, and lay jacket flat in the case. If the jacket is too long, fold at the waistline using tissue for padding.

For protection to collars, unfold shirts to full length; refold with the shirtail up over the front, tucked inside of the collar. Pack shirts front to front with collars opposite each other.

Organize for efficiency when you're packing a man's suiter bag. In the accessories section, place shoes at the hinged side, toilet kit and tie case in the center. Next comes shirts, linen, handkerchiefs and accessories.

Gunman's 'Big Haul' Only Bags Of Coupons

GLOBE, Ariz. (AP) — A gunman apparently thought he made quite a haul when he took five bank deposit bags from a store near Globe.

Store owner Jack McGee said the bags were stuffed with worthless redemption coupons.

Motorcoach Tour Of Russia Now Offered Through 3-A's

It is now possible to take a motorcoach tour of Russia, traveling overland along the recently-opened highway route between Helsinki and Moscow, and through White Russia between Moscow and Warsaw.

Such a tour was announced recently by Jerry D. Rayn, director of the International Travel Department of the American Automobile Association. Working in cooperation with the Maupintour organization, which will operate the tours, the AAA is adding conducted tours to Russia to its already extensive European escorted tour program.

"For the first time travelers can explore the towns and villages of this intriguing land on a deluxe motorcoach complete with guide and organized sightseeing," Ryan said.

He stated that first-class accommodations along the way are provided. One tour starts in Helsinki, swings around to Moscow and other Russian cities, and ends in Warsaw. The second follows the same itinerary, but begins in Warsaw and ends in Helsinki. The tourist must sign up for the entire trip. Neither tour is available in part. According to Rayn, this is because Russia is comparatively undeveloped as a tourist country and all details must be arranged well in advance.

Daylight travel only, seeing the country villages and by-ways as well as the major metropolitan centers, comfortable transportation and a comprehensive program of guided sightseeing are the major features of this 18-day itenerary, which offers a choice of 32 different departure dates, June 7 through Sept. 20.

Ryan said that the itinerary includes two days in Helsinki, four days in Leningrad, five days in Moscow, plus a day in Novgorod, Kalinin, Smolensk and Minsk, as well as two days in Warsaw.

The AAA also has announced recently a new car rental service for motoring in Soviet Russia and the following countries en route: Bulgaria, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Poland, Romania and Yugoslavia. Both self-drive and chauffeur-driven cars may be rented in Austria for these motor trips into Russia.

Ship Trip Means 'Extra' Vacation

If time is not the vital factor in your tour abroad, enjoy an "extra" vacation. Go by ship.

Like a "floating" resort, shipboard travel offers sports activities, excellent dining, games, dances, movies and parties. Or you can just relax to your heart's content.

From the most luxurious superliners, such as the British "Queens" or our own "United States," to comfortable, "easy going" freighters carrying up to 12 passengers — you can sail in any style your purse allows.

Many new ships are being added to the water ways to Europe and the Mediterranean. More and more are devoting maximum space for the budget traveler; accommodations are excellent.

Consult your travel agent or preferred steamship line for details.

Canyon Country Offers Colorama

Enjoy the "biggest color binge" this side of a painter's palette by seeing the "colorama" offered by nature's masterpieces — the Zion, Grand Canyon and Bryce Canyon National Parks.

And, there are more shades, shadows, a wide range of pastel and riotous color to be seen in the Kaibab National Forest, Cedar Breaks National Monument. All are in Utah and Arizona.

The Utah Parks Co.—a subsidiary of the Union Pacific Railroad —operates tours, lodgings, restaurants and assorted entertainment in this magical land of color.

Last season the company and its more than seven hundred employes played host to 108,739 guests.

From Cedar City, Utah—buses purr through tiny Mormon communities along the meandering Virgin River to Zion National Park.

The walls of this canyon are composed of a series of flat-topped mountains—with sides so steep that the sun rarely reaches its depths.

In fact, deep in this canyon there is a spot so shadowed by towering rock that stars are visible in daylight.

At Zion, lodgings, food and a wide variety of activities are offered.

From Zion, buses head toward the north rim of Grand Canyon—winding up the switchbacks of the Mt. Carmel Highway and passing through the mile long tunnel with its six great windows cut at intervals affording the strangest of observation points.

Crossing the barrenly beautiful Prismatic Plains, the buses mount to the Plateau of the verdant Kaibab Forest with its Ponderosa pine and numerous herds of grazing deer.

The approach to the north rim of Grand Canyon is breathtaking.

At 8,300 feet elevation the North Rim is bright and cool. The canyon sparkles and shows off its many moods.

A mile deep and 280 miles long, the canyon affords a host of side trips by foot, bus and animal.

One of the thrillers is a descent of the canyon's side astride a mule, an awesome and most unforgetable trip. At night, there is a diversity of entertainment and relaxation for every mood.

From Grand Canyon Lodge the buses run northward to the brilliantly-colored and grotesquely-carved Bryce Canyon. Its soft hues vary constantly.

THE GRAND CANYON lures many tourists each year down the Kaibab Trail on a unique mule trip. Not everyone who visits the North Rim of Grand Canyon National Park makes this trip, but no one misses the numerous view points, including Grand Canyon Lodge itself.

Be Well-Rounded

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — Specialization is fine but don't over do it, is the advice to science and engineering students from Dr. Kirtley F. Mather, emeritus professor of geology at Harvard. He said they should learn broad, basic principles that stand behind scientific matters. He said one of the dangers of present educational practices is a tendency to graduate well-trained technicians who are really illiterate human beings.

You Can Make Packing Easy

Packing's no puzzle, just leave out the wrinkles.

Every crease is a potential wrinkle. So pad each fold with "pleated" tissue paper. It takes up no room and adds no weight. In an emergency, substitute rolled sweater, sox or lingerie for tissue.

Pack heaviest items at the bottom of the case (near hinges) so that there will be no shifting about when the case is carried. Stuff shoes with handkerchiefs, hose, sox, etc. to save space. Cover shoes with mitts or old sox to protect garments.

For the least possible number of folds, work next to the case, fitting each garment to its dimensions.

Fold skirts and dresses near the waistline rather than at the hem. Pack needed items such as sleeping garments and slippers on top.

To pack a wardrobe hanger case, first fill the bottom section with accessories.

Then place dresses and suit coats on hangers or bars; let sleeves hang along side seams, turning in fronts and backs carefully. Pin skirts to hangers or bars, folding sides towards the center.

To fold a jacket for flat packing, hold jacket facing you with a hand inside each shoulder; flip right shoulder over left, turning body of jacket inside out. Smooth sleeves and lapels, and lay jacket flat in the case. If the jacket is too long, fold at the waistline using tissue for padding.

For protection to collars, unfold shirts to full length; refold with the shirtail up over the front, tucked inside of the collar. Pack shirts front to front with collars opposite each other.

Organize for efficiency when you're packing a man's 'suiter bag. In the accessories section, place shoes at the hinged side, toilet kit and tie case in the center. Next comes shirts, linen, handkerchiefs and accessories.

Gunman's 'Big Haul' Only Bags Of Coupons

GLOBE, Ariz. (AP) — A gunman apparently thought he made quite a haul when he took five bank deposit bags from a store near Globe.

Store owner Jack McGee said the bags were stuffed with worthless redemption coupons.

Motorcoach Tour Of Russia Now Offered Through 3-A's

It is now possible to take a motorcoach tour of Russia, traveling overland along the recently-opened highway route between Helsinki and Moscow, and through White Russia between Moscow and Warsaw.

Such a tour was announced recently by Jerry D. Rayn, director of the International Travel Department of the American Automobile Association. Working in cooperation with the Maupintour organization, which will operate the tours, the AAA is adding conducted tours to Russia to its already extensive European escorted tour program.

"For the first time travelers can explore the towns and villages of this intriguing land on a deluxe motorcoach complete with guide and organized sightseeing," Ryan said.

He stated that first-class accommodations along the way are provided. One tour starts in Helsinki, swings around to Moscow and other Russian cities, and ends in Warsaw. The second follows the same itinerary, but begins in Warsaw and ends in Helsinki. The tourist must sign up for the entire trip. Neither tour is available in part. According to Rayn, this is because Russia is comparatively undeveloped as a tourist country and all details must be arranged well in advance.

Daylight travel only, seeing the country villages and by-ways as well as the major metropolitan centers, comfortable transportation and a comprehensive program of guided sightseeing are the major features of this 18-day itenerary, which offers a choice of 32 different departure dates, June 7 through Sept. 20.

Ryan said that the itinerary includes two days in Helsinki, four days in Leningrad, five days in Moscow, plus a day in Novgorod, Kalinin, Smolensk and Minsk, as well as two days in Warsaw.

The AAA also has announced recently a new car rental service for motoring in Soviet Russia and the following countries en route: Bulgaria, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Poland, Romania and Yugoslavia. Both self-drive and chauffeur-driven cars may be rented in Austria for these motor trips into Russia.

Ship Trip Means 'Extra' Vacation

If time is not the vital factor in your tour abroad, enjoy an "extra" vacation. Go by ship.

Like a "floating" resort, shipboard travel offers sports activities, excellent dining, games, dances, movies and parties. Or you can just relax to your heart's content.

From the most luxurious superliners, such as the British "Queens" or our own "United States," to comfortable, "easy going" freighters carrying up to 12 passengers — you can sail in any style your purse allows.

Many new ships are being added to the water ways to Europe and the Mediterranean. More and more are devoting maximum space for the budget traveler; accommodations are excellent.

Consult your travel agent or preferred steamship line for details.
